Dr. G. S. Wright is out again this week, after two weeks' confinement at home with appendicitis. He is very weak, and says no one can imagine the severity of the pain attending that ailment. He expects to be ready for duty in his profession next week.

Rev. Oliver H. Murphy of Maryland, arrived in Corvallis last Monday. He is the new Episcopal rector for the parishes of McMinnville, Corvallis and Albany, and is spoken of as an able man. He will probably visit the McMinnville church next month.

The Index, "the fortnightly mouthpiece of the students of Pacific university" at Forest Grove, is at hand, with H. M. Ramsey of this city editor-in-chief. The editors call it a first-class publication entered as second-class matter at a third-class postoffice. It is a very neat publication.

A large number of goats have been dying mysteriously in Benton county of late. Wm. Merchant of Carlton writes to the Rural Northwest that he believes the cause is the eating of the berries of the chittem or bearberry tree. He had similar experience with his goats until he grubbed out the chittem from his land.

Miss Ida Pagenkopf, who is now teaching "High Heaven" school near this city, was recently elected a teacher in the fourth grade of the Pocatello, Idaho, public schools. She did not get the telegram in time to accept, however. Idaho's loss is Oregon's gain, as Miss Pagenkopf is regarded as one of our best teachers.

The committee on water and light from the city council recently advertised for bids for wood for the city waterworks, and restricted their advertising to the paper of the smallest circulation in the city. The consequence was very few wood dealers saw the notice or had a chance to bid, and are somewhat "on their ear." The contract was let to Mr. Cocurran, whose bid was 500 cords of small fir at $2, and 500 cords of old fir at $2.58.

Mrs. J. C. Cooper and daughter Nellie were taken severely ill with the grip on Saturday, and were kept bedfast for a number of days. Improvement is reported.

It is said that the grip comes back on its victims every week for six weeks. If you have it on Tuesday, you are liable to have a return of it every Tuesday for six weeks.

Miss Dortha Daniels is kept home from her school this week because of being unable to speak above a whisper. It wasn't caused by scolding the bad boys of the school, but is the result of a severe cold.

Mrs. Percy Willis of Salem and Miss McGriff of Portland will go to Manila on the Scandia which will leave San Francisco January 25th. Mrs. Willis goes to join her husband, Major Willis, and Miss McGriff goes to become the bride of Lieutenant Ralph Platt. No doubt the boys in Manila will arrange to give these Oregon women a rousing reception upon their arrival.

Maurice E. Bain, of the Oregon City Press, has on exhibition in his office some specimens of Clackamas county apples that were picked in October, 1897. The apples are perfectly sound and in good condition, except for a slight discoloration. They are of the Virginia Greening variety, and were grown by C. C. Williams of Mount Pleasant, who, Mr. Bain states, brought in about a peck. They are a good illustration of the keeping qualities of Oregon apples.

The tax levy made by the commissioners on Friday is 15 and 8-15th mills. This is an awkward fraction to use in figuring taxes, and the commissioners will probably reconsider and make a slight change, to make figuring easier—probably 15½ mills, which is only 2-15ths more. If this is made the levy, it will be only 1 and 1-6th mills more than the levy of last year. The state levy this year is 5.7 mills, which is 2-1-5 mills higher than last year.

The Musical Courier, a weekly journal published in New York city, has the following concerning our Prof. Henri Bettman from a correspondent at San Jose: "Among the recitals, the one that I attended and listened to with especial interest was the recital given by Ethel Holladay, violinist, and Sarah Holladay, pianist. Miss Ethel is a pupil of Henri Bettman, and if ever teacher could show satisfactory results, surely it was in this case. Bettman has proven himself a teacher of dignity and ability, and King is very fortunate in having his services in his large establishment."

Quarterly meeting of the Oregon Fire Relief Association was held last week Thursday. Trustees present were: D. C. Rose, Corvallis; Amos Nelson, Newberg; E. C. Apperson, H. Gee and J. H. Nelson, McMinnville; P. F. Wirfs, Dayton. The report showed a net gain during quarter in outstanding insurance of $405,633, and gain in annual premiums as basis for assessment of $5,127.59. The gain in number of risks was 1,033; average amount of insurance on each $452.53. Cash receipts were $6,423.09. Losses paid during quarter are as follows:

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Grange store was held last Friday. The store will continue under the efficient management of Mr. C. P. Nelson and his able corps of assistants. The former directors, Messrs. John Booth, M. Richardson and R. Nelson were re-elected. This store now carries a $15,000 stock, and did the largest business last year of any during its 15 years' existence.

While on her way to church Sunday evening, Mrs. Susan Grubbs was stricken with paralysis. Fortunately she was walking with her daughter, Mrs. F. S. Harding, and husband, when the stroke came, and she was sustained from falling. She was taken at once to her daughter's home, and a physician summoned. The paralysis was found to affect one side of the body, and for a time the ability to talk and to swallow was lost, but has since been regained to some extent. Mrs. Grubbs is an intelligent and excellent old lady, who has attained the age of 86 years, and whose many friends will be saddened if it shall be her lot to suffer a lingering season of helplessness.

The estate of the late E. N. Ford amounts to over $17,000.

Regular services will be held at the Cumb. Presbyterian church next Sunday. The subjects will be, "The Father's Business" at 11 a. m., and "A Mind to Work" at 7:30 p. m. A welcome for all.

One of John Crawford's barns was destroyed by fire Sunday night near Dayton. About 30 tons of hay were consumed, which with the building made a total loss of about $500. The fire was probably set by some hobo.

Ed Hoskins writes from Manila that they may have some fighting to do with Aquinaldo, but it will be short. He says Allie Williams has burnside that capture the eye of the Spanish maidens. Ed says he may bring a pet monkey home with him.

The sermons to be preached by the pastor of the Methodist church Sunday next will be especially interesting to all who are inclined to doubt the reality and sufficiency of the Christian religion. Subjects, at 11 a. m., "Deal Kindly with the Burden Bearers;" text Deut. 25:4; at 7:30 p. m., "Should Every Man Interpret the Bible for Himself?" text John 7:17.

Judge Bird was very pleasantly surprised the other day by several of his friends, the county officials, and Mr. Grissen, appearing in his office in a body and presenting him with a beautiful fountain pen. Mr. Grissen was spokesman, and in his usual affable and pleasant manner made the judge feel as light as a feather; if he does tip the scale at over two hundred.
