NEAR DEATH'S DOOR

FROM
Inflammation of the Kidneys

Dear Sir: I can scarcely realize I was so near death's door, the result of a bad attack of inflammation of the kidneys. My urine was bloody and terrible pains ran the spine. I tried several remedies, but got no relief. When I was suffering terribly a copy of your Medical Advertiser was received by some one in our household. After reading part of it I sent for a bottle of Dr. Grant's Kidney and Liver Cure, and after five doses I felt relieved. I continued taking until I had taken three bottles, and was completely cured.

Gratefully yours,
J. A. ALEXANDER,

Congo Oil Cures Bruises.

EIGHT YEARS.
Fossil, Oregon, December 4, '93.
O. W. R. Mrs. Co., Portland, Oregon.
Dear Sir: I wish to state to you that I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last eight years. I bought a bottle of Congo Oil from Messrs. Lamb & Putnam, your agents here, and after two applications my rheumatism was knocked out. No other medicine ever gave me relief in such a short time as Congo Oil.
Yours truly,
LYMAN BROWN.

Rheumatism Cured!

Gentlemen: Have been afflicted with severe rheumatic attacks for the past six or seven years. I took one bottle of Dr. Grant's Sarsaparilla and Grape Root and applied Hatter's Congo Oil externally, and the result was wonderful—it worked more like magic than medicine. These two medicines I consider will knock any case of rheumatism.

O. W. R. Mrs. Co., Portland, Oregon.
Dear Sir: Your Congo Oil is the best medicine I was recently kicked by a horse on the leg, and was hobbling around on crutches. I was induced to try a bottle of Congo Oil, and after applying freely for one day I threw away my crutches. I works like lightning.
Yours truly,

Torpid Liver.

Gentlemen: I have been a sufferer from liver troubles for many years, always feeling dull, stupid and heavy. It would take a long letter to tell just how I did feel; but, thanks to Dr. Grant's Sarsaparilla and Grape Root, my troubles are over, as four bottles made me feel as well as ever I was. I have a good appetite, no more bad symptoms and I feel that I owe it all to Dr. Grant's Sarsaparilla.

OREGON NEWS AND NOTES.

The Corvallis jail has a woman inmate, placed there for larceny. Oregon's state fair is to be held September 17th to 22d inclusive.

Probably because she is small Polk county was first to send in her election returns.

Governor Lord received a congratulatory telegram from Gov. McGraw and other officers of that state.

The Lane county bank, which closed during the panic nine months ago, was opened for business last week.

Hon. J. K. Weatherford has been elected treasurer of the state agricultural college. This is better than oblivion.

Tillamook county elected a lady populist, Mrs. May, to the office of school superintendent over T. B. Handley.

Strawberries and republican majorities are vying with each other in size in Oregon this year. Both are whoppers.—Capital Journal.

A cyclone visited Grant county on the 4th. It was the first ever known in the state. Two old people and a little girl were killed.

Dr. N. J. Ozias, corner of Douglas county, has been sent to the insane asylum from the excessive use of cocaine and morphine.

There is a probability mentioned of the removal of the Keeley institute from Forest Grove to Salem, if proper encouragement is given.

Mountain Buck, who was accused of being an accomplice in the murder of Ledrick in Washington county, was discharged for lack of evidence.

Herbert Farrell, an Albany youth, has fallen heir to $90,000 by the death of a relative in England. Being the next male in line he takes the estate as well as title of lord.

Throughout the whole state of Oregon the democrats have elected but one representative. He is a preacher from 'way over in eastern Oregon. This fellow should be made chaplain.

Prof. Parvin of Willamette university is the author of a new and original cantata entitled "The Pioneers." It embodies the story of Oregon's pioneers, and ought to have a great run over the state.

Eight new type setting machines are to begin operation in the Oregon office this week. The machines will throw 23 printers out of employment, and will save the paper $600 per week for composition.

Oregon farmers are banking a good deal on the probable high price for the potato and hay crop next fall, due to the shortened crops in California by droughts and the damage by flood in the Columbia river valley.

The new dictionaries will define populism as a political fact that for a time ran rampant in certain sections of the United States, where it is for a time captured Kansas and Colorado. It met its Waterloo in Oregon on June 4, 1894.—Statesman.

No printing house in Oregon could get out anything good enough for the graduating class at the state university, hence they sent east for an eight-page "souvenir." Yet these same fellows before five years shall have passed, will oggle for free notices in the smallest ready-print sheet that Palmer & Key issue.—Hillsboro Independent.

The pastoral relationship of Rev. S. G. Irvine and the United Presbyterian church at Albany has been formally dissolved, thus closing the longest pastorate on the coast. It began in June, 1857, though he was not ordained until several years afterwards, and was characterized by a harmony and good will unbroken. A ministerial life of great nobility and few parallels is thus ended.

A spiritual medium recently, when in a trance, told Dr. Bobkin, of Portland, where a pirate, who sailed these shores many years ago, had buried a treasure, consisting of $150,000 in money, besides precious stones. The place is on the Carnaghan farm at Clatsop, and in a second trance the exact spot was located. The ground was all dug up but no hidden box found.

At the Albany election ratification a taking feature of the demonstration on the square was a threshing machine run by steam, which was converted into a government printing press and was kept running, turning out populist paper money, pledging the party to pay to the bearer a certain sum of money, which would be legal tender for the payment of all debts, both public and private, and signed, "Silly-vested Pea-nut-oyer." The governor's likeness adorned the ends of the bills.

In the election of 1890 Oregon threw 72,400 votes. The vote of the state this year is about 15,000 more. The proportion of votes to population in 1890 was 1 to 4. On this proportion the population of the state has increased 67,500 in the last four years. But there has been a loss of at least 3000 votes by the floods of this year. The total number of votes therefore should be about 90,000 now, and the popula-

A tramp took an involuntary and novel bath while taking a brakebeam ride from Portland on the Southern Pacific on Wednesday's overload.

When the train struck the flat below town where the water is over the track it rolled up over him in great shape. He thought that the train was off of the track with him pinned down, but his fright at the contact with the water did not prevent him from yelling most lustily for help as soon as the water was cleared.

When the train drew up here he crawled out looking like a drowned rat, more dead than alive.—Oregon City Enterprise.

Teaching on the Frontier.
KASBY, OREGON, June 8th, 1894.

I am neither dead nor in Canada. The above, my present abiding place, is in the southwestern part of Columbia county, and is about midway between the Columbia river and the coast. It is very pleasantly situated on the bank of a beautiful stream called Rock river; said stream being about the size of the Yamhill. A more beautiful place for fishing and boat riding than Rock river, nature has failed to provide. It empties into the Nehalem about five miles below here at a little town called Vernonia, and from this place there is a stage line running direct to Hillsboro. I have quite a flourishing little school and am diligently striving, with a true pedagogic spirit, to instill within the youthful ideal of fundamental and practical knowledge. The country here is all right new and very productive. Last year hay yielded four tons to the acre and potatoes were actually known to grow on top the vines. We have had nothing but thunder, lightning and rain since I came here and we have had some very heavy storms, too, for Oregon. The lightning struck and set fire to quite a number of trees in the neighborhood. Quite a number of the settlers are out prospecting, digging for wealth. The writer has seen some very fine specimens of coal, also some gold found a short distance from here. Upon the whole I think this a very pleasant place to spend a summer.

NETTIE GUILD.

The "Sleeping Sickness of West Africa."
A singular malady prevails in some portions of Africa, known as the sleeping sickness. Dr. C. Forbes, in the May 12th number of the Lancet, explains the nature of it.

The victim of this sickness of West Africa (old or young, for this curious and deadly complaint may make its appearance at any epoch of life, though it is more commonly found between the ages of twelve and twenty years, and is more often seen in men than women) gradually gives way to somnolence, which becomes at last a profound and lethargic sleep, the first noticeable signs of which are a visible and persistent drooping of the eyelids of man, woman, or child in the daytime while at work, enlargement of the glandular connective and other cervical glands at the onset. The general health of the negro at first seems to be fair, though he gradually appears to give way to sleep at unusual hours. This tendency to drowsiness and torpor can be combated to a certain extent at the outset by stimulation and purgation; but the patient thus aroused from this lethargic slumber relapses almost infallibly again and again into this somnolent condition, the periods of sleep increase in number and the intervals between them lessen, their extent proportionally lengthening. This state of things continues while the malady steadily gains ground; soon the negro appears to be always asleep, bearing semblance in his life—I should perhaps say existence—to insensitive and fungus-like development on for a varying period, weeks or months, and he little by little refuses all food, spending all his time in slumber. When increasing atrophy sets in, with emaciation, after a short space death from exhaustion and starvation almost invariably occurs at the end of three, six, or twelve months. Here it may be stated that just when moribund the tendency or disposition to lethargy is sometimes in abeyance, and the mental faculties become clear at last previous to their total extinction. Its endemic area is west and North Yamhill Record.

S. S. Duncan left here on Tuesday to take charge of a new school two miles above Willamina for two months. He was accompanied by his family, and they will reside in a tent during this period. Mr. D. says this is to be their summer outing.

E. Parr, of Virginia, the contractor of the North Yamhill and Tillamook mail route, who has been in our city for the past week, succeeded in closing a sub-contract with P. H. Messner yesterday for carrying the mail over this route for the next four years. Mr. Messner is a thrifty, enterprising and accommodating gentleman, and will no doubt keep the stage service in good condition.

Amity Blade.
T. Goodrich, formerly of McMinnville, has put a stock of bicycles in Amity to rent and to sell.

A child of Frank Zwmalt, of Perrydale, died last Friday. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Crandall, of Amity, on Saturday.

There were four baptized by immersion last Sunday by Rev. Crandall, of the Methodist church. The ceremonies took place at the Garrison ford in the Yamhill, those receiving the ordinance being I. B. Osborne and son, Willie, and Mr. and Mrs. Rees.

J. M. Fink, of the firm of Fink & Wright, harness dealers, of this city, received the sad news Tuesday that his father living in Benton county, had been stricken with paralysis and was in a critical condition. Mr. Fink and wife, who yet reside in McMinnville, left immediately for the bedside of their parent.

Newberg Graphic.
A disgraceful cutting scrape took place at Mitchell's blacksmith shop Wednesday afternoon. Mr. McCulley, who works at the grist mill called at the shop and asked to see Mr. Mitchell on the outside of the shop. They stepped outside and after a few words were passed McCulley struck Mitchell in the shoulder with a dangerous looking knife, inflicting a severe wound nearly two inches in depth. McCulley then left for home on a run where he was found soon after in bed. His leg above the knee was severely cut and those who saw a part of the fracas are of the opinion that he inflicted the wound himself in his excitement, he being under the influence of liquor. Both parties will probably be out in a day or two. No one knows just what the trouble was over, but we understand they had a slight difficulty a day or two before. A warrant is out for McCulley's arrest.

Lafayette Ledger.
With this issue the Ledger will take a rest for about thirty days. The plant has been sold and the rail roads are in such a condition that some time will elapse before we can replace it. We will ask our subscribers to rest easy and we will be on top again before many days.

Ney Unger proceeded to celebrate on his own hook last Saturday by filling himself with forty-four corn juice, got an idea in his head that he was a full church choir and took sole charge of the Presbyterian church. The young ladies not having a great regard for his company, vacated. He was arrested later, after having several bottles broken over his head by our irate druggist.

There are sixteen states in which a medical diploma of itself is no license to practice and in which an extra and independent state examination is demanded before the applicant can be qualified. These states are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Maryland, Minnesota, Mississippi, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington and portions of the Indian territory.

One hundred years ago Benjamin Franklin left a fund of five thousand dollars, which he directed should be put at interest and left to accumulate for a century. When that time had come round, according to the directions of the splendid old philanthropist, half of the money thus accumulated should go to some good public purpose for the benefit of the people of Boston. The other half was to be put aside, as in the first case, for another century, at the end of which time the state and the city should be equal partners in the fund. Now, arising from the five thousand dollars, there is an aggregate of something near seven hundred thousand dollars, half of which the trustees will use to build and equip an industrial training school, one of the best uses to which the money can be put, and one which Franklin would surely approve if he were living now. The board of aldermen and three ministers of the oldest religious societies in Boston are the trustees. They are going to visit Washington to learn as much as they can about the manual school there, and they will visit nearly all the large cities of the United States on the same mission.

Mrs. J. H. HORNSTYDER, 152 Pacific Ave., Santa Cruz, Cal., writes:
"When a girl at school, in Reading, Ohio, I had a severe attack of hair fever. On my recovery, I found myself perfectly bald, and, for a long time, I feared I should be permanently so. Friends urged me to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, on doing so, my hair began to grow, and I now have as fine a head of hair as one could wish for, being changed, however, from blonde to dark brown."
"After a fit of sickness, my hair came out in combfalls. I used two bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor and now my hair is over a yard long and very full and heavy. I have recommended this preparation to others with like good effect."—Mrs. Sidney Carr, 1600 Regent St., Harrisburg, Pa.
"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for several years and always obtained satisfactory results. I know it is the best preparation for the hair that is made."
