

He was tickled

because he had his tooth extracted without suffering any pain, although he had entered my office expecting to endure the untold agonies usually incident to the dental chair. We can do the same for you. All operations are carefully, gently and thoroughly done. Artificial teeth should be so perfectly adapted to the mouth and so perfect in fit and appearance that the wearer himself might be able to forget them. I guarantee my plates to be as nearly perfect as the best material, educated skill and the peculiarities of each case will permit. Skillful operations, minimum pain and reasonable charges are the basic elements of my practice.

Cleanliness and asepsis rigidly practiced. I invite you to call for examination of your teeth. I am always pleased to talk about dentistry.

During Tuesday Matthies & Booth had their market window animated by the presence of a real live pig, a handsome pig as pigs go. In both capacities he appeared very comfortable and happy and attracted a great deal of attention from people passing.

Indications are that the holiday season in McMinnville will be of the grand and glorious order this year, beginning with Thanksgiving and lasting until Washington's birthday. The shop windows are already filled with enticing Christmas goods. The stocks will be larger and the quality of the goods of a higher order than in recent years preceding, but there promises to be such lively competition that buyers will be "in it" as well as the dealers. To be best advised where the nice things are to be found and who is anxious for the holiday trade, keep your eye on the advertising columns of The Reporter.

According to the Plaindealer, a Roseburg merchant is about to move to Portland in order to capture the Portland trade. Guess it is the same everywhere. People like to send to the city for things, even though they cost a little more, and are more than willing to be deluded with by the special baits held out to them on a few articles while they are being caught and skinned alive on the bulk of things they buy in the city.

T. D. Henderson came to town with his head in a sling Wednesday morning having just emerged from the house after an attack of lagrippe. He was superintending the marketing of some fine pigs. Tom has a breed that he calls his McKinley pigs, because he says they pay big returns for the protection and food they receive and always create a surplus on the profit side of the account-book.

It was hardly necessary for the city to do without water supply for a whole week. If the plant were the property of a single individual, or a corporation of individual owners, on whom the loss incident to non-operation or responsibility for possible damage would fall, there would have been no rest nor sleep until the break in the main had been repaired. Private interest, the hope of private gain and the danger of private loss, are wonderful stimulants to enterprise. We do not wish to argue in favor of private ownership of the water and light plant, for there are serious objections to that, but we do think it would be preferable to the system of management that now prevails. The situation was aptly stated by a member of the city council, quoted on a former occasion, who said there were doubtless several gentlemen in the council who would be capable of handling the business successfully, but it was too much of a job for six of them. It is the opinion of people of fairly good judgment, that if one man had felt the weight of responsibility resting on his shoulders when the main broke last week, that it could and would have been repaired in less than twenty-four hours.

The Vesperian dramatic company made its first appearance this season last Friday evening, in "The Man from Maine." A good house greeted them, the gross receipts amounting to $46.10. The play smacked somewhat of the bowery, and for this reason no member of the company had any great admiration for it from the start. It was for the most part well handled, however. Mr. Evenden did splendidly as VanCroger, and Will Holman as the down-easter himself was the right man for the part. Of the ladies, Mrs. Hobbs had the heavy role this time, and never played better. Her interpretation was very true to life. Sam Gaunt and Arthur McPhillips formed a superb up-to-date pair of dudes. Geo. Snyder and E. R. Henderson were "the onlies" on their parts. C. H. McKinney made a great "Jasper" when blacked up, and was always on hand at the proper moment. Robt. Henderson is a pretty good looker in everyday life, but more so when rigged up as a lady's man with a bloomin' mustache—provided it stays on. A. B. Apperson as the scheming little Philip wasn't well enough up in cards for the Maine man. Miss Daisy Young and Miss Clara Irvine appeared acceptably as modest young ladies. A rare musical program was rendered by the McMinnville orchestra, including an original composition by the leader, Mr. Feeley, entitled "McMinnville Band March."

Healthy, happy children make better men and women of us all. A little care and a little planning before birth is often more important than anything that can be done after. On the mother's health and strength depend the life and the future of the children. A weak and sickly woman cannot bear strong and healthy children. Most of the weakness of women is utterly inexcusable. Proper care and proper medicine will cure almost any disorder of the feminine organism. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been tested in thirty years of practice. It is healing, soothing, strengthening. It is perfectly natural in its operation and effect. By its use, thousands of weak women have been made strong and healthy—have been made the mothers of strong and healthy children. Taken during gestation, it makes childbirth easy and almost painless and insures the well being of both mother and child. YOU can no more buy a watch such as described for $9.82 than you can a gold dollar for seventy cents. The advertisements are misleading and the advertisers are schemers. They try to make you believe that they will give you better value for your money than your home jewelers will, but in reality they give you less. Your getting something for nothing can be measured by the likelihood of your giving it. REMEMBER THIS WHEN YOU READ OFFERS TO SELL WATCHES CHEAP, made by people at a distance. I will sell you a good watch as cheap as anybody who intends to stay by their guarantee.
