A felt want is that gnawing at the stomach after you have eaten a full meal, and can't eat any more, and yet there is that feeling as though you had eaten nothing.
What is wanted then is a dose of Simmons Liver Regulator, the best dyspepsia cure, for that is what that gnawing means. "Simmons Liver Regulator is all that is recommended for indigestion."

Newberg is at last making a decided move for a city water supply. At a recent meeting of the city council it was ordered that the David spring be bought and bonds floated for the purchase of a gravity system. The price paid for the spring was $2,100. We congratulate our neighbor on the good judgment displayed and the fact that she has grown large enough for the undertaking.
S. T. Stockton and family, ten in number, arrived last week from the Indian territory. Mr. Stockton lost his crop in that country by the excessive rains. Before starting to Oregon he had been reading some of W. L. Warren's descriptive matter concerning Yamhill county.
Mr. Warren has sent a large amount of advertising matter throughout the east, and he is now getting returns in a great many inquiries, which he is kept busy answering.
A new bi-monthly magazine to be called The College Review, with President Brownson at the helm as able editor, is in course of issue from this office, and will appear soon. It will be an exponent of the advantages of securing a college education, and the superior advantages of getting it at McMinnville.
It will be a credit to the institution editorially and typographically, and will doubtless fill a useful mission.
Peter Lafferty, the Indian charged with murder, will languish in jail until the spring term of court. Three Indian witnesses testified at his trial on Monday before Justice Rhodes that they saw him strike John Short over the head with a club, and the other witnesses testified that he saw the Indian fall and saw Lafferty run away. A large number of Indians attended the trial, and a good many of them seemed to be filled with bad blood toward each other.
First blood for Irvine. At the caucus held in the First ward Wednesday evening J. P. Irvine received the nomination for councilman. There were four or five ballots. Other names before the caucus were E. C. Apperson; E. Wright, E. F.
Sutherland and S. A. Manning. Mr.
Apperson appeared on the scene after the first ballot and declined the honor, otherwise his nomination seemed reasonably certain. There was a total vote of 36, Mr. Irvine receiving 23 and Mr.
Sutherland 13 on the last ballot.
Arthur Pope of Sheridan has been experimenting with Oregon soil and climate as a tobacco producer. Arthur makes an unusual use of the weed, however. He makes hens' nests of it, to drive away lice. A few hills planted along in May have made a wonderful growth, the largest stalk standing five feet three inches. Here is another industry that Oregon may develop in the near future. Mr. Pope is also compiling a list of the native birds of Oregon, and gives as his opinion that there are about three hundred different species in the state.

Distinguished Visitors.
Senators Mitchell and McBride and Judge Denny were visitors to this city on Tuesday. Our good friend Arthur, who has the call on the entertaining of distinguished guests, and who can do it to the queen's taste, took the gentlemen in charge, and inviting a few other friends, set out a sumptuous dinner.
About a year has elapsed since Senator Mitchell visited this city, while Senator McBride has been much longer absent.
As is quite well known Senator McBride is a native-born Yamhiller, first seeing the light of day on the Glenwood farm about eight miles northwest of this city.
When President Chandler was at the head of McMinnville college the senator was a student of the institution, and also remembers seeing the great general, Sheridan, in this city when a lad of but a few years, and the general was stationed at Fort Sheridan. At the reception given in the opera house in the evening, Senator McBride expressed the gratitude he felt in the privilege of coming back to his old home and greeting his friends, yet there came to him also a feeling of sadness to observe the changes time was working in the frosted heads and wrinkled brows of the friends of many years. He said his work had not been and was not now the discussion of political questions, and he would give the floor to his able colleague, Senator Mitchell.
The senator was glad to be present and surprised to see the hearty reception accorded them in so large a turnout of the people. He was pleased to have Senator McBride with him, and assured the people that in him they would have an able and a most trustworthy servant. They were not here as partisans, or to make political speeches. They had come to meet the citizens and learn of their wants before starting for the seat of government. He reviewed the work that had been accomplished on Oregon's rivers and harbors, and followed it with an eloquent panegyric of the wonderful resources of the state—a thing that Senator Mitchell can always be depended upon to do. In many ways not known to the public, Senator Mitchell has been an untiring worker in the interests of the state. Wherever he goes he is alive to his opportunity to show Oregon in true and best colors and thereby attract within her borders capital and good citizenship. He once paid $100 to prove he was telling the truth about his state. He was describing before a party of Washington friends, among whom was Justice Harlan, the wonderful little rock oyster and its more wonderful habitation. The justice intimated his conviction that the senator was telling a pretty broad story. Mr. Mitchell bided his time, and wrote to Yaguna friends to forward him by express a good quantity of rocks to prove his story. When he received them he sent them down to the justice's house.
He was vindicated, but it cost about $15 for the express.
The senator said he anticipated a very lively session of congress this winter, but regretted to say that he feared but little would be accomplished. Among the things he expected would be done was the securing of the appropriation of the $69,000 for the projected improvement of the Yamhill river at Lafayette. He confidently expected to get this. He also anticipates the passage of a bill authorizing the construction of the Nicaragua canal. He bases his expectation on the fact that Senator Morgan of Alabama, chairman of the committee having the bill in charge, is extremely favorable to the project, as well as nearly all the southern representatives, and the further fact that there have already been ten favorable reports from engineers who have surveyed the country. He wanted to see this work accomplished by America, and was decidedly in favor of a more vigorous foreign policy than at present exists. He warmed up on the subject of England levying mail on Nicaragua, and this country remaining silent, and the present oppression she is bringing against Venezuela in encroaching upon her territory. If he could have his way, too, he would wipe out the Wilson tariff bill, and he believed there were pruned and wool growing democrats present who would favor the same thing. Here the senator apologized for making so much of a speech, but cries of "Go on" came from all parts of the hall. He then expressed himself in favor of amending the ballot law so that no foreigner would be privileged to vote until he had been in the country as long as he was required to live here before he could vote, which course was 21 years.
This closed the speaking, and several minutes were occupied in handshaking, getting acquainted with the senators, or renewing acquaintance, both gentlemen possessing by nature high social qualities.
"While down in the western part of the state sometime ago," says Mr. Chalmers, editor of the Chico (Cal.) Enterprise, "I had an attack of dysentery.
Having heard of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I bought a bottle. A couple of doses of it completely cured me. Now I am a champion of that remedy for all stomach and bowel complaints." For sale by S. Howorth & this week. She will change her residence to Multnomah county.

Dr. G. S. Wright had his first tooth pulled since babyhood last Friday.
He is said to have been as nervous beforehand as some women get.
He can now sympathize with the rest of us.
Mr. J. L. Settle, a cousin of the Rhodes brothers, arrived with his family Saturday evening to make a somewhat extended visit in Oregon.
His home is in Madison county, Mo.
He spent the summer of 1886 in this state, and was well pleased with the climate. He will now try the winter season, and if agreeable, will decide to become a permanent citizen.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh.
Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity.
Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of tes-
