THE ARMY OF THE LORD.

New Tenting in the City and Holding Meetings Nightly. The Salvation Army, composed of eight hearty soldiers, pitched their tents in this place last Friday. They are under the leadership of Captain Robert Milne, and his aids, Lieut. Flock and Sergeant Wallace. They are a branch of the Northern Pacific Tent Brigade, and this is the third sitting in the state, having previously been in Dayton and Newberg. At the latter place 63 persons confessed forgiveness of their sins, and determined to lead better lives, as a result of their labors. Every man is a musician, and though only eight in number, they make music of which they can be proud. It is written for special use of the army, and always after playing a piece, the words set to the same music are sung. Their tents, camp equipment and two teams of mules cost them $400. These they are paying for as fast as their limited receipts will permit. They can probably live on the smallest allowance, and make a dollar go farther than any other organization in the world. Their weekly expense for living does not exceed an average of four or five dollars.

Capt. Milne is a Scotchman, a carpenter by trade, and plays the tuba in the band. He has a pleasant voice, and a specially earnest manner in addressing the people. They carried camp equipment and two teams of mules cost them $400. These they are paying for as fast as their limited receipts will permit. They can probably live on the smallest allowance, and make a dollar go farther than any other organization in the world. Their weekly expense for living does not exceed an average of four or five dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. Wisdom Millspaugh of St. Johns are visiting their daughter Mrs. Al. Southward of Sheridan, and their son James Millspaugh of Willamette. One of those lawn parties that are always a pleasure and a success was given Friday evening at Mr. Apperson's residence. Jumbo and croquet were the leading games.

Ed. Tyler and family returned Monday from a delightful trip to the California mountains, Hot Springs and other places. They killed a number of deer, his son Willie bringing down one of them. Parties wishing to ship fruit through the County Fruit Union will call on the agent, J. C. Cooper, for statement cards at once, if they have not already received them, as several carloads will be shipped next week.

Bert Millspaugh returned Monday from a two weeks stay at Newport and vicinity. He visited the extensive stone quarries six miles up the river, and reports it a very busy place, new quarries constantly being opened. Foster & Hollister, druggists of Sheridan, made an assignment for the benefit of their creditors on Wednesday. C. C. Linden is assigned. The liabilities are about $1,700, and assets about $1,500. Of the assets about $500 is drug stock, and balance notes and accounts.

They say that from some cause not accounted for near all the grape vines in this section that have heretofore put on a healthy appearance and vigorous growth, are dying—at least, the rich foliage usually worn by them is turning yellow and having a dead appearance.—Dallas Transcript. Mr. Apperson's family, except Beverly and daughter Myrtle, Dr. Goucher and family, Mrs. Fellows, P. J. Sharp and E. D. Baker are in camp this week out on the new Seaview road. Mr. Apperson and Dr. Goucher are stockholders in this road and have from the first taken a lively interest in its construction.

The mothers of the members of the boys' brigade of the Christian church will serve watermelon and cake in E. Wright's vacant store building on Third street next Wednesday evening. Ten cents will be charged for the benefit of the brigade. The mothers are requested to meet at Grissen's book store Saturday at 2 p. m. to complete arrangements.

Miss Nettie Olds, in company with Katie Kehm Smith and her husband, have been holding Secular meetings at Astoria and Gray's River, and are coming to McMinnville after a short campaign in Tillamook and southern Oregon. Their object is to awaken a sentiment in favor of taxing church property and to establish Secular organizations. Nettie is 4th V. P. of the state and superintendent of Portland Secular Sunday school.

B. F. Fuller's cousin, Edson Marshall, who visited here last year and who was an early resident of Yamhill and Washington counties, is likely to make an independent fortune out of his 900-acre ranch in Idaho. He has bonded it for $50,000 to a company of gold prospectors on one year's time. A river runs through the land and a special boat is being constructed to dredge it and work the sand for gold. This is a rare instance of a man striking a fortune by leaving Yamhill county.

BETTER THAN WHEAT.

Repeated experiments have proved that the soil of this section (Western Oregon) is well-adapted for the cultivation of sugar beets, and a recent visit of an expert beet-sugar manufacturer to Yamhill county, leaves it no uncertainty of speculation that in the near future there will be built a beet-sugar factory somewhere in Oregon. This means the investment of over half a million dollars; therefore, the cultivation of the beets in quantity and quality to insure the operation of the plant will first have to be arranged for, before the expenditure of one dollar in any other direction can be thought of.

The capacity of the factory is estimated to be 400 tons of beets daily during a campaign of 120 to 130 days. To insure the delivery of this quantity of beets in a country where the farmers are unacquainted with the advanced methods of cultivating a high-grade sugar-beet, is no small undertaking. Therefore, with a view of ascertaining what the farmers of this county are willing to do, I invite everyone interested in this matter to give it serious consideration in order to be prepared for a definite proposition. Other sections of this, as well as the state of Washington, are also being considered. The farmers here are unacquainted with the advanced methods of cultivating a high-grade sugar-beet, is no small undertaking. Therefore, with a view of ascertaining what the farmers of this county are willing to do, I invite everyone interested in this matter to give it serious consideration in order to be prepared for a definite proposition.

Where the Democrats Came From—Samuel F. Staggs of this city was an elder sister living at Rushville, Mo. She is past ninety years of age, and writes her brother a bit of remarkable family information. She writes: "You wanted to know the number of my posterity. I have a large family for these hard times; to board them one week, at two dollars a week, it would cost three hundred and eighty dollars. I have 100 in family living at present. I have seven children, fifty-one grandchildren, one hundred and twenty-six great grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren. They are all democrats. To include the married relation, I could start up a camp meeting. I am proud of my family. I am their mother and they are good and kind to me, all of them. We had a good wheat crop, wheat is yielding from 20 to 40 bushels per acre and is selling for 40 cents per bushel. We are having a dry summer; the corn crop is badly damaged; in some districts it is burnt up. The drought is in Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Illinois, Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma Territory. Iowa, Kansas and Oklahoma are burnt the worst. To take this county over, it will make a half crop of corn. We have not had a good rain this summer, nothing but light showers. We have a good crop of apples. Times are the hardest I ever saw; money has flown from this country; everything is dull sale that we produce. You can get work stock at almost your own price. The farmers here are having a hard time to make an honest living."

Brace the Nerves. Sedatives and opiates won't do it. These narcotics do not make the nerves strong, and failing to do this fall short of producing the essential of their quietude, vigor and while in extreme cases—and these only—of nervous irritation such drugs may be advisable, their frequent use is highly prejudicial to the delicate organism upon which they act, and in order to renew their quieting effect increased and dangerous doses eventually become necessary. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is an efficient substitute for such pernicious drugs. It quiets the nerves by bracing, toning, strengthening them. The connection between weakness of the nervous system and that of the organs of digestion is a strong and sympathetic link. The Bitters, by imparting healthful impulses to digestive and assimilating functions, promotes throughout the whole system a vigor in which the nerves come in for a large share. Use the Bitters in malaria, constipation bilious and kidney trouble.

EUREKA!

Mr. Thomas Batte, editor of the Graphic, Texarkana, Arkansas, has found what he believes to be the best remedy in existence for the flux. His experience is well worth remembering. He says: "Last summer I had a very severe attack of flux. I tried almost every known remedy, none giving relief. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended to me. I purchased a bottle and received almost immediate relief. I continued to use the medicine and was entirely cured. I take pleasure in recommending this remedy to any person suffering with such a disease, as in my opinion it is the best medicine in existence." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by S. Howorth & Co.

A New Process.

Engineer Carlisle Laughed wishing to try his luck at fishing, and desiring some bait for that purpose, stationed a boy on the cow-catcher of the engine on the way up to the front on the Oregon Pacific with a large gunny sack the mouth of which was distended with a hoop. As the grass hoppers would rise before the engine flying to one side, the boy would hold out his sack and scoop them in, this being able to swoop down upon the unsuspecting hoppers with the power and swiftness of steam, filling his sack with them, gathering in a half bushel or more. With those fat grass hoppers Mr. Laughed succeeded in luring from the placid waters of French creek 302 speckled beauties, to attest to his prowess as a fisherman. We are not informed whether he has applied for a patent on his hopper catcher.—Albany Herald.
