The Best. Rest. Test.

There are two kinds of sarsaparilla: The best—and the rest. The trouble is they look alike. And when the rest dress like the best who's to tell them apart? Well, "the tree is known by its fruit." That's an old test and a safe one. And the taller the tree the deeper the root. That's another test. What's the root, the record of these sarsaparillas? The one with the deepest root is Ayer's. The one with the richest fruit; that, too, is Ayer's. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has a record of half a century of cures; a record of many medals and awards—culminating in the medal of the Chicago World's Fair, which, admitting Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best—shut its doors against the rest. That was greater honor than the medal, to be the only Sarsaparilla admitted as an exhibit at the World's Fair. If you want to get the best sarsaparilla of your druggist, here's an infallible rule: Ask for the best and you'll get Ayer's. Ask for Ayer's and you'll get the best.

Those Eyes of Yours

Take care of them. Remember the old adage, "A stitch in time," etc. If you have the least cause to suspect that everything is not as it should be with your eyes, have them examined at once; it will cost you nothing. We have recently added a complete optician's set to our business, and make a specialty of correcting eye troubles. You will be told frankly and honestly what your trouble is, and if you need glasses or not.

NORTH YAMHILL.

Roads dusty again.
Wheat 69 cents clear.
Business is coming on with a rush.
School began Monday with good attendance.

There seems to be a shortage of cars this fall.

Teams still hauling lumber from the mountains.

Miss Edna Bunn has gone to Salem to attend the university there.

Quite a number of traveling men selling goods in town this week.

Mr. Withycombe has six carloads of draining tile awaiting shipment.

This week will see over 1000 bales of hops hauled into the warehouse for sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Baird and son expect to spend part of the week camping at the state fair.

Just give the farmers a living price for their products and this whole country will smile.

Mr. M. C. Cone of Salem is selling goods in the neighborhood this week and reports trade good.

Buyers are offering as high as 14 cents for hops, but growers seem inclined to hold for higher prices.

Mr. Samuel Simmons of Portland visited in the neighborhood Saturday and Sunday, driving home Monday.

The unusual heat Monday afternoon came nearer prostrating some parties than our warm harvest weather did.

Straw balers are still in brisk demand and a good deal of work ahead yet. Quite a contrast to the time when almost all of the straw was burned.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuykendall drove up to Polk county to bring home their daughter Lena, who has been visiting relatives there for some weeks.

Mr. Fred Williams, an old resident of this place and now in the general merchandise business in Edonia, Wash., is visiting friends in the neighborhood.

To read Mr. Luce's account of the hop harvest in Oregon would lead one to believe he must have been asleep when it was raining and had not yet fully waked up.

Mr. Kuykendall's wind mill begins to loom up. He expects to raise the water about 125 feet from a well about 150 yards from the tower. Who said water wouldn't run up hill?

Some of our farmers think they have missed a golden opportunity to sell their wheat, but are inclined to hold till the price rises again, which they think it assuredly will.

Owners of timber in the mountains near here expect that the recent rise in lumber will enable them to dispose of logs to be floated to lower river mills, as they were some years ago.

Fruit drying is nearly over for the season. Quite a large quantity of prunes and other fruit has been wasted this season, as usual, on account of lack of drying facilities at the proper time.

Growers are putting on all their force to get the baled hops hauled before another rain, as the roads are first-class at present, that is, for dirt roads, worked at random, like Oregon roads are.

Several prune growers intend to plow up their young orchards. Amongst others Judge Williams is reported as intending to plow up 40 acres of nice young prune trees that have been set out two years and have already cost the price of a small farm.

Some of our people regret that we did not have that threatened railroad collision, as they seem to think it would have been a relief to the country to have had the railroad commissioners killed off, but then what would we do with all our money if our representatives did not help us spend it?

Some time last week the house of Mr. Davis, who lives in the Crumb neighborhood, was broken into and everything in the house was mutilated or destroyed. The jars of fruit that Mrs. Davis had put up for winter use were broken up, the contents spread over the floor and upon the bed. The contents of the bureau drawers and the books about the house were dragged through the mass of broken fruit upon the floor. The clock, dishes, sewing-machine and provisions were totally destroyed. Mr. and Mrs. Davis were away from home at work in the hop fields, and it is a great loss to them, as they are poor, hard working, industrious people. It is looked upon in the neighborhood as the aftermath of the Crumb-Russel shooting affray of last summer.

Mrs. Davis was in the wagon with Russel at the time he was shot and is the only witness that was present at the time it occurred. One of the neighbors saw Crumb's children around the premises and it is supposed that they were instigated to commit this wanton destruction of property by their parents.—Sheridan Sun.

WHITESON.

Jerome Franklin has moved into the house vacated by Mr. Wooley.

Miles Houck has completed his new residence in White's addition, and has now moved.

H. Mills has moved into the Watt hills south of here for the purpose of raising turkeys. He starts with fifty.

H. Holmes completed his onion house and is gathering and storing his crop. He estimates the yield of eleven acres at about 3,000 sacks.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Conner have adopted a little girl from the orphans' home in Portland. The little waif is fortunate in securing a home in this charitable family.

Will sheep eat growing corn and beans? This question was elegantly discussed by a couple of our neighbors the other day in a two round contest without gloves. It was decided they would. Agricultural reports should make a note of this.

H. Campbell while cutting timber on Tuesday last, lodged one tree against another, and in trying to get it down, the tree suddenly fell, pinning him to the ground. Wm. Budum, who was present, helped him out. He was not fatally injured, but it was a pretty close call.

Croup Quickly Cured.

MOUNTAIN GLEN, Ark.—Our children were suffering with croup when we received a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It afforded almost instant relief.—F. A. THORNTON. This celebrated remedy is for sale by S. Howarth & Co.

Columbus School Notes.

Teachers and pupils are starting in for a hard year's work.

Colon Eberhard spent several days in Portland last week.

Several of our students attended the state fair on Wednesday.

Elsie Hobbs and Bessie Houck were among the Portland visitors last week.

Rev. Bowersox and Director Irvine were pleasant callers Monday morning. Hattie Brown is in school again after being absent several days on account of sickness.

We hear a great deal of talk lately about the compositions we are to write once a month.

There are many new pupils in our school this year. Let us give each a hearty welcome.

Florence Dielschneider has returned from a visit to Portland, and is again numbered among our students.

Number enrolled is as follows: 9th and 10th grades, 38; 7th and 8th grades, 27; 5th and 6th grades, 40; 3d and 4th grades, 49; 1st and 2d grades, 43.

Cook School Notes.

Total number of pupils enrolled 157.

Claude Walker and Willie Bodle were new students of the 8th grade.

Rev. Bowersox and Director Irvine spent a short time in our building on Monday and were well pleased with our work.

But three weeks of our school year has passed, work is much further advanced than six weeks of work in preceding years. There is a reason for it, however: each teacher is acquainted with the pupils of their grades and no time is lost in commencing the work of a new pupil.

Some of the teachers have lately received excuses from parents reading like this: "please excuse Johnnie for being absent." These are not excuses and cannot be accepted by the teachers, and unexcused absences will be marked in report books at the end of the month.

Sickness is about the only legitimate excuse for absence.

Some of the pupils of the smaller grades have been staying out of school for the reason that they would be tardy. While the teachers do not like tardy marks against their rooms, an absence is still worse, and a pupil may miss something which is important in his work.

"As if a brick were lying in my stomach" is the description by a dyspeptic of his feeling after eating. This is one of the commonest symptoms of indigestion. Nowadays when women are trying to do everything it is not strange that many things are overdone. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman too it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work is yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops. Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from over exertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all its attendant horrors. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and, like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.
