The soldier boys at Manila write that the Christmas boxes sent them by loving friends reached them the day before Christmas. They were started from here on Nov. 17th. The apples arrived in fair condition, only about 8 out of 20 being spoiled. Their Christmas was rendered very enjoyable by these presents, which is a source of great satisfaction to the folks at home. The announcement was made in a late letter that Prenties of McMinnville and Stimpson of Amity were in the hospital with the mumps.

The February freeze-up and snow has not been without its enjoyment. Many have availed themselves of a pleasurable skate on the reservoir above the Star mills. The opportunity to coast afforded by the creek bank just above the railroad bridge has been extensively utilized, and was attended by some peculiar experiences. Atta Gibson descended the hill with such momentum one evening that her sled could not be stopped before jumping into the cold and swift-flowing water of Cozine creek. For a moment the young girl was so dazed she scarcely knew what had happened. Another girl, who started down the hill on the same sled, saw the approaching danger and fell off. Seeing the predicament of her mate, she cried "Help, help, I can't swim!" This brought Fred Thompson to the rescue, and with undaunted heroism he sprang into the water, and soon restored the young girl to a solid footing upon the bank. Of course this ended the evening's enjoyment for them. Another young man in going down the hill struck off in by and unused paths and encountered a furrow so wide and deep that he was raised three feet into space, and as he and his sled came together again a concussion in the region of the lumbar vertebrae has left him with a crick in his back ever since. The livery stables and Mr. Stow's truck company got out their cutters and bobsleds and harvested a few dollars on the strength of the snow. A party of fourteen crowded into a bobsled Sunday night and were out three or four hours. It was a regular duty for each member to stand up every few minutes to get stretched out and keep from freezing. A merry party of sixteen from the college took a similar ride on Monday night. A couple of sleighing parties came to town Monday evening and a race ensued as they passed down Third street about ten o'clock. One driver had four in hand and the other two, and for a time only the high places were hit by the sleds. The four-horse team led the race.

Mrs. Daniel Simons of Sodaville, who died on the first day of the present month at the age of 107 years, was doubtless the oldest woman in Oregon. Mrs. Simons was one of Oregon's earliest pioneer women. She lived to see five generations grow up, and would have lived in three centuries had she survived two years longer. She was respected and revered by all who knew her. Her burial took place at Lebanon on Friday.

Ladies who attended the lecture at Wright's hall Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Lucy E. Hitchcock of Portland, under the auspices of the Viavi company, expressed themselves as being deeply interested in the subject of health, as presented by the lecturer. The earnest appeals for a sounder womanhood and for the wholesomeness and purity of life and home touched every heart. Mrs. Hitchcock will close this series Friday afternoon. Ladies interested in health should not fail to attend. Subject: "Is Perfect Health Possible."

The local committees to make arrangements for the department encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic and kindred organizations that are to meet here June 20th, are getting to work. Custer post has appointed five members, the Woman's Relief Corps five, and Mayor McPhillips five. These will be a general committee of arrangement. The post appointed Geo. W. Grannis, J. C. Cooper, H. S. Maloney, R. P. Bird and Geo. A. Prentiss. The committees met last Saturday at Wright's hall and organized by electing G. W. Grannis president, and H. S. Maloney, secretary. They will meet again on the 18th and appoint sub-committees.

One of the measures of a personal nature in the Oregon legislature is the bill for the relief of Miss Iva Templeton of Halsey. The history of the case is that on July 11th, 1890, when returning from a blackberrying trip with a party, Miss Templeton drove on a county bridge, on a county road in Linn county, which broke down, dashing two horses, wagon, bridge timbers and herself over thirty feet into the Calapooia river, which was then four or five feet deep, striking among rocks, splintering the wagon, killing one horse and crippling the other. Friends were summoned and the nearest doctor, fifteen miles away, was sent for. She was carried to a cabin near by where it was found she was dreadfully bruised and mangled. Her nose was fractured, top of head hurt, lip cut open half an inch, two front teeth knocked out splintering the jaw bone, right arm was broken and both bones of the elbow dislocated, wrist crushed, right thigh severely bruised, left thigh broken, forcing the bone through the flesh and clothing. Her spine was permanently injured, which has left her a cripple for life. A relief bill was passed by the legislature in 1895, but it was vetoed by Gov. Lord. At the time of the accident the law prohibited counties from paying damages, and this was made a test case and carried to the supreme court. Since then the law has been amended but it does not cover this case, and the only recourse for relief is by legislative action. A petition asking the legislature to pass the bill was signed by 1250 taxpayers of Linn county.

To Compound Prescriptions
Properly it takes time. It requires experience and a complete knowledge of drugs. It requires the druggist to have on hand a large variety of drugs—fresh drugs. He must give the best possible work, and for compensation he must be reasonable. With the above facts remember we are careful and strive to please one and all alike. These are reasons why our prescription file thrives all in this county. We are recognized by doctor and customer alike for being accurate and dispensing only the purest drugs.
ROGERS BROS.' Pioneer Pharmacists.

"Any Old Thing"
Suits some people, because it's cheap, while as a matter of fact, dirt cheap goods are usually dear at any cost, especially in our line of trade. We keep some cheap goods in order to please those who must have them, but we constantly preach as a business principle the wisdom of buying a good article tho it cost a trifle more. It's a saving in the long run of money and temper. Hence the quality of our goods, and the pleasant countenances of our customers.

The Store that Advertises
Is the Store that is known, and the Store that is known is the Store that trade goes to, and the Store that trade goes to is the Store that does the business, and the Store that does the business is the Store that can't afford to cheat.
Hence, when we tell you that we never misrepresent our groceries, it is not alone because we do not believe in lying, but we can't afford to. We are told, and are thus given a right to reiterate it, that the customer who steadily buys his groceries of us, comes out ahead of the fellow who buys of our competitors.
This is Our Supreme Aim:
A legitimate profit to us, a satisfied customer when he leaves our store. Suppose you try W. & W.'s store long enough in 1899 that we may make you a customer far into the 20th century.
Respectfully,
Wallace & Walker.
