J. H. Nelson, dentist.
Dr. A. J. Vial of Portland was in the city over Sunday.

Will Kratz of Portland visited relatives in the city over Sunday.

Wanted—three tons of oat straw, in bale. Inquire at this office.

John F. Adams and family, who bought the Hoberg residence, arrived from Pendleton Monday evening.

J. W. Redd, the Carlton stock buyer, ventures a prediction that sheep will be worth $4 in the valley next spring.

Rev. Joseph Hoberg was as usual an attendant at the M. E. conference last week and heard the learned Bishop Foss.

Mrs. F. L. Pierce is visiting friends in this city this week. Rev. Pierce, we understand, is working at his trade in Portland.

President Lee Laughlin of the McMinnville National has leased his North Yamhill residence and is seeking comfortable quarters in the city.

W. J. Strong and family accomplished the arduous task of moving on Monday, and now occupy a very pleasant and commodious home in the northwest suburb.

Frank Abram Powell will preach next Lord's day at 11 a. m. on "Christ or the World, Which?" And at 7:30 p. m. on "The Resurrection of Christ." All invited.

The Newberg editors are not at peace with one another. A person never realizes the awful severity of the Quaker dialect until a couple of the brethren get to spitting.

Douglas Braly, a young brother of Mrs. W. D. McDonald who has been attending school at Ann Arbor, Mich., is here on a visit, being en route for home at San Diego, Cal.

Why do Millsap & Son enjoy the best grocery trade in town? Answer—they handle first class, clean, pure goods, sell them low, and always endeavor to treat their customers right.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sutherland moved up from Washington county this week, and occupy the house on B street north of the Galloway property. They are the parents of E. F. Sutherland.

Rev. D. T. Summerville has been returned to the McMinnville M. E. church for another year. It will doubtless be a gratification to him to preach for a year in the new edifice he has helped to build.

John W. Loder, the young attorney of Oregon City, was up to witness the opening of college and visit his parents this week. John recently won a case over one of the best attorneys in Oregon City.

Fred Biggs, aged 14 years, who served fifteen days in jail for chicken stealing, and after getting out stole a bicycle from Bun McCamish, was committed to the reform school the first of the week, on petition of his father.

Lair Thompson, who has been a faithful employee of the Herald for several years, leaves in a few days to enter McMinnville college. He is a bright, trustworthy young man, who will make his mark in the world.—Albany Herald.

R. Baird of North Yamhill returned from St. Paul the first of the week, where he went as a representative of Oregon to attend the international agricultural congress. He reports a pleasant journey and a session of great interest and profit.

On next Monday morning at 9 o'clock the opening exercises of the McMinnville schools will occur at the Columbus building, and all pupils are expected to be there. Visitors and patrons of the school are cordially invited to be present.

The Eastern Star gave a reception, Monday evening, to Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Conner. The ceremonies included the presentation of a beautiful silver cake basket in the form of a star bearing the letters "W. M." among other tasteful decorations. It was explained that the inscription stood for worthy matron, Mrs. Conner holding that position at the present time.

The McMinnville broom factory received a load of broomcorn this week from R. S. Allen, that a novice would pronounce all right. The proprietor of the factory said that it was all right, and he considers it a demonstrated fact that Western Oregon can produce its own broom material as well as send many thousands of dollars away from home every year for that purpose.

Returns received from the first two car loads of prunes shipped from this point are very discouraging. They were sold in New York, and by reason of finding the market glutted with prunes grown in the state, went at ruinous figures, 35 and 45 cents a crate. The doctors figure out their loss on the two cars at $555, besides the fruit. They may do better on later shipments, which it is proposed to hold in cold storage until the glut subsides.

The hop product of Yamhill county this year, estimated by persons in the best possible position to know, will be over 400 bales. At present quotations they are worth in round numbers $100,000. This is quite an item, but its significance does not appear until it is understood that this is the product of less than 600 acres of ground. Not more than a fiftieth of the available hop land is being used for hop growing, and the product might be almost indefinitely increased if there were no drawbacks to the business.
