FRIDAY, NOV. 26, 1897.

The supreme court of Wyoming has very properly decided that foreign born citizens must be able to read the constitution in the English language before they are entitled to vote. The man who having lived here long enough to become a citizen has not acquired the language, is not of the material to make a good citizen.

It is said that there is a prospect of there being a Bonaparte in the United States senate. He will represent Maryland. He is Charles J. Bonaparte, a grand-nephew of Napoleon I. He is a descendant of Jerome Bonaparte, who married Miss Patterson, and is a leading and useful republican of his state.

The report that there will be a two-thirds majority in the senate for the ratification of the Hawaiian treaty is probably correct. The annexation project gains friends as time passes. All the objections which can be urged against annexation have been heard, and they are not formidable. The president will, in his message, recommend early action, and nearly all the republicans and a majority of the democrats are likely to stand with him on this question. Nobody need be surprised if annexation comes before the end of January.

The Ohio State Journal has been investigating the results of the experiments recently tried in Western Reserve townships, of consolidating into one school district the entire township, and reports that they are an unqualified success. The first of these experiments was tried in Kingsville, and the people are delighted with the new arrangement. All the school districts united, and the result is one magnificent building in the center of the township. The plan is bound to become popular both with teachers, scholars and the taxpayers who want the best education for their children that their money will buy. The Blade published a descriptive article on the Kingsville school last spring and is receiving inquiries from points all over the west concerning it, showing that the plan is looked upon with favor in rural communities.—Toledo Blade.

NICARAGUA TALK.

The Nicaragua Canal, which means so much to this coast, and for which the people are impatiently waiting, it has been hoped would be made the subject of active work as soon as congress meets. The Chronicle, however, remarks that the hope that the first regular session of "the fifty-fifth congress will be marked by the enactment of the Nicaragua canal bill, is not to be realized unless some crisis shall come making it necessary to proceed without the findings of the new survey. Ordinarily the work of a commission, appointed to make a final examination and report upon the feasibility of any given enterprise, would not be overruled in advance. There may, of course, be measures taken by Nicaragua which will force the hand of this government prematurely. Some of these are not intangible perils now, or have but lately been averted, as witness the authenticated negotiation between Nicaragua and Japan looking to the building of the canal by the latter power; the formation of the Greater Republic for no other apparent purpose than to relieve Nicaragua of her treaty contracts; the captious objections to Minister Merry, as a strong champion of the control of the canal by America—and finally the granting of an exclusive steamboat franchise on the San Juan del Sur, a part of the navigable route of the projected waterway, to a English syndicate. Should Nicaragua pursue this policy much further the United States would be prompt to act. But the chances are that the report of the commission will be waited for, as it is expected to settle the wide differences as to costs in the estimates of the Maritime Canal Company and of the government engineers who were sent to Nicaragua by President Cleveland. In that case the final legislation may have to be deferred until the life of the existing franchise is nearly ready to terminate.

Politics To The Front.

Only a little more than six months intervenes before another state, district and county election occurs. Candidates are being discussed on the side, and occasionally speculation crops out in the press. We find the following in Monday's Oregonian, appearing as special correspondence from Salem, in relation to matters in the first congressional district.

SALEM, NOV. 21.—Referring to the work preliminary to the republican congressional convention for the first district, Chairman Hendricks today said the committee would not be called together until after the first of the year. Neither a definite date nor place for the committee meeting has yet been determined upon.

The congressional committee consists of one representative from each of the 16 counties, as follows:

R. J. Hendricks, Salem, chairman; J. A. Wilson, Albany, secretary; S. L. Kline, Corvallis; J. Hackett, Empire City; G. F. Horton, Oregon City; H. B. Miller, Grant's Pass; H. E. Ankeny, Jacksonville; L. Langhary, Roseburg; G. S. Nickerson, Klamath; H. R. Rand, Junction; M. Carter, Elk City; R. D. Cooper, Independence; L. P. Smith, Woods; J. Withcombe, Hillsboro; J. W. Hobbs, McMinnville; A. Snyder, Lakeview.

One duty of the committee will be the selection of a time and place for holding the convention. It was held in Albany two years ago, meeting on April 7. The only place that has been suggested to Chairman Hendricks is Eugene, and Eugene has come to be spoken of as the meeting place of the next convention, though the committee may, when it meets, select any place in the district.

Another duty of the committee will be apportionment of delegates. Two years ago, there were 122 delegates in the convention. The apportionment was based on the vote for Governor Lord, allowing each county one delegate at-large and one for every 200 votes cast, or fraction over one-half thereof. If based on the McKinley vote in the same proportion, the next convention will have 139 delegates.

Reports from different parts of the district say there is considerable talk being indulged in as to who is the strongest available candidate the convention can nominate. There is also speculation among the opposition as to whom they may unite on, and how they may lose. In the same opposition there is talk of how they can't unite and how they won't fuse.

It has been reported here that O. H. Irvine, of McMinnville, spoken of as a candidate for circuit judge or district attorney for the third judicial district, would be a representative of the Mitchell wing of the party. Mr. Irvine had business in Salem the past week. Since conversing with him, some of his friends here say he has been misrepresented. It is claimed that both he and his law partner, James McCain, have always been consistent gold-standard republicans and antagonistic to Mitchell's theories and practices in politics.

It is understood Mr. Irvine is not a candidate for the judgeship, only in case Judge Burnett or Judge Hewitt is not nominated. The majority to overcome, as set out by the returns of the last election, is as follows:

Hayden, Carson dem. rep.
Linn	2090 1858
Marion	3537 2393
Polk	1421 1256
Tillamook	337 614
Yamhill	1697 1460
Totals	9122 7581

The total vote for both was 16,703, and Hayden's majority 1541. It is to be remembered the populist candidate, C. H. Dalrymple, was induced to withdraw in favor of Hayden, and the latter got all kinds of votes. Presuming District Attorney Hayden's deputies are looking after his political fences in their respective counties, in case he makes the race again, he is counting on votes irrespective of party. John H. McNary, deputy for Marion, is a republican; Chas. Talmage, Yamhill, silver republican; Geo. Nolan, deputy for Tillamook, gold-standard democrat; Joe Sibley, Polk, democrat; C. H. Dalrymple, Linn, populist, superseded by J. J. Whitney, Bryan democrat.

A Companion For All Ages.

A gentleman who used to read The Youth's Companion when a boy, and reads it with the same interest now that he is a middle-aged man, was asked the other day if he had not outgrown The Companion. "I don't believe," said he, "that I can ever outgrow it. I find in it not only the cheery, hopeful spirit of youth, but the wisdom and experience of age. I like it just as much as when I was a boy, though perhaps in a different way. But I know it is the same Youth's Companion with which I grew up."

The Youth's Companion will contain the best thought of the best thinkers of America and Europe during 1898. It will print serial and short stories of absorbing interest, and true tales of adventure. The various departments of the paper will be a current record of the best work that is being done in the world. Present readers of The Companion who renew their subscriptions, and all new subscribers, will receive free a beautiful illustrated calendar, printed in 12 colors, and embossed in gold. It is the richest and costliest calendar ever sent to Companion subscribers. New subscribers will receive The Companion every week from the time the subscription is received until January, 1898, and then for a full year to January, 1899.

An illustrated prospectus of The Companion for 1898 may be had by addressing PERRY MASON & COMPANY, 255 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. "This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The Remedy cured me, and I want all of my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do them good." Sold by S. Howorth & Co.

On Wednesday evening at eight o'clock, at the residence of W. W. Wright in this city, there was celebrated the marriage of Hattie May Wright and T. Melvin Lynch. The wedding march was played by Miss Hallie Reynolds and the marriage ceremony was performed by Prof. E. Northup. Only a small company of guests were present. Several beautiful presents were bestowed upon the happy couple. The bride is the only daughter of one of the most respected citizens and is beloved by all who know her. The groom is one of our most energetic young men and for the last two years he has been in the employ of Wallace & Walker. They set out on life's journey with every prospect of a happy journey and with the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

A stomachful of undigested food is about as unhealthy a mass as one can well imagine. What can be done with it? There it stays. It won't digest. It churns up, ferments and decays; becomes poisonous (as all putrid matter does) and causes great pain and deep-seated disorders. In order to change all this, take Shaker Digestive Cordial. It stops fermentation and decay at once, so that no poisons are created. It clears the stomach of poisons already there. It helps to turn the food that remains, into healthful nourishment. It strengthens the stomach for the next meal. Here is the whole philosophy and cure of indigestion in a few words. And what's more, it's all true. Try it. Shaker Digestive Cordial is for sale by druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

Died.

In this city, Wednesday, November 24th, of neuralgia of the stomach, Fanny G., wife of Rev. John Kingery, aged 63 years. Funeral services were held at the Christian church at 1:30 p. m., yesterday, attended by a large congregation. Rev. F. A. Powell delivering the discourse. Deceased was a native of New York, a devoted member of the M. E. church for 48 years, and was esteemed as a woman of worth and christian character.

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of cramp. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place; and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cure of cramp. Mr. Johnson says that it is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by S. Howorth & Co.

Grew Worse Under Treatment Till We Gave Her Hood's Sarsaparilla—She Has Rosy Cheeks Now.

"When my baby was two months old she cried night and day, and seemed to be in great pain. She had a discharge from her ears, and the top of her head broke out in scrofulous eruptions. The doctor gave me something to stop the discharge and ease the pain, but his treatment did not cure her and we were sorry to see

She Grew Worse

Instead of better. The top of her head broke out with scrofula. A crust would form on her head and fall off, taking the hair along with it, and this continued for two or three months, when something seemed to tell me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I did so, together with Hood's Pills and Hood's Olive Ointment. Soon

J. W. Ballinger is now with Manning Bros. He is an experienced implement and hardware man.

Gospel meetings are being held each evening at the Baptist church. A cordial invitation is extended to the people.

"The enemy is coming: To the fort for your lives!" When a wise man receives a plain warning of danger, he does not wait to let it overtake him; he seeks every reasonable means to fight it off.

Disease would almost never get the best of the average man if he was prepared to resist it and took the natural precautions dictated by common sense. When a man's stomach and liver get upset and fail to do their regular work, he can be certain that something worse is bound to follow, if he doesn't look out for himself. Headaches, indigestion, biliousness and constipation are simply Nature's warnings that the enemy of serious disease is coming to attack him.

The sensible thing to do is to immediately fortify the system with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It vitalizes and invigorates the entire constitution. It helps the liver to filter out all bilious impurities. It gives the digestive and nutritive organs power to extract nourishment from the food and turn it into rich, red, healthy blood. It creates appetite, good digestion, and solid, muscular strength.

It is far superior to the mere temporary stimulus of malt-extracts. It is better than cod liver oil emulsions because it is assimilated by the weakest stomach. "About fifteen years ago," writes Mr. John Michael, editor of the Plattsmouth (Mo.) Leader, "I was in very poor health, had no appetite, was sluggish, and so lifeless it seemed impossible for me to do anything that required effort. Every fall and spring this ill-health seemed to affect me particularly. A friend advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery asserting that it would restore me to perfect health, and make 'a new man' of me. Finally he induced me to try the medicine. I weighed at the time about 125 lbs. I used several bottles, and upon quitting it weighed 175 lbs. Since that time my weight has varied from this to 195 pounds.

A sure and permanent cure for constipation is Dr. Pierce's Pellets. One 'Pellet' is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic.
