

It is the Nerve

of a tooth which has been completely or nearly exposed that gives you that sharp, shooting, lancinating pain when subjected to pressure or something cold or hot or sweet. If you have such a condition in your tooth, it should receive immediate attention. There are but two methods of saving such a tooth, viz., removing the nerve and filling the roots or applying a proper non-conducting capping to the pulp. Either operation requires great skill. I have indeed been successful in my methods in such operations. If the tooth is beyond saving, my method of extracting deprives the operation of its pain and dread. All plates made to fit and appear as natural as each individual case will permit. I keep up-to-date in all methods of work and material. Call for examination and prices.

A son of John Hendricks about 18 years old, went out to kill a chicken with a pistol on Sunday. The cartridge failing to explode, the boy unhooked the pistol. The cartridge then exploded, being defective and slow of fire, the cap striking the boy in front of and just above the eye, and the ball passing out through the barrel of the pistol. Dr. Goucher dressed the wound, which he thinks will not prove a serious one to the eyesight.

Thrashing machines were again laid up by rain on Monday, but are again at work, with encouraging weather indications. The general opinion is that wheat yet in shock is not seriously damaged, and if the weather continues favorable will be saved all right. Some that was threshed while damp it is feared will be difficult to save. Mr. Stout, the miller, said to the writer yesterday, that while in some instances a few sprouted kernels would appear, by proper handling in the warehouse, putting on full section of the cleaners, they would all be taken out.

Hay, general manager of the Washington Co-operative Life Insurance Association of Portland, Oregon, will be at the Hotel Yamhill for a few days, where he will be pleased to see all members of the association and others who desire insurance or information upon a plan purely mutual and equitable, and which to us seems more beneficial than any other before the public for their consideration. Reliable, energetic agents wanted.

It is evident from varying results and experiences, that hopgrowing in the Willamette valley is among the crude arts. A great many hops were injured or ruined by mold and lice this season, notwithstanding considerable effort, by the usual method of spraying, to prevent it. Too much reliance, possibly, has been placed upon spraying. Mr. Frank Miller of the firm of Miller Bros., says they have a forty-acre yard that has not been sprayed at all this season, in which the hops are absolutely clean and free from lice. Asked for the secret of this by a representative of The Reporter, Mr. Miller said it was all due to proper trellising. They employed sufficient help during the growing season to see that the vines were properly trellised and not allowed to bunch. It is in the dense foliage where the vines cling together that mold and lice are bred. Another thing he said, this yard was thoroughly "sheeped," that is, sheep were run among the vines and nipped off all the lower foliage and suckers. A gentleman from Silverton told us the growers in that vicinity had adopted the practice of pruning, thinning out the dense foliage by hand.

Farmers' National Congress.

Mr. R. Baird of North Yamhill has just returned from the seventeenth annual meeting of the Farmers' National Congress which convened this year at St. Paul, Minn. Mr. Baird informs us that he was the only delegate present from the Pacific states, but that nearly all of the other states were represented, and that the congress was a gathering of representative farmers from all over the Union and was worth attending. Minnesota alone had one thousand associate delegates, but only voted her regular congressional number of regular delegates, viz, 10.

The congress was addressed by many men of note, including Governor Clough of Minnesota; President Clayton of Indianola, Iowa; Signor Romero, Mexican minister; Dr. Sabelde of Veneyado; Jas. J. Hill of the Great Northern Ry; several learned professors of agriculture from different state colleges and others of more or less note including a number of ladies who understood their subjects thoroughly and knew how to express themselves.

The congress did not treat political subjects but aimed to deal in matters of purely national import and passed resolutions calling on the congress of the United States to deal with many matters of public interest, such as Postal Savings Bank, American Marine, reclaiming Mississippi, Food and Agriculture, Mail and Postage, Pure food Labels, Extermination of the Gipsey Moth.

The ownership, construction and operation of the Nicaragua canal by the United States as a nation, etc.

That the congress has weight is shown by the interest taken in the proceedings by so many leading men and by the consideration shown to it in general.

The city of St. Paul gave $500 in cash toward the expenses, which covered the printing bill, etc., and the Great Northern railway gave an excursion to 500 delegates that covered 700 miles and would have cost $10,000 at local rates.

The main bids for next year's congress were from Omaha and Fort Worth. The Fort Worth, Texas, proposition was accepted, time to be about December, 1898. Mr. Baird was elected vice president for Oregon and expects to attend the next congress as delegates are appointed for two years. Ex-Gov. Hoard of Wisconsin is the next president of the congress and all its officers are agriculturists.

Our people ought to take more interest in the congress and inform themselves of its importance and far reaching influence and lend a hand to make it all that it can be made, one of the most important deliberative bodies in the world of agriculture.

Mr. Baird has a few of last year's reports that he will mail to parties calling for them, and he will be glad to give what information he can to those interested.

There were a number of lady delegates and visitors, and the meetings were held in the hall of representatives in the capitol building in St. Paul, Minnesota.

The secretary of the congress is Mr. John M. Stahl, Chicago, editor of one of the ablest agricultural papers in the United States, The Farmer's Call, a sixteen page weekly, and only 25 cents for 52 numbers.

The recent rains damaged or ruined a great deal of straw that farmers were depending upon for their winter feed, but there is considerable compensation in the early and luxuriant growth in the pastures.

COULD NOT EAT.

A Woman's Strong Constitution Wrecked.
Effects of a Treacherous Disease.
A Wonderful Case.

From the Bulletin, Monroe, La.

Mrs. Stephen Robbins is the wife of a prominent farmer living on a large and well-kept plantation just at the edge of Monroe, La. They have resided in this community but two years, having moved here from Illinois. The change was made for the benefit of Mrs. Robbins' health, her physicians having advised her that it was the only hope of her ever regaining her lost health.

"Three years ago this last winter," said Mrs. Robbins, "I was very sick with that most treacherous disease, the grippe. I had a very severe time with it, but was able to get out after being confined to my home several weeks. I think I went out too soon, for I immediately contracted a cold and had a relapse, which is a common occurrence with that disease. For several more weeks I was confined to the house; and after this I did not fully recover until recently. I was able to get out again, but I was quite a different woman.

"My former strong constitution was wrecked, and I was a dwindling mass of skin and bones. My blood was thin and I had grown pale and sallow. My lungs were so affected that I thought I was going into consumption. During my illness I had lost thirty pounds in weight. I tried to regain my strength and former good health by trying different medicines and physicians, but nothing seemed to help me. My appetite was gone, and when I ate the food it would not stay on my stomach.

"The only thing my physician said for me to do was to take a change of climate, and on his advice I came here. At first I seemed benefited, but to my sorrow it proved to be only temporary, and in a few months I was in my former condition. The color had left my cheeks, I had no energy, and life was a misery. I had become a burden to myself and family. Finally I happened to read in a newspaper of how Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People had effected a miraculous cure with the same disease which a neighbor of mine had in Illinois.

"On the strength of this testimonial I decided at once to give the medicine a trial. I accordingly sent for a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and gave the pills a thorough trial. I did not notice any change till I had tried the second box. I was discouraged a little with the result of the first box, but knowing that I should not expect a sudden cure of such a chronic case as mine, I tried the second box with the result that I immediately began getting better. I used five boxes of these pills and was completely cured, as you see me to-day, weighing more than ever before."

As evidence of the truthfulness of her story Mrs. Robbins volunteered to make the following sworn statement:

"I hereby affirm that the above statement is every word exact and true."

Mrs. STEPHEN ROBBINS.
"Monroe, La., March 2, 1897."

"Subscribed and sworn to before me, a Notary Public in and for the Parish of Winn, State of Louisiana, this 2d day of March, 1897."
AMOS R. JESSEPS, Notary Public.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, scurvy, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effect of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, all forms of weakness either in male or female. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100) by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

When your stomach begins to trouble you, it needs help. The help it needs, is to digest your food, and, until it gets it, you won't have any peace. Stomach trouble is very distressing, very obstinate, very dangerous. Many of the most dangerous diseases begin with simple indigestion. The reason is that indigestion (not digestion, not nourishment) weakens the system and allows disease germs to attack it. The antidote is Shaker Digestive Cordial, strengthening, nourishing, curative. It cures indigestion and renews strength and health. It does this by strengthening the stomach, by helping it to digest your food. It nourishes you. Shaker Digestive Cordial is made of pure herbs, plants and wine, is perfectly harmless and will certainly cure all genuine stomach trouble. Sold by druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets move the bowels gently, relieve the cough, cures the feverish condition and headache, making it the best and quickest remedy for coughs, colds and lagrippe. Cures in one day. "No cure, no pay." Price 25 cents. For sale by Rogers Bros.

Tax Notice.
By order of county court, all taxes not paid by Oct. 15, 1897, will be declared delinquent and costs added.
