The Kickapoo Indian show No. 54 arrived in the city on Tuesday, and pitched its tent at the corner of Second and G streets. Prizes of silverware are given in connection with the sale of medicine, and between the sales there is an enactment of farces. Over two hundred of these shows are now on the road.

Prof. Irving M. Glen, now of Eugene, is visiting in Portland and taking lessons in voice culture under the famous German tenor, Herr Schott. The admiration for each other's vocal talent is said to be mutual and in large degree. Herr Schott has an offer of a free conservatory from three American cities, if he will consent to remain in this country.

Rev. L. D. Beck of Soda Springs has been in the city this week soliciting support for Mineral Springs college of that place, which is the only school on the Pacific coast under the fostering care of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. The institution has recently paid off a large debt, and is now accumulating an endowment fund. It had an attendance of 130 students last year.

A transient sewing machine fixer who has been vegetating in these parts, left behind a somewhat unsavory memory if reports are true. An instance is related where he merely asked permission to examine a machine, and afterward demanded two dollars from the lady. The demand being refused he pocketed the shuttle and fixtures and walked off. The moral of it all is, that in dealing with transients it is best not to do so, but to patronize home people.

There is said to be considerable of a romance attached to a late wedding at Roseburg. Geo. D. Cone was married to Mrs. Henrietta Nichols, July 24th. The groom was lying at the point of death in the hospital of the soldiers' home. The bride was a wealthy resident of California. Thirty years ago the couple were betrothed, but becoming estranged each married another and in time lost their partners, through all life's vicissitudes never forgetting the early love, it seems. Now it is said that Mrs. Nichols hearing of her old lover's plight, insisted on becoming his wife in order to properly care for him in his illness. The groom died 24 hours after the marriage.

W. T. Macy and family returned from Ocean Park Saturday, and Wm. DeHaven and family followed on Tuesday. They had a new experience during their visit, in going out to sea in a row boat a distance of two to three miles. Macy was extremely sick for about five minutes, until he disgorged, when he never felt better in his life. DeHaven couldn't do this, but was struck with still sickness, and hung to his fish line while his ears became as white as cotton. Macy told the man in charge of the boat that he would confer a great favor on him if he would make his boat conform a little better to the swells of the ocean.

Miss Hattie Williams, who has so successfully taught in our public schools, and was re-elected, has concluded to go to McMinnville where a position has been offered her, as her folks are there. The Dallas people are sorry to part with Miss Williams as a teacher and member of the social circles; she has many warm friends in our midst. The school board elected Prof. C. M. Armstrong to fill the position vacated.—Polk Co. Observer.

The report of Grand Recorder Clark of the A. O. U. W., was an encouraging document, showing the benefits accruing from the system of classified assessments recently adopted by the order in this state. The suspensions of the last year, according to the grand recorder's report, numbered only 249, as against 864 of the preceding year. The receipts of the beneficiary fund were $147,412.36, and the disbursements on 91 warrants, $143,579.33. In the general fund the receipts were $12,146.68, and the disbursements $11,825.97.

Prof. R. A. Heritage has resigned his position as director of the musical department of the Willamette university, and in a few days will leave for Helena, Montana, where he will establish a conservatory of music of his own. Some weeks ago he received a very flattering financial consideration from the enterprising citizens of that mountain city, to come there and locate, and in addition to this, three of the universities there have adopted the conservatory as their college of music respectively. Prof. Heritage expects to go to Helena next week and his family will join him about the 10th of September.—Statesman.

Economy Is the Road to Travel

Whether it leads to wealth or not, economy is the safest road to travel. By economy we do not mean stinginess; we do not mean that you shall consider a low-priced shoe the one to buy. The most economical shoe buyer is the one that sees to it first, that the shoes are of good quality; second, that they are fairly priced. Common sense leads the real economist to pass by the trashy footwear so frequently offered at prices that are little, but not low. I have shoes that will meet the requirements of the economical buyer. They combine good quality, style and fit at a medium price. Come in and see.
