GALLANT OREGON VOLUNTEERS.

How They Forced the Battle Before Malabon Last Sunday.

A special cable to the New York Sun under date of March 26th says: The Oregon regiment advanced almost to the confines of the town of Malabon today, thus receiving the heaviest fire of any of the United States troops who were engaged. The natives fought like demons, at times actually leaving their trenches and with reckless bravery charging the Oregon regiment. It was only by the most magnificent fighting on the part of the latter and their utter disregard for incessant volleys of Aguinaldo's followers, that they were able to hold their ground. In this engagement they lost eight killed and 23 wounded. The position of the Oregon men was still a most trying one when they were reinforced by a battalion of the Third infantry, under command of Captain Cook. With the arrival of reinforcements the assault was renewed with spirit, and the enemy was soon compelled to yield. The Filipinos retreated upon Malabon helter-skelter, the Americans pursuing them clear into the streets of the town and inflicting great loss. The insurgent loss is to be reckoned into the hundreds, but of this no accurate estimate can now be made. The Oregon regiment and the Third artillery suffered the heaviest loss on the American side, the latter being particularly exposed in storming a strong earth fort which they carried at the point of the bayonet.

NORTH YAMHILL.

Miss Martin has opened a millinery store at this place with Mrs. Della Rhude as saleslady. Quite a number of our people were doing business in the county seat this week, the most of them "courting." James Mesner is now one of the regular drivers on the Tillamook stage route, and he is a good one, as all who ride with him will testify. Mr. Fred Florey of Florey's station was in our city Friday. Uncle Fred has just succeeded in knocking out a bad attack of the grip. Chas. Smith will begin cutting lumber at his mill this week. He has made arrangements to place a large amount of first-class lumber in McMinnville for sale in a short time. Mrs. J. C. McKern left Monday for a week's visit with her mother at Turner. During her absence J. C. will play with the kettles and frying pans the same as any other old batch. G. W. Perkins returned from London where he went some six weeks ago to sell his hops. He succeeded in making a sale of the hops, but we were not informed as to the price obtained. Porter Castle, one of Dewey's heroes, was in the city Monday, shaking hands with old friends. Porter is the same old boy as of old, and he says, as do all our brave boys, "Dewey is all right." Scott Bremmer of this place had a nannie goat that sheared eight pounds of mohair. From his ten head, all nannies, he got 50 pounds. This is the best we have heard of in this neck of the woods, and if any one can beat it we will like to hear from them. A called meeting of the voters of this place, the following ticket was nominated for city officers: Councilmen—T. M. Laughlin, J. M. Bunn, Phil Withcombe, Theo P. Johnson and Mr. Wilsey; recorder, H. C. Gist; marshal, J. L. Simmons; treasurer, J. C. McKern. This ticket we think is a good one.

The Store that Advertises

Is the Store that is known, and the Store that is known is the Store that trade goes to, and the Store that trade goes to is the Store that does the business, and the Store that does the business is the Store that can't afford to cheat.

Hence, when we tell you that we never misrepresent our groceries, it is not alone because we do not believe in lying, but we can't afford to. We are told, and are thus given a right to reiterate it, that the customer who steadily buys his groceries of us, comes out ahead of the fellow who buys of our competitors.

This is Our Supreme Aim:

A legitimate profit to us, a satisfied customer when he leaves our store. Suppose you try W. & W.'s store long enough in 1899 that we may make you a customer far into the 20th century.

Respectfully,

Wallace & Walker.

OUR HEADACHE CAPSULES

Remove the cause and cure any kind of a headache in five to twenty minutes. We make them and warrant their ingredients to be harmless and pure. We wonder if the makers of other kinds can say this. You had better buy our's and be sure. Relief is certain. 25c a box.
