THE LAST LEGISLATIVE DAY

AT THE CLOSE OF CONGRESS

Important Bills Disposed of Some Before the Adjournment of the Fifty-Fifth Congress.

Washington, March 6.-Excitement confusion, heavy strain and hard work characterized the last legislative day of the 55th congress, in the senate. At times the confusion was so great in this usually staid and decorous body as to render the transaction of business almost impossible. Toward midnight order was being evolved from the seeming chaos of the early part of the day.

When the senate convened at 11 o'clock it faced the task of considering two of the great appropriation bills, those for the army and for supplying the general deficiencies. The former carried appropriations exceeding $80,-000,000, and the latter $20,000,000. With a determination to complete the appropriation bills, the senate began immediately at 11 o'clock in the morning to consider these matters, and at 8 o'clock at night the army bill was passed, the deficiency bill having been passed nearly three hours before.

Other bills were passed as follows: To incorporate the National White Cross of America; amending the internal revenue laws relating to distilled spirits and for other purposes; providing a site for the Washington public library building.

A bill providing for a government exhibit at, and to encourage the Ohio centennial exposition, to be held at Toledo, and appropriating $300,000, was passed.
