Gopher Valley News.

Farmers are getting along nicely with their fall work.

Mrs. Cronin has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Dan Kirby.

Mr. Groves of Marion county occupies the farm recently vacated by Mr. J. Phillips.

Chas. Duval and wife are again in their home which they had not occupied for a year.

The Eborall brothers have finished drying prunes. They dried about 30,000 pounds this year.

Miss Flo Potter left last week to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. Fryer, at Sumpter, near Baker City.

The schools are doing good work with Miss Lambright at the upper and Mrs. Watts at the lower school.

Wm. Casey has improved some in health. He has been suffering from sciatic rheumatism for some time.

Mrs. W. T. Macy and children, with Miss Frances Taylor, visited with relatives last week, returning to the county seat Friday.

Wm. Eborall has finished moving his belongings from his brother's farm to his own farm in the big valley. Now is your chance, girls.

A few of John Thompson's friends surprised him on the evening of Nov. 2d, to help him celebrate his 19th birthday.

Mandolin and violin music, with games and dancing, furnished amusement for the evening. The guests were: Misses Olive Lambright, Mamie Casey, Frances Taylor, Lela, Pearl, Luella and Annie Agee, Lottie and Grace Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lough, Messrs. Lambright, Elbridge Duval, Marion Taylor, Chas. Agee and others. The supper served was considered about the best part of it. Altogether, it was a most enjoyable event.

College Notes.

Mr. Bailey and Miss Imus are new students this week.

At this writing Chaplain C. C. Bateman of the U. S. army, is expected to give a lecture Nov. 10th, on "What an army chaplain saw in Cuba." Chaplain Bateman has been at the front during the entire Cuban campaign. He is a lecturer of national reputation, and no one should miss this opportunity.

Following is the program for Philergian society on Nov. 13th: Music, society; Shakespearian reading, Mrs. Watson; recitation; Miss Palmer; reading, Mr. Wolf; song, male quartette; debate, question: Resolved, "That voting should be made compulsory;" affirmative, Mr. R. Thompson and Mr. Pilkington; negative, Mr. Darr and Mr. Dodson. Last Saturday society meeting was not held, but an oyster supper for the football team took its place.

From New Zealand.

REEFTON, New Zealand, Nov. 23, 1896.

I am very pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlain's medicines the sale has been very large, more especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than of all other makes for the previous five years. As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good results they have received from it, and know its value from the use of it in my own household. It is so pleasant to take that we have to place the bottle beyond the reach of the children. E. J. SCANTLEBURY.

For sale by S. Howorth & Co.

Cook School Notes.

The little folks are preparing a program for Thanksgiving.

Clifford Daniels of the 5th is improving from an attack of typhoid fever.

Written reviews are the main topics of the week. They seem somewhat better this month than they were last.

The 3d and 4th grades of our school defeated the corresponding grades of the Columbus school in a spelling match last Friday.

Director Irvine and wife, Mrs. Dee and Mrs. Grissen were visitors this week. All visitors are welcome.

We are going to have a new flag; the teachers have received a letter from the Youth's Companion stating that we can get a 12x7 1/2 foot flag for $6. We ask the patrons to help us out by giving the children 10 cents a piece in order to buy this flag.

Farm for Sale.

A good farm of 100 acres, well improved. One-half mile to graded school, one and three-fourths mile to town; 60 acres in wheat. A bargain. For particulars, call on or address W. L. WALKER, McCoy, Ore.

The Best Plaster.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on to the affected parts is superior to any plaster. When troubled with a pain in the neck or side, or a lame back, give it a trial. You are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. Pain Balm is also a certain cure for rheumatism. For sale by S. Howorth & Co.

Licenses to Marry.

Nov. 5—J. D. Laughlin, 38, and Mary Jones, 25, of North Yamhill.

Nov. 5—Walter F. Scott, 27, of Sheridan, and Lillie S. Maloney, 24, of McMinnville.

Nov. 7—John W. Cook, 43, and Lizzie Dicken, 24, of McMinnville.

A Sure Sign of Croup.

Hoarseness in a child that is subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Many mothers who have croupy children always keep this remedy at hand and find that it saves them much trouble and worry. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by S. Howorth & Co.

A Journalist's Opinion.

Wilbur Fisk Brock, promoter of circulation for the daily, weekly and Sunday Oregonian, was in the city a few days since. He is a western-bred reporter with a decided business turn, and expressed himself as highly pleased with the way the Oregonian is being handled in this city. He especially congratulated The Reporter on the large number of weekly subscribers secured through its clubbing arrangement. It was evidence to his mind that The Reporter reached the people.

"This plan seems to meet the approval of the people of Yamhill county," he observed, "and well it may, for it is in reason. It enables the people to get all they need in newspaper reading at a very low cost. What a family first wants is the news of its own community, city and county. Every man and woman likes to read about the things and people who are familiar. They can do that in The Reporter. The second demand of the household is for the news of the valley in general, the state, the nation and the world. The Oregonian satisfies this demand and it is the only paper which can do so. It has a correspondent in every town and county in Oregon to keep it informed of what goes on. Carefully it collects news from Washington state, Idaho and Montana through its local and special representatives in constant telegraphic touch with the Oregonian tower. Whenever a great event occurs in the northwest, or anywhere else, the Oregonian has a trained writer there to report it. It is self-evident that The Reporter and the Oregonian are a necessity for every family in Yamhill county. Indeed, they are an inexpensive luxury at $2.00 for the two. While eastern papers are not a necessity for the webfoot, they serve as a very pleasant luxury when he can afford them. But first the householder should read his leading local and state papers."

Mr. Brock will be remembered by Oregonian readers as the special correspondent of Portland's great daily at two important events in recent history—the world's Columbian exposition, and the 1897-8 rush to the Klondike.

A Letter From Will Ungerman.

We are getting along first-rate and having lots of fun. My health is fine; I never felt better in my life and I weigh more than I ever did before. Lots of the boys are anxious to get home, but I don't care if we stay here the two years, if my health keeps good. Frank Hayes and Joe Prentiss have been quite sick, but are alright now. We lost one boy in Cavite and one here in Manila: Ed. Young of Astoria and Dick Perry of North Yamhill. Soldier life is not so hard in barracks, as we don't do much. We drill one hour each day, except Saturdays and Sundays, and have dress parade twice each week in the evening. We don't have much cleaning up to do, as we make the prisoners do that, and we hire the natives to do our washing. We have a fine bath house and plenty of water, so all we have to do is to keep clean. We did go bathing in the bay for a while, until the jelly fish got too thick. They sting like a hornet, and you bet they make a man sick if two or three get on him.

Manila is not much of a place for beauty, as the streets are narrow and the buildings are ugly. The dwelling houses are different from those in the United States as they are built up to the street and cover the block with an open court in the center where there are all kinds of tropical flowers and trees, and most always a fountain, so you can imagine they are nice; the outside of the houses are not very pretty and all the windows have bars on them so that the Spaniards can't steal the pretty girls. In the evening the people all go out driving in carriages, as that is the only time to be out for driving, the day time it is too hot. They have the finest little horses and victorias here you ever saw. The horses are about the size of Shetland ponies, but are much stronger. The carriages are the swellest things out, and they look 'out of sight' with a native driver in livery. We boys get out in the evening and go out riding also. The driveways are lit up by arc lights. Only Spaniards and natives live in the walled city, or Manila proper, as the city outside the wall is divided into different smaller cities, each having a name, but all join together. The Europeans live in the part called San Miguel, which is across the river Pasig from Manila. There are street cars here; they are horse cars—two little horses on each car, with a native driver and conductor. The natives do all the work here; the Spanish and English do nothing at all. The stores and places are owned by them but they hire natives to run them. The ladies do not wear hats in this country as it is so warm. Each man has six or eight suits. The government gave us two white suits and helmets, and I have had two more made to order, as they are much better. We only wear our brown canvas suits to work in. You should see our regiment on dress parade in white suits and white helmets; it is a grand sight to witness. We always have dress parade in the evening when it is cool. The Spanish soldiers think we are alright, as we make a fine appearance in comparison to them. The New York Sun gave us a hard dig when they got out that story about us, as there is not one word of truth in it. Gen. Anderson said he would make it warm for the reporter who wrote it. The Oregon boys are the favorites of Gen. Merritt, and he has paid us some very high compliments. He placed a worthy trust in us when he gave us charge of Manila, at the time of the surrender; it was through his consent that we were allowed to be first in the walled city and to take charge of the surrender. The California regiment claims to have been the first in the city, but they were not.

I find many old friends in different regiments from all over the United States, and boys I knew in McMinnville and Portland.

Remember me to all my friends, WILLIE.
