The First Oregon Boy Home.

The first soldier to return to Oregon from Manila was Wm. Wann of Waldport, who stepped off the train at Salem Saturday morning. He was invalided at Manila and sent home on furlough, his health having been impaired by measles. In an interview with a Statesman reporter he had the following to say among other things: "Of course, we were all anxious to see Dewey. Dewey is supreme over there, and he is the idol of the boys; there is always a small crowd surrounding him, gazing at him in sheer admiration. I confess I was disappointed on my first view of the great admiral, as I had expected to see a man of large and dignified presence, somewhat commensurate with the renown he had won, but he proved to be well under any such proportions, and is, in fact, not more than five feet, five inches in height, solidly built, but he is 'all there,' just the same, and I was soon his devoted admirer, along with the rest. Aguinaldo, an infinitely lesser man in all else, is a giant in stature compared to Dewey, being at least six feet tall. He is intelligent and ambitious, and in default of gaining his own ends, bows submissively to American supremacy, and if he obeys himself is likely to be treated with consideration by this government. But he is Malay, and Malays have a treacherous strain that is never eliminated. Aguinaldo differs radically from his fellows, the Filipinos, who are veritable pigmies in stature, and deficient mentally.

"Manila and Cavite are full of deep interest for us now, and the boys are getting curious of all sorts. Among the souvenirs are a lot of bullets dug from one of the fortress walls at Cavite, along which the very governor we brought away from the Ladronez used to line up his victims for 'target' practice, when he was commandment there.

"There is no question of American supremacy in the Philippines. It is the universal conclusion, and everything on the island is bending itself easily and naturally to this end.

"I think Admiral Dewey expects more or less trouble with the insurgents, but he and General Merritt are masters of the entire situation, and will remain so at all hazards, and on this hypothesis I am forced to believe our boys will be kept there for a long while yet. Some people think that we signed for service 'for two years or until the war should end,' but we did not; we signed for that time 'unless sooner discharged,' so you see they can keep the boys for the full term if they want to.

"The Filipinos are going to be hard to govern on account of their gross ignorance and semi-barbaric instincts; when they are friendly there is nothing too good for you, but once their animosity is aroused they are bitterly vengeful and treacherous. They had an idea that we came there simply to free them, drive out the Spaniards and install the natives in power, turning everything over to them, and now that we are holding them in check and administering things generally, they are very crestfallen, and quick to show their angry disappointment.

"The traces of war are everywhere visible around Manila bay. I saw one instance of the superb gunnery of the American sailors that was simply marvellous. An immense, old-fashioned, smooth-bore gun was mounted on the walls of Cavite, and during the engagement it must have been swung broadside on to the fleet, for in its breach there appears the clean cut hole made by an American shell, clear through the Spanish metal. Of course our boys fired at the enemy's guns, but that they should shoot them through and through seems little short of a marvel to me."

White Ribboners' Convention.

The Yamhill county convention of the W. C. T. U. met at McMinnville, Sept. 1st and 2d. Large delegations were present from Newberg and Dayton. The reports of the different departments showed that considerable work had been done throughout the county in all the lines of work which the W. C. T. U. has taken up.

Rev. Branch of Dayton was present throughout the convention. On his suggestion a petition was drafted to be forwarded from this convention to the president asking him to do all in his power to abolish the canteen from the army.

On Thursday evening a mass meeting was held at the M. E. church, which was largely attended by the citizens. Each of the several ministers gave a short address, so also did Prof. Barzee, of the college faculty.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: president, Mrs. R. H. Grover; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Warren Neal; recording secretary, Miss Delia Baxter; treasurer, Mrs. Alberta Terril.

The superintendents for the year were appointed as follows: systematic giving and Sabbath observance, Mrs. Barcia Mills, McMinnville; evangelistic, Mrs. Jane Votax, Newberg; mothers' meetings, Mrs. Latourette, McMinnville; Demorest medal contest, Mrs. A. M. Morris, Newberg; narcotics, Sue Wright; Amity; legislative and petition, Mrs. Heston, Newberg; peace and mercy, Mrs. Heacock, Newberg; flower mission, Maud Wills, Newberg; parlor meetings, Mrs. S. Tallman, Newberg; purity, and duty in literature and art, Mrs. Lumm, Dayton; scientific temperance instruction, Mrs. Webber, Dayton; literature, Jennie K. Groff, Newberg; L. T. L., Mrs. Alberta K. Terril.

The Opening of the College.

McMinnville college will open its doors for the year 1898-99 on Wednesday next, Sept. 14th. Full announcements of the work of the year have already been made in the annual catalogue and in the columns of the local papers. It need only to be said now that the prospects are exceedingly good for a large attendance of students and a very successful year. Many new students have been heard from who expect to spend the ensuing year in McMinnville college, and it is believed the old students almost without exception will return. The facilities to be offered this year are superior to those heretofore offered by the college in many respects. The teaching force is fuller than ever before, and the standard of qualifications is high. The new art department under the charge of no less distinguished a person than Mrs. Virginia Watson, of Portland, will present opportunities for study in these lines which will doubtless be improved by very many. The school of music will be under the exclusive charge of Miss Katherine Glen, whose success in this work in the college last year leaves no chance for doubt that the college's facilities in music this year will be unexcelled. The new normal course offers fine advantages to those having teaching in view. This work will be under control of Prof. Louis Barzee, who has a splendid record for successful work as a teacher and specialist in pedagogics. All the other departments are fully manned.

During the summer many improvements have been made in and about the main college building. Class rooms have been renovated and decorated; painting has been done within and without; and the building presents a neat, clean and attractive appearance.

Wednesday, the opening day, will be given to a public introductory service at 10 a. m. There will be an address, presentation of new members of the faculty, of whom there are several, announcement of work, etc. At two p. m. will be registration and classification of students. Regular class work will begin on Thursday. It is especially hoped that friends of the college will attend the public opening service on Wednesday morning. Come and give the new year a good "send off."

H. L. BOARDMAN,
President.

In Memoriam.

Dudley Orville Brown was born June 9th, 1877, died Aug. 29th, 1898, of typhoid fever, after a painful illness of nine days. He was the fourth son and the fifth child of James H. and Evalin Brown and was born and raised on the old homestead near Sheridan, where four brothers and three sisters survive him—Wilbur N., Minnie, Henry H., Frank Y., Althea, Bertha, and Lloyd L. Of a particularly bright, happy disposition, Dad endeared himself to all his associates and many are those who will miss his cheery greeting and kindly word, but left in the inspiration of a thoroughly pure, unselfish life. In the home remain sweet, beautiful memories of a brief, young life, full of goodness and helpfulness, and while the presence of a loved one is missed there is consolation in knowing he has gone to a higher, better life, where he awaits his own beloved.

I cannot say and I will not say
That he is dead—he is just away.
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since he lingers there.
And you, oh you—who the wildest year
For the oldtime step and glad return—
Think of him as faring on, as dear
In the love of theas the love of here.
Mild and gentle as he was brave
When the sweetest love of his life he gave
To simpler things, where the violets blue,
Pure as the eyes they were linked to,
The touches of his hand have stayed
As reverently as the lips have prayed:
When the little brown thrush that hardly chirped
Was dear to him as the mocking bird;
And he pined as much as a man in pain
A writhing honeybee wet with rain.
Think of him still the same, I say;
He is not dead—he is just away.
—JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.

MORE FACTS ABOUT THE PHILIPPINES.

In the island of Luzon there is a most fertile valley Cagayan, 200 miles long and 100 miles wide.

Their area is equal to the six New England states together with New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland.

Dairy farming has not been established in the islands, although there are great opportunities in that direction.

Manila, the capital of the islands, is one of the great marts of the far east, and the emporium of the archipelago's trade.

Hay is unknown, its place being taken by swamp grass upon which the buffalo cattle, the draft animals of the people, feed.

Plowing is done with a stick and nothing is known of agricultural labor-saving implements such as are used in this country.

The greater portion of the sugar produced in the islands is grown on Luzon; hemp is grown mainly on the other islands of the group.

More than 60 varieties of hardwood exist in the forests. The rarest are a green and yellow wood which are susceptible of a high polish.

They are the pickets of the Pacific, standing guard at the entrance to trade with China, Korea, French Indo-China, and the islands of Indonesia.

Luzon has two mountain ranges with peaks 7,000 feet in height, which are covered with the mightiest of forests, while the valleys and plains are wonderfully luxuriant.

HIGH WATER MARK.

When Jonathan E. Westerman was delivered to the authorities of the Oregon asylum for insane recently (having been brought up on commitment from Portland) his name entered upon the register there, made the eleven-hundred-and-fiftieth patient now in that immense institution, the highest number yet achieved in its history. The roster has reached within three, two and even one, of this big total on several occasions, but never before has this record been made; and it may be remarked in passing, that the resources of the building are sharply tested by the presence of this veritable regiment of insane wards.

The man who broke the record last night is an Englishman, 35 years of age, suffering from religious mania, and is very violent and destructive.—Statesman.

Spread the news, Sheridan is improving. The school board at a regular meeting held yesterday, resolved to fit up and furnish the extra room in the school building, hire an extra teacher and put in a full high school course. This is the most important step that has been taken for the well being of this city in many a day and it will bring forth fruit that will amply repay all expenses attached. Many a man who feels unable to send his children abroad will move into the city for the purpose of securing the advantages of a liberal education for his children and having them where they can be under the shelter of home. School will commence the first Monday in October. The fruit dryer of D. W. Ralston is rapidly nearing completion. By the middle of next week, or before any of this season's crop is ripe, it will be fully completed and ready to work.—Sheridan Sun.

Graduates of McMinnville college are eligible to examination for state teachers' diploma.
