

Yamhill County Reporter.

F. H. BARNHART, Editor & Prop. J. G. ECKMAN, Associate Editor.

Subscription $1.00 Per Year.

ADVERTISING RATES. Reading notices in local columns...

FRIDAY, NOV. 23, 1894.

CARLISLE is now called "secretary of the deficit."

SENATOR HILL has gone south, and refuses to be comforted. It is said he is plotting to make Grover sorry for not writing that letter.

WHEN the democratic party decreed free trade in hides, it little expected that its own hide would so soon be suspended on the back fence.

MANY democrats in St. Louis preferred to stay at home rather than go to the polls, cast a democratic vote and have a guilty conscience.

MORE or less croaking is heard in opposition to Senator Dolph as the legislative session approaches.

Dr. Talmage's resignation as pastor of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, offered some time ago, has just been accepted.

This is not sarcasm. It is straight democratic goods from the Chicago Times. Congressman Wilson may find that defeat at home will open larger opportunities abroad.

No settlement of the Chinese question that stops short of overthrow of the present Tartar dynasty, can be regarded as a triumph of the cause of civilization.

INCOMPETENT leadership is confessedly one of the primary causes of the defeat of the democratic party in the recent election.

The populists in congress have introduced bills for the appropriation of $66,000,000. Can the people be blamed for ridiculing and looking with suspicion upon the ideas of the third part?

Reuben Kolb, the defeated candidate of the populists for governor of Alabama, is out in a manifesto declaring that he will be inaugurated December 1st, and calling upon his friends to assist him.

The Last Sad Rites. 'Twas the close of the night when the sad news came. That democracy was dying.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

The mercury was ten degrees below zero in northern New York and Minnesota on the 19th.

The 36th anniversary of the founding of Denver was commemorated by a banquet on the 17th.

Rubinstein, the celebrated Russian pianist and composer, died of heart disease at St. Petersburg on the 20th.

Robert C. Winthrop, one of Massachusetts' most noted men in politics, law and oratory, died in Boston on the 16th.

The vote on the amendment to the Kansas constitution to adopt woman suffrage was defeated by a total approximating 31,175.

Dr. James H. McCosh, ex-president of Princeton university and a leading educator of the age, died at Princeton, N. J., on the 16th at the age of 83 years.

The Japanese government refuses to accept the offer of this country to mediate to restore peace with China.

Serious floods are troubling London. The Thames is higher than it has been since 1881.

At Syracuse, N. Y., on the 16th, Con Riorden was killed in a sparring match with the pugilist, Fitzsimmons.

Miss Frances Willard was re-elected national president of the W. C. T. U. in the national convention at Cleveland this week.

The Pacific Steam Whaling company of San Francisco has decided to start a whalebone cutting factory in that city, which will be a new industry on this coast.

A 20-mile race between John S. Prince, bicyclist, and two running horses at San Jose on the 17th, resulted in a victory for the horses by 39 seconds.

In the United States district court at Los Angeles Wednesday, the four members of the local American Railway Union board of mediation were found guilty of conspiracy to break the federal laws relative to the moving of United States mails.

A dispatch of the 18th to the London Times from Vienna says that a letter has been received there from Smyrna, which reported that Zeki Pasha, a Turkish marshal, with a detachment of Nisams and a field battery, massacred 2000 Armenians at Sassoun.

A party of curio-hunters from the Field Columbian museum, Chicago, go next week to Yucatan on a voyage of exploration.

Full pardons were granted by Governor Penoyer on Saturday to O. P. Mason and B. P. Watson, former publishers of the Sunday Mercury, who were under sentence of one year in the Multnomah county jail for libel, sentence being passed November 3d, 1893.

Another hold-up is reported from near Hillsboro. A few evenings ago two masked men met some school children going home.

Tom Bynum is building an addition to his boarding house. Col. J. C. Cooper is operating the cannery at Independence.

OREGON NEWS AND NOTES.

Portland merchants claim that trade is greatly improved. Independence holds her city election December 3d.

Articles of incorporation have been filed for the Oregon City and Molalla railway company, the object being to construct a railroad from Oregon City to Willhoit Springs.

The Adventists of Salem have harvested over forty bushels of potatoes and a nice lot of white beans from the garden they planted to supply the wants of the city's poor.

A firm at Forest Grove has a request from Tacoma for 5,000 turkeys. Since the firm cannot fill local orders, it is evident that the supply for this juicy bird is not equal to the demand.

It is now said Oregon prunes are shipped to France, where a Parisian label is attached. Then they are re-shipped to America and can be found to-day selling in Portland as the "Supereur la Petite."

After a long, tedious trial the case of Mrs. Justine Friedlander against Oids & King for damages for injuries sustained by a falling dictionary striking her upon the head, ended by the jury awarding her five cents damages.

The house of Mr. Sanford, a wealthy citizen of Waterloo, was entered by burglars in his absence on the 14th. The wife and babe were chloroformed and $345 stolen.

J. W. Cook, of Woodburn, has a patent clothesline invented by him, which is so constructed that the clothes can be placed on the line in the house, moved into the air and brought back without going out doors.

William Dunbar, of smuggling fame, has left Portland for Japan. Opinion differs as to whether he means to return.

There are two bread sellers at the Cascade Locks who have been engaged in a business battle for several days. One started the war by posting a notice that he would sell 45 loaves of bread for $1.

The Oregon state university at Eugene has created a chair of English literature and has elected Prof. E. B. McElroy to fill the same.

Martin Van Buren never made any religious profession, but was a man of irreproachable morality.

John Tyler was an Episcopalian. James K. Polk made no profession until he was on his deathbed, when a Methodist clergyman sprinkled him.

The Essential Oil Distillery Company of Lebanon has commenced the manufacture of spirits of turpentine. It has been experimenting for three months, and has not yet succeeded in successfully manufacturing a first-class article of turpentine and all sorts of resin and pitch from the sap of Douglas fir, but also make oil of cedar, oil of hemlock, oil of fir and oil of peppermint.

Franklin Pierce was an Episcopalian. James Buchanan was always pious, but didn't join the church until after his retirement from the presidency, when he became a Presbyterian.

Andrew Johnson was not a member of any church, but a tacit believer in Christianity. He was inclined to Methodism.

James a Garfield was a member of the Church of Christ, or Campbellite church, and once tried his hand at preaching.

Benjamin Harrison is a Presbyterian and attends church quite regularly.

Grover Cleveland gets his supply of Christian fortitude from the Calvinistic fount also.

Another hold-up is reported from near Hillsboro. A few evenings ago two masked men met some school children going home.

Ed. Grenfell and A. C. White had a dispute with James Bell on Tuesday over the location of a school house.

Mr. W. M. Terry, who has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for the past twelve years, says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other cough medicine I have ever sold."

OUR CONSENT NOT NECESSARY.

The Pacific Cable May be Laid Without Our Consent for Landing.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, assisted by Mr. Sanford Fleming and Mr. W. H. Mercer, of the colonial office, England, are engaged in opening the proposals for the making, laying and maintenance of the Pacific cable.

The definite proposals are six in number. These are from the chief cable manufacturing and construction companies of the world, and their proposals indicate a thorough examination of the most satisfactory character. They apply to each of the eight routes proposed, and in every case are below the estimates made by Mr. Sanford Fleming and already made public.

As these offers are accompanied by very elaborate details, which will require to be examined carefully, compared and reported on, in order to submit fuller information to the various governments interested, Mr. Bowell did not deem it advisable to publish the figures at present.

It may be said, however, that the proposals are in each case very much more favorable than was anticipated by those who discussed the matter at the recent colonial conference, and as a whole they completely remove every obstacle which has been raised against the feasibility of the Pacific cable. One very noticeable feature of the tenders is this, that none of them make any difference in the routes by way of Necker island as compared with that by way of Fauping island, so that the consent of the Hawaiian and United States governments to the use for landing purposes, if thought advisable, is not of so much importance as at one time it was thought it might be.

PRESIDENTIAL PIETY.

George Washington was a member of the Episcopal church and a great believer in prayer.

John Adams was a Congregationalist and came from a long line of Puritan ancestors, but was very liberal in his views as to religion.

Thomas Jefferson's ideas on religion are difficult to classify. He was an admirer of the great Tom Paine, the agnostic, but believed in a future life.

John Quincy Adams was a Congregationalist like his father, and wrote a hymn.

Madison and Monroe were both Episcopals in good standing.

Andrew Jackson was notoriously irreligious in his early manhood and mature life. After his retirement from the presidency he became converted and joined the Presbyterian church.

William Henry Harrison was an Episcopalian of strong convictions, which prevented him from fighting duels.

John Tyler was an Episcopalian. James K. Polk made no profession until he was on his deathbed, when a Methodist clergyman sprinkled him.

Zachary Taylor didn't give the question any thought, but meekly paid his wife's contributions to the Episcopal church. Taylor knew but little about theology and cared less.

Millard Fillmore was a very quiet but pious man, who affiliated with the Baptists.

Franklin Pierce was an Episcopalian. James Buchanan was always pious, but didn't join the church until after his retirement from the presidency, when he became a Presbyterian.

Abraham Lincoln, according to Colonel Bob Ingersoll, was a disciple of Voltaire, but he expressed Christian convictions and was inclined to spiritualism.

Andrew Johnson was not a member of any church, but a tacit believer in Christianity. He was inclined to Methodism.

Ulysses S. Grant was a Methodist. Rutherford B. Hayes was a Methodist.

James a Garfield was a member of the Church of Christ, or Campbellite church, and once tried his hand at preaching.

Chester A. Arthur was an Episcopalian.

Benjamin Harrison is a Presbyterian and attends church quite regularly.

Grover Cleveland gets his supply of Christian fortitude from the Calvinistic fount also.

Another hold-up is reported from near Hillsboro. A few evenings ago two masked men met some school children going home.

Ed. Grenfell and A. C. White had a dispute with James Bell on Tuesday over the location of a school house.

Mr. W. M. Terry, who has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for the past twelve years, says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other cough medicine I have ever sold."

Heart Palpitation

Indigestion, Impure Blood Cured by Hood's.

Mr. D. W. Bridges

"Dear Sirs:—During the winter and spring I have used a dozen bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla in my family, and I am quite sure we have been greatly benefited by it. For years I have been troubled with indigestion, accompanied by sympathetic heart trouble, and Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me very much good. We have also given it to the children for impure blood and ringworms with very good results."

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla CURES

Hood's Pills cure all Liver Ills, Biliousness, Jaundice, Indigestion, Sick Headache, &c.

The Independent.

A Religious, Literary and Family Newspaper.

Un denominational, unbiased and impartial. A paper for clergymen, scholars, teachers, business men and families. It discusses every topic of the day—religious, theological, political, literary, social, artistic and scientific. Its contributors are by the most eminent writers of the English Language.

It employs specialists and distinguished writers as editors of its Twenty-One Departments, as follows:

- Literature, Science, Music, Fine Arts, Sanitary, Missions, Religious Intelligence, Biblical Research, School and College, Personals, Charities, Editorial, News of the Week, Sunday-School, Ministerial Register, Financial, Insurance, Old and Young, Pebbles, Farm and Garden, Odd Knobs.

A paper particularly fitted for lawyers, doctors, clergymen, those engaged in business, young people of both sexes, men and women who read and think for themselves.

A paper giving valuable information upon Finance, Life Insurance, Commerce.

A paper for the family, old and young. Its yearly subscription is $2.00, or that rate for any part of a year. Clubs of five, $2.00 each. Specimen Copies Free.

McMinnville Produce Market.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Includes Oats, Butter, Eggs, Chickens, Turkeys, Ducks, Potatoes, Dressed Hogs, Veal, Baled hay, Timothy, Wheat, Corn, etc.

RETAIL MARKET.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Includes Baled Straw, Mixed Chop, Wheat Chop, Shorts, Middlings, Bran, L. E. Walker will buy all your produce, paying the highest price in cash.

THE INDEPENDENT.

P. O. Box 2787, 130 Filson Street, New York.

FIFTY-TWO DIVIDENDS.

As a general thing investors are pleased to receive only two dividends a year, and if they are paid with regularity are fully satisfied.

The Independent of New York for forty-six years has held the first position among the great religious literary and family weeklies of the land. It presents features for the coming year far in advance of any heretofore offered.

The subscription price of the Independent is only three dollars a year, or at that rate for any part of a year, and a sample copy will be sent to any person free by addressing the Independent, New York City.

A Favorite in Kentucky.

Mr. W. M. Terry, who has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for the past twelve years, says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other cough medicine I have ever sold."

Advertisement for A. J. A. PERSON. The great political battle has been fought, and MCKINLEY LEADS!! Many are pleased while many are croaking still. SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT! To close out all broken lines of MEN'S, YOUTH'S and BOYS' OVERCOATS, SUITS, and SINGLE PANTS, they have been placed at just ONE-HALF THE FORMER PRICE.

Advertisement for Frank Roeca, TAILOR. Are You Considering The Purchase of a HEATING STOVE? FARM FOR SALE! 320 ACRES AT $20 PER ACRE. HODSON'S. 1894 PRICES. CALL EARLY AND MAKE SELECTION.