REPORTER ADVERTISERS AND PATRONS
WALLACE & WALKER.
The gentlemen whose names head this article have by well directed efforts, judicious management and upright dealings, developed a business that stands forth prominently as one of the most extensive of its class in the city. It is hardly necessary to add that they have been among the advertising patrons for several years.
Staple and fancy groceries and house-ware is their line. In addition to the courteous treatment always accorded customers, a visitor to the establishment is impressed with the extent of stock carried and the good taste and neatness in handling and displaying the same. They make a specialty of houseware. This is a line of goods in which experience and careful study counts for a great deal, both for the retail dealer and the customer. To be up to the times in style and to present wares of standard or superior quality, calls for trained skill and wide-awake enterprise in this department.

applied to the Israelites, a little study of

There was no inaugural message from the new mayor. This is to be regretted because the mayor is liable to be away a the moral status quo. Probably he was too busy getting ready for his ten days' trip to write one out.

A Good Record.
McMinnville Camp No. 128 W. O. W. has just received notice of assessment for the month of December, which closes the assessments for the year of 1895, making but ten assessments for death losses in the Pacific jurisdiction during the past year, having cost its members at the age of 33 years, but $8.50 to carry a $2,000 policy for the protection of his family in an A. No. one order that places a $100 monument at the grave of every member without additional expense to his family, and pays his heirs from $1, -$2,000 at his death. Persons of sound health, of good habits and reputable occupations can become members by making application to a camp and being introduced in form. Death losses are promptly paid and the assessments average less than other orders. Dues are payable quarterly and persons must be over 21 and under 45 years of age to join.
Its initiations are pleasing, dignified and impressive. Its Camp meetings are made interesting by fraternal discussions and social intercourse. Leading fraternal men are interested in its success; it is becoming a power for good and a blessing to country and the fatherless. Every young man should join the W. O. W. and secure a low assessment rate. By special dispensation which will expire Jan. 1st, 1896, your application will be taken at present accompanied by $3.

From Far-Away Ceylon
We have just received from far-away Ceylon a consignment of Teas from the celebrated Kusa-lana plantations.
In the great Tea-drinking countries of Russia and England Ceylon teas have entirely superseded the products of China and Japan by reason of their Cleanliness, Purity, Strength.
These teas are prepared in the cleanest possible manner, being picked by the natives with gloved hands and passed through modern machinery under the supervision of the white planters, whilst the China and Japan teas are manipulated by the coolies with their hands in the same old way as they were 100 years ago. The success of Ceylon teas has been so phenomenal that Great Britain alone uses one hundred and ninety million pounds annually, or four and a half million liquid gallons daily, which will not be a circumstance to what the United States will consume when its people realize the vast superiority of these teas.
As a Matter of Economy also these teas should always be used by the careful housewife, as it is only necessary to use half the quantity you would of any other.
In one-pound original packets as packed and labeled in Ceylon, at
