Postmaster Harding has shown as a sample of the new postal money order that will go into use the first of July. It has a stub similar to that of the postal note, so that in being detached the exact amount in dollars and cents is indicated by printed figures. Hon. E. P. Boise, popular nominee for supreme judge, addressed a rather slim audience at the opera house Tuesday evening. His talk was principally about finances, but did not contain very much populism. The old gentleman is out after office. The republicans kept him in the harness until they thought he ought to be retired to the permanent list, but holding office and drawing the salary had grown to be a ruling passion with the old gentleman.

Burch, one of the democratic nominees for representative, has declined the nomination. What action his party will take in the premises is not announced. No republican will set up the claim that Burch was forced of the ticket to give the place to some other democrat, for there are not many of them wanting legislative nominations at present. It is only a question whether the democratic party has enough self-respect remaining to fill the vacancy, or whether it will fall fainting into the populist arms.

Next Thursday, May 17th, over three hundred ministers and ruling elders of the Cumberland Presbyterian church of the United States will arrive in Eugene. These men come from all parts of the United States as delegates to the general assembly. The assembly will probably be in session over a week. Some of the ministers will remain in the state a short time and assist the churches in local meetings. The church at this place expects to have the help of one or more. Several members of the church here will attend the assembly at Eugene.

A dispatch to the Oregonian saying the prohibitionists of Yamhill had failed to file certificates of nomination within the prescribed limit of time, is erroneous. If any nominations are filed by the prohibitionists it will be as individual electors, and they are given till within fifteen days of election day. The prohibitionists will not cut a great figure in the election this year, as there is a general tendency among them to drift back to former allegiances. As a notable instance in this line it might be mentioned that the prohibitionist candidate for county clerk two years ago was a delegate in the late democratic county convention.

Judge Burnett will hear a habeas corpus case in this city to-day. It is a suit of W. E. Martin to recover the custody of his child. Recently his wife obtained a decree of divorce through the court of Union county, but in suing for divorce no question was raised as to the custody of the minor child and no defense was offered. Subsequently she applied to the same court for a decree granting her custody of the child, which was granted temporarily until meeting of the regular term, conditioned upon the filing of proper bond. The jurisdiction of the court is denied by Martin's attorneys, who will contest it in the habeas corpus proceedings to-day.

There is quite a breeze of local discussion at present over a proposition to organize a home insurance company on the mutual plan. It is estimated that at the most conservative calculation $20,000 a year is paid by the people of this county to outside companies, while not to exceed one-fifth of the amount comes back in the adjustment of losses. It is claimed that by the mutual plan risks can be carried for a fraction of what it now costs the insured and the latter can be just as securely protected as in the old monopoly companies. The plan contemplates the carrying of only small risks, and those of the safest character. The organization of such a company might have a beneficial influence over rates of the insurance trust.

Mrs. Keiser, niece of Wm. Chrisman, who has been ill at the home of the latter for some time past, started with her husband to return to her home at Ventura, Calif., last Monday. A telegram received from Red Bluff, Calif., stated that she was obliged to abandon the trip at that point.

The body of young Armstrong, second engineer of the steamer Flood, who disappeared from the boat while on her trip up four weeks ago, was found at Mission landing in this county on Wednesday. The theory is that he was struck by the wheel while oiling the crankshaft. Coroner Daniels notified the dead man's parents at Oregon City.

It has been proven beyond dispute by best authorities that imperfect spectacles and imperfect lenses are a fruitful cause of many troubles which persons suffer from their eyes. The medical faculty may differ on all other points regarding the human system, but they unite on this one point: That when it becomes necessary to wear spectacles, a competent oculist should be consulted. The eyes should be fitted with a spectacle having a clear, white, perfect lens, with the curve of the lens so ground that the axis is in the center. Dr. Love can fit such lenses to your eyes. Thorough and exhaustive examination free at Dr. Wright's office.

George W. Branson, one of the republican nominees for representative, has withdrawn from the canvass, and a call has been issued to convene the county convention next Monday to nominate a candidate in his stead. Mr. Branson's reasons for withdrawing, while they probably were mistaken, were unquestionably prompted by patriotism of genuine quality. He feared that the reports being industriously circulated by the opposition in regard to his mental condition might injure the ticket and cause his defeat. His action was entirely self-prompted and was taken after consulting party friends in this city and elsewhere, every one of whom counseled him to remain on the ticket.

Reports from the meeting of the Grand Army at Roseburg show that a splendid time was had. Two offices in the Women's Relief Corps fell to McMinnville, viz.: President, Mrs. Nettie Ungerman, and treasurer, Mrs. C. W. Talmage. Officers of the G. A. R. for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Captain Ormsby, department commander; J. G. Good, senior vice-commander; Myers of The Dalles, junior vice-commander; Dr. B. F. Hammel, of Roseburg, medical director; chaplain, G. W. Grannis, of Salem; delegates to the national camp-meeting, J. W. Maxwell, of Tillamook, J. A. Sladen, of Portland, and J. T. Apperson of Oregon City; alternates, J. S. Smith of Astoria, H. B. Johnson, of Lakeview, and E. A. Alley, of Florence, Oregon City was, by a decided vote, chosen as the place for the next annual camp-meeting of the Grand Army.

A TRACT IS STORE.—The many friends of Mrs. Annie Evenden will be gratified to hear of her return to health after a long and serious illness. They will be further gratified to learn that she has been prevailed upon to again appear before the music-loving public in the near future. The date, not yet fully agreed upon, will probably be the 26th inst., and she will be assisted by Prof. Henry Bettman, Prof. Klingman and other Portland musicians.

WE WILL CELEBRATE.—A meeting of the citizens of McMinnville and vicinity is called to assemble in the opera house Saturday evening at eight o'clock, to make arrangements for celebrating Independence day. It has been practically settled by agreement of the various lodges and societies to participate, and the celebration will take place. The cooperation of all the citizens is required to make it such a celebration as McMinnville will be proud of, and to this end everybody is requested and expected to meet at the opera house, willing to take up his share of the burden.

COMPETITIVE DRILL.—The boys' brigade of the Christian church held their competitive drill at the armory Wednesday evening. There was quite a number of spectators present. The brigade has an enrollment of 101 boys, ranging in age from nine or ten to fourteen years. They were divided into four squads, selected as near as might be with reference to size, and officered as follows: 1st squad, Ed Johnson, 2d squad Arthur Harris, 3d squad Will Ungerman, 4th squad T. B. Kay; the officers being members of B company, O. N. G. Each squad was brought up and drilled separately, and it was surprising to note the degree of discipline and strict attention to business manifest among so many boys. Lieut. Fleming in awarding the victory to squad number two, said the work of each had been so well performed that it became a difficult task to decide among them, and complimented the boys very highly by saying that many a militia company much longer in the service might be proud of the efficiency displayed in the brigade. At the end of the drill the boys were marched out to a nice supper which had been prepared for them and the officers by mothers and friends. Not, however, until they had doffed their hats and given three ringing cheers for the ladies who had shown this kindness. Rev. Denton is very proud of the brigade which he finds a valuable adjunct to his work in stimulating juvenile interest in Sunday school work.

All the remedies that have ever come under our notice, claiming to cure headache from whatever cause, we take pleasure in saying that we know of none that in our estimation it is as beneficial for the quick and permanent cure of the above complaint as Krause's Headache Capsules which are manufactured by the well-known family chemist, Norman Lichty, of Des Moines, Iowa. Krause's Headache Capsules are guaranteed to cure headache from whatever cause, and we cheerfully advise those of the retail trade who have never kept the above valuable goods in stock, to order a supply at once from their wholesale druggist, or address the proprietors as above.

A Dairyman's Opinion.

There is nothing I have ever used for neuralgia rheumatism that gives me as much relief as Chamberlain's Pain Balm does. I have been using it for about two years—four bottles in all—as occasion required, and always kept a bottle of it in my home.
