To Compound Prescriptions

Properly it takes time. It requires experience and a complete knowledge of drugs. It requires the druggist to have on hand a large variety of drugs—fresh drugs. He must give the best possible work, and for compensation he must be reasonable. With the above facts remember we are careful and strive to please one and all alike. These are reasons why our prescription file thrives all in this county. We are recognized by doctor and customer alike for being accurate and dispensing only the purest drugs.

ROGERS BROS.' Pioneer Pharmacists.

LAFAYETTE.

Mrs. Boone and daughter, Miss Maggie, did business in Portland Tuesday.

Sam Doney, who has been sick for the last three weeks, is able to be around again.

The infant child of Mr. Joe Malott is very sick with what is thought to be spinal meningitis.

Bird Bros. are selling out their stock of dry goods, and intend keeping only groceries and hardware.

Lou Shirer, who is working with the S. P. bridge carpenters, spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents.

Alfred Wheelock cut his foot quite badly with an ax Saturday. It will be a couple of weeks before he can use it.

NEWBERG.

N. E. Britt was home for a few days this week.

Mrs. H. D. Fox visited in Portland some days of last week.

Geo. C. Sears of Portland is up on his farm seeing to the spring work.

On Friday last Mrs. C. E. Smith returned from a week's visit in Albany.

Plans for a new Methodist church have been submitted and work will begin soon. The cost will be $1200.

The lecture given at Friends' church by Rev. W. H. Kellogg of Portland was well attended and enjoyed by everyone present.

The "hard cider" man must be reaping a harvest, from the number of drunken men seen about town the last two weeks. Wonder if it is hard cider?

The arrangements for a merchant's carnival under the management of the M. E. Ladies' aid society, are on the way, and promise to be a drawing card in the way of entertainment.

On Sunday last quarterly meeting at the Methodist church was conducted by Rev. D. A. Watters, presiding elder, and the attendance was much greater than the church could hold, showing the need of a new one.

WHITESON.

Mark Holmes is transacting business in Salem this week.

Miss Lulu Anderson of Sheridan made friends a short visit Tuesday.

Prof. J. M. Garrison of Forest Grove was a pleasant visitor in Whiteson last Sunday.

Dick Campbell went to Cornelius last Saturday to attend his grandfather, who is quite ill.

A letter containing fifty sheets of writing paper was mailed recently at the Whiteson postoffice.

A number of our citizens was in McMinnville Saturday afternoon, returning on the night express.

Mrs. George Adams of Sherwood is with her daughter, Mrs. Sam Cunningham, during her illness.

H. H. Campbell and family have moved to Whiteson. Mr. Campbell is still in very poor health.

One evening last week while Dr. Goucher was attending Mrs. S. Cunningham, his horse became frightened and ran away, entirely demolishing the buggy.

The doors of Hotel Whiteson are closed for the present on account of the illness of the proprietor. It makes it very inconvenient for the bridge carpenters who have to go to McMinnville for their meals.

THE SCHOOLS.

COOK BUILDING.

Several new pupils are reported this week.

Miss Tressa McPhillips has entered the 5th grade.

The 7th and 8th grades have finished mental arithmetic and have taken up physiology instead.

Miss Frances Mann has been having a tussle with sickness, but she has been at her desk most of the time.

There has been more sickness in our school this winter than in any year of which the writer can remember.

Prof. Garrison organized a writing class in the other building last Friday evening, but owing to some misunderstanding, he was compelled to remove to this building. His lessons are ones of practice, and parents should allow their children to come out.

THE COLLEGE.

Our visitors at assembly on Monday were Prof. Garrison, Mesdames Linn, Boardman and Cull, Mrs. Linn favoring us with a solo.

Miss Mollie Patty was a visitor at assembly on Tuesday.

Prof. Barzee has the la grippe this week.

Messrs. C. Grover, F. Thompson and R. Venson spent Saturday and Sunday in Salem.

This evening in the chapel the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. will give a "Glimpse of the Seaside." Following this will be an oyster supper in Philering hall. Supper 15c. Everyone come.

NORTH YAMHILL.

We notice A. M. Dee in our city rustling those who are delinquent on their taxes.

Mrs. Cass Riggs of Polk county visited with her brother, H. F. Bedwell, the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Frazer of Independence visited over Sunday with the family of J. M. Bunn, parents of Mrs. F.

The mask ball at this place on the 22d was well attended, there being about 35 maskers. Miss Dotha Daniels of McMinnville took the 1st prize.

Rev. F. A. Powell of McMinnville is holding a series of meetings here, and there seems to be quite an interest taken in them. At this writing there have been 5 or 6 conversions.

I notice the Transcript reports the goat show at Carlton as being quite a success, when, in fact, Carlton had no goat show, but North Yamhill did, and it was quite a success, A. Blackburn's band taking the most of the prizes.

Married at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Bedwell, Miss Maud E. Reed to Mr. J. F. Bunn, Sunday evening, Feb. 26th, at 8 o'clock p. m., in the presence of about 135 invited guests. Rev. J. A. Campbell officiated. After the ceremony all partook of a sumptuous supper prepared for the occasion. Miss Edna Bunn acted as bridesmaid and Mr. F. L. Trullinger best man. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents. They have moved into the Morgan house where they are to make their future home.

REX.

Wedding Bells.

A very pleasant event occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Clark of this city, on Wednesday evening, February 22d, when in the presence of about 35 guests, their youngest daughter, Claudine, was given in marriage to J. H. Mellinger, also of this city. Rev. K. H. Sickafosse officiating. The bride was attired in a tailor suit of cadet blue. The groom was neatly and appropriately dressed. Miss Ora Mellinger as bridesmaid, looked as bewitchingly sweet as usual. W. E. Gabriel filled the place as best man, and looked as though he was glad that he was there. After the ceremony the guests enjoyed a few selections of music, and then repaired to the dining room, where a bounteous dinner was served. Many useful presents were accepted from their many friends. The very pleasant evening ended with congratulations and a much enjoyed serenade by their many gentlemen friends of Dayton.—Herald.

Miss Clark formerly resided with her parents in this city.

ATTENTION, PIANO BUYERS! We are fully cognizant of the fact that owing to the prevailing competition in the Piano trade in this city, that in order for us to get business and make fair we must do a "little better than the other fellow." We certainly have the largest and best line of Pianos—Fischer, Hardman, Chickering, Ludwig, etc. We court an investigation as to our prices. (Easy monthly payments).

HOW THE WILEY B. ALLEN CO. SOLD A "LUDWIG" TO THE MAN WHO DID NOT BELIEVE IN ADVERTISING (IN TWENTY SCENES)

1 The first time he sees a "Ludwig" advertisement, he doesn't see it.

2 The second time he sees it, but thinks he doesn't see it, and won't even look at it.

3 The third time he becomes conscious of its existence, and it leaves a faint impression on his mind.

4 The fourth time it occurs to him that he has seen the "Ludwig" advertisement before.

5 The fifth time he reads the "Ludwig" advertisement all through and thinks, "Oh, boy!"

6 The sixth time he sees it again, and turns up his nose at it.

7 The seventh time he reads it through again, and wonders why he should be tantalized by having it stuck under his nose all the time.

8 The eighth time he says, "There's nothing in it," and wishes the whole thing was in purgatory.

9 The ninth time he catches sight of it again, and he wonders "if the 'Ludwig' amounts to anything."

10 The tenth time he sees it he admires the pluck of the firm, whoever it is, that can so persistently keep on advertising.

11 The eleventh time he sees it he wonders how in thunder any firm can afford to advertise so much during these hard times.

12 The twelfth time he sees it he thinks, "Well, 'gosh!' there must be something pretty good about that 'Ludwig' piano."

13 The thirteenth time he is suddenly struck with the idea that the "Ludwig" is the best piano on earth.

14 The fourteenth time he remembers that his daughter has been wanting him to buy a piano for a long time.

15 The fifteenth time he thinks perhaps it would be a good idea for him to buy a "Ludwig" some day.

16 The sixteenth time he reads it all through again, and makes note of the agent's address, "The Wiley B. Allen Co., 211 First Street."

17 The seventeenth time he looks at it again, and feels wretched; he would like to buy a "Ludwig," but can't raise the money these hard times.

18 The eighteenth time he absolutely curses his ill luck for being so hard up that he cannot give his daughter one of those celebrated "Ludwig" pianos.

19 The nineteenth time he discovers that he can buy on $10 monthly payments, figures on standing off his grocery bill, and henceforth have music in his house.

20 The twentieth time he informs his daughter that he has bought the best piano in the world—the "Ludwig." He makes her happy, and the old coddler himself is tickled when he thinks what a bargain he got at The Wiley B. Allen Co.'s Music Store, 211 First Street.
