FRIDAY, NOV. 4, 1898.

THIRTY-SEVEN governors, as many legislatures and a new house of representatives will be elected November 8th.

TEDDY ROOSEVELT, who wants to be governor of New York, is working harder than a galley slave. He is making from ten to fifteen speeches a day, and never sleeps in bed nights.

CIVILIZATION TROTS fast on the heels of American occupancy of Cuba. General Wood has just granted a franchise for an electric road from Santiago to the cemetery and to El Caney.

A movement is on foot to equip a relief expedition to go to the rescue of Lieutenant Peary, who is said to be ice bound in the Arctic regions. Why not let him freeze to death, and be a warning to others?

SPAIN has issued a "mourning stamp" to help pay off its enormous war debt. Every domestic letter must contain a "mourning stamp," in addition to the usual stamp. The mourning stamp costs one cent.

A LOT of young Americans will be needed in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines. They should be able to talk the Spanish language. Some of them are getting ready. It is said the state university will add a professor of Spanish to its faculty.

"MCKINLEY is a popular man in the best sense of the word. His popularity rests upon pure character and high capacity. He leads the people because he understands them and glories in being one of them."—Dallas Observer. Oregonian please copy.

LET us hope that this from the Evening Telegram is true prophecy: "So far as Salem is concerned, the Oregon state fair is a thing of the past. Never again will an Oregon legislature appropriate $5000, or any other sum, to enable some few dozens of Salemites to parade to the world as a 'fair' an assortment of freak pumpkins and crazy patchwork and 'pull off' a card of very ordinary horse races." It would be just a little more absurd, though, to appropriate public money for a state fair at Portland, as the Telegram proposes.

The expansion idea has spread so rapidly since the president came west that it is now beyond control. The democratic campaign managers have called their anti-expansion speakers in and are having them prepare new speeches to whoop it up for annexation all around. The republicans got the start on this issue, as their posters proclaiming "protection, sound money and expansion" will testify. But the democrats from this time on will claim a share and endeavor to neutralize whatever capital the republicans have made of it. Dr. Frank Gunsaulus, who has just returned from a lecture tour in Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri and other parts of the west, says that the people in those states will not listen to anything else. In order to hold their attention he was compelled to abandon his regular notes and talk about Dewey, Manila and the territorial acquisitions of the United States. He says the sentiment is so universal that in all his travels he has not found a man who is opposed to the annexation of the captured territory, and everybody will be disgusted if our government does not keep the whole Philippine archipelago. Other travelers make similar reports, and if the president himself would talk upon this subject, he would say that during his present journey he has found no difference of opinion. Since he left Washington he has not heard a single word against the retention of the Philippines. He is much impressed by this unanimity of sentiment, and the effect will be seen in the firmness of our peace commissioners in Paris.—Chicago Record.

Our bright little friend, the Youth's Companion, started in early to reform the popular spelling of a Spanish province, and still insists on "Puerto Rico." It will have to give in, especially since it has become American territory.

The Heavens in November.

The advance guard of the great November meteor swarm is due this month, and on the nights of the 13th, 14th and 15th astronomers in all parts of the earth will be awake and on the lookout. They will be both surprised and disappointed if a meteoric spectacle which may be a brilliant one, is not beheld by some of the watchers. The main swarm of the meteors is not due until November, 1899, but their advancing columns, broken into parallels and separated by considerable gaps, occupy so much space on the celestial highways they traverse that millions of the mysterious little bodies must already have reached the neighborhood of the earth's orbit, and it can hardly happen that many of these will not become entangled by the terrestrial attraction, and dart their fiery spears through the upper air.

The reader may like to be reminded that this, the greatest known "meteor shower," has a period of 33 1/2 years; that the history of these meteors has been traced back to the year A. D. 126, when the planet Uranus is believed to have captured the wanderers and turned them into a permanent orbit around the sun; that a comet (Tempel's) is known to be traveling in the same orbit with them, and that the world was astonished at the magnificence of the displays which they made in 1833 and 1866. At their return in 1866 changes had taken place in the array of the meteors, indicating a considerable scattering, and in November, 1867, enormous bodies of them were still rushing across the earth's orbit, and another splendid display occurred.

The point in the heavens from which the meteors appear to radiate is situated within the curved blade of the imaginary "sickle" which marks the constellation Leo. This is not well risen until midnight, but late in the evening meteors radiating from it may be seen shooting upward from the northeastern horizon. Observers are advised to begin watching for them about 11 p. m. on Nov. 11, keeping up the watch for five nights altogether and continuing it until the morning twilight begins. Fortunately there will be no trouble from the moon, which is "new" on the 13th.

The November meteors are very swift in movement, since the earth meets them "head on," and they frequently exhibit bright colors and leave brilliant trains.

The Harvard college offers to send maps and forms of record to all who will take part in systematic observation of the meteors.

If the expected display on the 13th or 14th does not equal expectation, another chance will be presented on the night of the 27th, when the celebrated Andromeda meteors are due. These are believed to be part of the debris of the vanished comet of Biela and they furnished dazzling spectacles in 1872 and 1885. Their period is thirteen years. During the shower of 1885 an iron meteor, supposed to belong to the Andromeda swarm, and subsequently famous under the name of "a piece of Biela's comet," fell at Mazapil in northern Mexico. Unlike the November 13th meteors, the Andromeda meteors are slow, because they overtake instead of meeting the earth. Their color is, frequently reddish. The full moon will interfere with the observation of these meteors, whose radiant point is overhead between 9 and 10 o'clock in the evening.—Scientific American.

It Is Fraud.

From the appearance of stacks of pails in front of grocery stores it is inferred that the Pacific northwest has secured its regular winter's supply of jellies and jams from Omaha, Nebraska. The Omaha manufacturers have long ago learned that strawberries are a wholly superfluous article in the manufacture of "strawberry jelly, finest quality." With a supply of glucose, dried apple cores and peelings and an assortment of artificial flavors, "pure" fruit jellies are easily turned out, and the ingredients of jams are of like simple character, grass seeds forming a good substitute in appearance for the seed of strawberries. The man who has to sell jellies and jams made of pure cane or beet sugar and the real fruit in competition with the fraudulent articles will come to grief financially even if he gets his berries and other fruits for two cents per pound. The sale of these fraudulent jellies and jams is a direct violation of Oregon's pure-food law, but so far as we are aware no effort has ever been made to enforce the law against their sale. Every man who sells them is liable to a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars, unless he sells them under the belief that they are pure and unadulterated, in which case he is liable only for the cost of analysis.—Oregon Agriculturist.

Miss Ada Woodard of Olympia is here for an extended visit with relatives and friends.

The imbecility of some men is always inviting the embrace of death. It is the delight of such men to boast of what "tough fellows" they are, and tell how they overwork themselves and how they neglect little disorders and little illnesses that put other people on their backs. It may not sound nice to say so, but it is a fact that the average man is just that kind of a boastful, cheerful idiot. If his head aches, it isn't worth paying any attention to; if he feels dull and drowsy during the day, it isn't worth serious consideration; if he is troubled with sleeplessness at night, he doses himself with opiates. When he suffers from nervousness, he walks into the nearest drug store and orders powerful medicines that even a physician prescribes with care. He is a very knowing fellow, but without knowing it, he is hugging death. There is a wonderful restorative tonic and health-builder that will keep the hardest working man in good working shape; it is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is made of pure native roots and barks. It contains no minerals, no narcotics and no opiates. It simply aids nature in the natural processes of secretion and excretion. It tones up the stomach and facilitates the flow of digestive juices. It makes a man "hungry as a horse," and then sees to it that the life-giving elements of the food he takes are assimilated into the blood. It invigorates the liver. It drives out all impurities and disease germs from the system. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It is the best of all nerve tonics. It cures bronchial, throat and lung affections as well.

"I had indigestion and a torpid liver," writes Mrs. L. Gibbs, of Russellville, Logan County, Ky. "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured me."

If constipation is also present, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be taken. They never fail; they never gripe. Druggists sell both medicines.
