Benefit your college library by hearing the "Tennessee Students," Monday, August 8th.
Mrs. J. C. Cooper will accompany the Manila Guards as chaperon to the Astoria regatta this month.
Miss Rose Fletcher, Mrs. Spencer Simmons and Mrs. Al Cook went into camp at Jones' mill on Wednesday.
All persons knowing themselves indebted to me for dental work, will please call at once and settle the same, at the clerk's office. J. H. NELSON.
Clem Scott lost a valuable mare on Monday from a broken leg, presumed to have been the result of a kick from another horse.
James Minty, who removed to Tacoma, writes back that a son was born to his household on August 2d, of good Scotch weight—11½ lbs.
Prof. F. S. Dunn, newly-chosen member of the University faculty at Eugene, and late of Willamette university, is visiting at the Shelton home near Carlton.
Mr. Allen, who lives on the White farm east of town, had the bad luck to fall through a hayrack on Tuesday, while hauling grain. The result was a fractured rib.
Wesley Honck and Isaiah Martin began threshing at their homes on Tuesday. 650 bushels were threshed the first afternoon. Mr. Martin had a yield of 22 bushels to the acre.
Rev. Ralph Storey will preach next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the college chapel. The Baptist church will hold no more evening services until the turn to the church, when it will be duly announced.
The families of Messrs. Reynolds & Branham, the new butchers, arrived from Troutdale the past week. The former is living in the Rowland house, G street, the latter in the Wallace place, Fourth street, opposite Secular hall.
F. M. York of Carlton lost a young mare on Wednesday from inflammation of the lungs, due to drinking cold water when the animal was in an overheated condition. Dr. Minty says he could have saved her if he had been on the ground sooner.
Mr. Frank Matthews, a former student here, and later of a New York city institution, is here on a visit to his mother, Mrs. Shelton. Mr. Matthews has been engaged as pastor in a New York town of 18,000 inhabitants, which is a clerical start with an exceptionally favorable outlook.
Dr. Arthur S. Cooper returned home Wednesday evening, after an absence of four years, almost to the hour. His residence has been in Central America and Mexico during this time, and he has followed the profession of dentistry. He is looking in fine health, and even handsomer than he used to be.
The election contest case of D'Arcy vs. Boise was heard by Judge Burnett the first of the week, so far as Yamhill county is concerned. The recount of the vote on the judgeship in dispute was gone over and the testimony of the various judges of election was taken, which occupied most of Monday and Tuesday. A few errors were found and corrected on both sides, but in the end Boise had made a net gain of four votes. The plaintiff filed sixteen objections to Judge Burnett's rulings in regard to the counting of as many ballots, and it is claimed that he will take the case to the supreme court. The question is often asked who bears the expense of the contest. The lawyers say the defeated contestant has to foot the bill and no part of it falls upon the taxpayers. The general public looks upon the contest in this and other counties outside of Marion, as a grand farce, being carried on to divert attention from the proceedings in the latter county, which were dropped after the manner of a hot potato when palpable frauds began coming to light.
Wednesday evening was amateur night at the Kikapoo tent. Privilege was given for amateur entertainment in various lines in competition for first and second prizes of $3 and $2, the audience being the awarding committee by vote per ballot. The program opened with Ben Simpson as gun swinger, who did well, but the audience heartlessly gaged him at every weak point. Charley Rohr gave a clog dance. Melvin Hanville sang a Kikapoo medicine song. A little Miss Kelly, about as high as the table, spoke a piece and made a pretty curtsy. Fred Cooper gave artistic sketches of President McKinley, Dewey, Mark Hanna, Cleveland, Shafter, Sampson, Schley, Bismarck, the first Kikapoo Indian Sagwa manufacturer, Weyler, Uncle Sam and Columbia, all of which showed in good degree Fred's innate and cultivated artistic ability, and won for him the first prize. Chas. Galloway spoke the piece of the German on the labor question, and did admirably, winning the second prize. The audience also guessed on the number of beans in a bottle. The prize, a silver fruit dish, was won by Ed Hoff, whose guess was 1053, one bean less than the actual number in the bottle.

Mrs. Kittle Patty has returned from a visit at Sheridan, bringing home with her twenty quarts of mountain blackberries and sixteen quarts of jelly. If this gets out, Mrs. Patty is likely to have a good many friends visit her next winter. By the way, why doesn't someone bring mountain berries to town to sell if they are so abundant?
Samuel Laughlin returned to his home at North Yamhill from Dawson City last week, and was in McMinnville a number of days with friends. He has located a claim near the above city and is to return soon, accompanied by Mrs. George Laughlin, his sister-in-law, and Mary L. Laughlin, his sister. Sam says a man earns the gold he gets, but his going back would indicate that what he gets is worth the effort. While here he carried about with him a number of shining nuggets.

Our young friend Estes of the second-hand store obligingly lent his services to a lady in the neighborhood one day last week to take some honey from a hive where there were bees. Ordinarily O. G. has good success at this business, and effects a division of spoils without raising a controversy, but this time his diplomacy was at fault or something else was wrong, and the closing of one of his optics and a half day off at the store resulted. He suspects that the bees were Spanish stock, though their marksmanship was good enough for Americans. We forgot to inquire whether he got the honey.

Economy Is the Road to Travel
Whether it leads to wealth or not, economy is the safest road to travel. By economy we do not mean stinginess; we do not mean that you shall consider a low-priced shoe the one to buy. The most economical shoe buyer is the one that sees to it first, that the shoes are of good quality; second, that they are fairly priced. Common sense leads the real economist to pass by the trashy footwear so frequently offered at prices that are little, but not low. I have shoes that will meet the requirements of the economical buyer. They combine good quality, style and fit at a medium price. Come in and see.
