for him to hope to reach it, especially as

He had just passed the mouth of a little river when a cance, paddled by an Indian, entered the Amazon. At the bottom of the boat lay an apparently lifeless mass. This was poor Alfonso, who had also thrown himself into the first water he had come to, and who, by providential good fortune, had been saved by an Indian to whom he had formerly rendered some service at Salem. But to return to the half caste. The current took him down, and he let himself swim with it. In the distance he perceived an island. All that he needed was to repose himself and wait for the morrow. Seeing himself saved, or nearly so, he began to turn over in his mind the events of the day, and this inhuman wretch indulged in a bitter sneer when he thought that Alfonso was probably stifled and burned in the forest.
