

Yamhill County Reporter

D. I. ASBURY, Publisher.

McMINNVILLE, OREGON

THE NEWS OF THE WEEK

Comprehensive Review of the Important Happenings of the Past Week Culled From the Telegraph Columns.

Colonel Summers, of the Second Oregon, has been promoted to brevet brigadier-general of volunteers, and Captain Case to be major by brevet.

Queen Victoria's 80th birthday was celebrated throughout the British empire. Festivities were also held in the leading capitals of America and Europe.

The coroner's jury investigating the train wreck at Exeter, on the Reading railroad, found that the accident was due to the negligence of employees of the company.

The Duke of Arcos, Spanish minister to the United States, and the duchess, were among the passengers on board the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, sailing from Southampton.

The naval orders posted at Washington, assign Captain J. B. Coghlan to duty as commandant of the Puget sound naval station, June 30, by which time the Raleigh will be out of commission.

At Griffin, Ga., the flogging of four colored operatives of the Kincaid mills, by whites, has led to sensational developments. The mayor has called out the militia to protect the negroes.

At Copenhagen, while some men were engaged in filling shells at a military laboratory, some of them exploded, killing several men and severely injuring a noncommissioned officer and two workmen. The laboratory was destroyed.

Rain and hail has done much damage to the crops and property in Central Kansas. In Saline county, wheat and other crops for miles were completely destroyed, many buildings were damaged and thousands of window lights were broken. Some cattle and many chickens and birds were killed.

John Burkholder, of Martindale, and L. W. Frank Hower, of Terre Hill, Pa., have been arrested on the charge of counterfeiting labels of the Cigarettes International Union. It is alleged they have been engaged extensively in this business for years, and supplied a large number of factories.

James Neill Gresham, a young man from La Grande, shot himself through the heart while in his room at the Hotel Perkins, Portland. He was a nephew of the late General Walter Q. Gresham, Cleveland's secretary of state, and a nephew of ex-Governor Taylor, of Tennessee. The young man was in the custody of an officer, and could not face disgrace.

Japan has occupied Marcus island in the Pacific.

A Philadelphia company is building a bridge for shipment to Japan.

The Missouri legislature has adjourned after a session of 138 days.

In a skirmish with the rebels near Mariquina, two Americans were killed.

Admiral Dewey was given a tremendous ovation by the Britishers on his arrival at Hong Kong.

The Washington state law requiring railroads to accept grain for shipment over competing roads has been declared invalid.

In the Sahara desert Frenchmen were attacked by Arabs. The tribesmen were repulsed, and lost 10 killed, without any loss to the French.

Charles W. Whitney and Frank Whitney, brothers, were drowned at Palouse rapids, about three miles below Grange, Wash., by the capsizing of their canoe.

Miss Hilton, of Aurora, Or., was dragged from her horse by a maniac, Solomon Bachart, her assailant, attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself.

Rostario, a Filipino congressman, wealthy resident of Manila, and formerly Aguinaldo's commissary-general, accompanied by an insurgent captain has surrendered to General Otis.

The war department is not going to spare any pains in making the return voyage of the volunteers pleasant and comfortable, and the trip across the Pacific will be made in style.

Receipts of wool of the 1899 clip at Pendleton have been to date 250,000 pounds. Some wool is selling, and the prices range 2 cents under the figures of last year. The quality of the crop is below last year's standard.

A confession of Claude Branton, recently hanged at Eugene, Or., has been made public in which he admits firing the shot that killed Linn. The confession was left to a minister to be published ten days after the hanging.

The Oregon state grange, Patrons of Husbandry, convened in its 26th annual session at Portland. Reports show advancement all along the line. The membership is growing fast, and more than usual interest is being shown by farmers.

Minor News Items.

Queen Victoria has seen every throne in the world vacated at least once and some of them several times.

Governor Roosevelt, of New York, in denying a pardon to a wife beater, has declared himself in favor of the whipping post.

The military order of the Loyal Legion of the United States held its annual election in New York and Rear Admiral Winfield S. Schley, United States navy, was chosen commander.

LATER NEWS.

The run of salmon in the lower Columbia is increasing.

The total number of plague cases reported at Alexandria is eight. Two have died and two recovered.

A Paris dispatch says Dreyfus will certainly be acquitted at his second trial. All his accusers are dead, or have fled the country.

Secretary Alger will control the granting of franchises in Porto Rico, subject to a nominal revisionary authority of the president, which will not necessarily be exercised.

Two score scientists of note, constituting the Harriman exploring expedition to Alaska, have arrived in Portland. They will embark from Seattle on the steamer Elder.

Baron von Munchausen's Spermobroder won the race for the grand prize of Hamburg, valued at 100,000 marks. The baron married Miss Nettie Crosby, of Chicago, some years ago.

President McKinley has issued the long-expected amendment to the civil service rules which he has had under consideration for about a year. It releases from the operations of civil service rules about 4,000 offices.

An order has been issued at Manila re-establishing the Philippine courts, which have been closed since the American occupation. It revives all the Spanish system not conflicting with the sovereignty of the United States.

Secretary Alger has received a cablegram from General Otis in response to his inquiry, announcing that a majority of the Oregon regiment of volunteers at Manila have decided to return by steamer directly to Portland. The Washington regiment decided to come first to San Francisco.

Within one week the states of Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Northern Illinois have experienced seven of the most violent storms known in years, resulting in the loss of nearly a dozen lives and doing damage to property and crops that will run into the hundreds of thousands.

The steamer China, from Hong Kong and Yokohama, via Honolulu, brings news to San Francisco of the murder of an American soldier named George Ryan, near Malolos. His frightfully mutilated body was found on April 17. The body was lashed to a raft floating in the river, the skull crushed and both arms had been cut off at the elbows.

Rosa Bonheur, the famous animal painter, is dead at London, England.

The North Atlantic squadron will make Newport, R. I., its summer quarters.

Cuban soldiers at Havana refused on the first day to accept the $75 allotted them by the United States to surrender their arms.

From Hardeeville, S. C., is reported the burning to death of Jacob Solomon, his wife and seven children, in an accidental fire which destroyed their house.

Particulars received regarding the famine in Russia confirm the previous harrowing accounts. Some authorities estimate that as many as 20,000,000 peasants are starving.

The Spanish troops have withdrawn from Zamboanga after a battle with the insurgents. The insurgent loss was severe. The Spanish loss was nine killed and 27 wounded.

Harry and John Anderson, brothers, went out sailing on Young's bay, near Astoria, Or., in a small boat, and were drowned by the capsizing of the boat when they were less than 50 yards from shore.

Howard R. Kretz, a young man about 22 years of age, an art student of the Academy of Design of New York, made a startling and successful jump from the Brooklyn bridge, and came out of the river uninjured.

An Oakland, (Cal.), miner, who has just returned from Copper river, Alaska, says that he knows of 80 prospectors in that section who are missing. If not already dead they will die in an effort to reach civilization. Most of them went out in small parties, with only provisions enough to last them a few months. Rescue parties have been unable to get trace of them.

The London Times in an editorial dealing with this prospect that the result of the peace conference will be a permanent arbitration tribunal says: "No government or people have devoted themselves with greater ardor to the study of the theory of arbitration than the government and people of the United States. The Americans not only possess great lawyers, but are a community in which knowledge of legal principles is more widespread than in any other."

A Manila dispatch says the approach of the wet season finds the insurrection seemingly taking a new lease of life. All along the American lines the rebels are showing more aggressive activity in their guerrilla style than at any time before or since the fall of Malolos. They keep the United States troops in the trenches, sleeping in their clothing, and constantly on the alert against dashes on our outposts, and then make life warm for the American garrisons in the towns.

The government has decided to establish a military post at Pyramid harbor in Alaska. This harbor is on Chilkat inlet, near Chilkat village.

Commissioner General Peck has secured 8,000 additional feet of space at the Paris exposition, to be devoted to the display of American bicycles.

The National Afro-American council has issued a proclamation calling upon the colored people of the United States to set apart Friday, June 2, as a day of fasting and prayer.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN SEATTLE

Collision Between Passenger Train and Electric Car.

ONE PASSENGER WAS KILLED

Eighteen Were Injured. Several of Them Severely—The Victims Were Thrown Into the Bay.

Seattle, May 31.—A collision occurred this morning near the Washington iron works between a Grant-street electric car, containing, as near as can be learned, 25 people, and the local Olympia Northern Pacific passenger train.

One man was killed, Emanuel Broad, aged 35, a laborer, of South Seattle. He died while being taken to the hospital. Eighteen were injured.

The electric car was just coming into the city and the train was just starting out for Olympia. They met nearly head-on at the intersection of the two tracks. The passengers of the electric car were nearly all thrown into the bay where the water was nearly 15 feet deep. It is a wonder that no one was drowned during the panic that followed the collision. So far as known every one is accounted for.

When Motorman Sharpe saw the train approaching, he applied the brake with all his power, but the track was slippery and his car crashed into the locomotive. The passengers made frantic efforts to get off the car. The motorman and conductor succeeded in jumping off the platform, but an instant later the engine crashed into the street car, and nearly all the people were thrown into the water below, including the man who was fatally injured. Although he succeeded in getting off the car, he did not succeed in getting out of the way, and when the engine hit the car he was struck by it and knocked into the water. Without a moment's hesitation, although terribly injured internally, he promptly grabbed a pile and held it. Seeing that another passenger on the train was about to sink, the injured man grabbed him with his free hand and held him until a rope could be let down and both of them hauled up.

As quickly as possible the train was stopped and the train crew, assisted by employees of the Washington iron works, made heroic efforts to get the frightened passengers out of the water. With ropes and boards everyone was quickly taken out. Some were found clinging to piles, some were struggling and swimming about, and others were crawling up the piles and timbers.

Everything was in the direst confusion. The wrecked electric car lay on its side, almost at right angles with the rails, while the passenger train was some 50 feet distant from where the electric car lay. The locomotive headlight was broken, and the cowcatcher badly deranged, while the whole front end was covered with broken glass and debris from the electric car.

Railroads in Alaska.

Tacoma, May 31.—J. E. Gurling, president of the Alaska-Yukon Transportation Company, has arrived from London and will go North to look after that company's interests. With him are Engineer Blair, of London, and Mr. Hubbard, of Chicago, the company's attorney. Gurling proposes to save 700 miles of water transportation between St. Michaels and Nulato by building 75 miles of railroad from a point on Norton sound, near the mouth of the Unalakli, to the Yukon river, about 45 miles from Nulato. Part of the route lies within the 100-mile military reservation around St. Michaels, and right of way must be obtained from congress.

Carried Off Gold Nuggets.

Oakland, Cal., May 31.—During the progress of a fire which partly destroyed the residence of William C. Price, in East Oakland, thieves entered and looted the building. Among other things they carried off a case filled with gold nuggets and other valuable mineral specimens. After the fire small nuggets worth about $10 were picked up on the lawn. The value of the missing specimens is nearly $3,000.

Ballstones for Refrigerators.

Hastings, Neb., May 30.—A terrific hail storm struck this city at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, and continued 15 minutes, during which time over 2,000 pounds of glass were broken, fruit and grain destroyed, chickens and birds killed and injured and several persons hurt.

Fire and Brimstone.

Algiers, May 31.—The French steamer Alosia, from Marseilles for Palermo and New Orleans, with 233 passengers on board, arrived here with her cargo of sulphur on fire. The cook of the vessel was asphyxiated and several passengers were burned.

The Missouri house has adopted the senate amendments to the state department-store bill and passed the bill as amended. The bill levies a license tax of from $300 to $500 on firms carrying more than one of 73 classes of goods, as classified in the bill. The bill applies to firms in St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph. It goes to the governor for his signature.

The Hague, May 31.—The drafting committee, or subcommittee of the arbitration committee, met today and discussed the Russian scheme, adopting, with slight modifications, the first six articles.

A Washington dispatch says it can be announced, semi-officially, that the Canadian government will receive a rebuke from England in regard to the Alaskan boundary controversy, and that then the whole thing will be settled by arbitration.

BANKRUPTCY OF SPAIN.

The Will Apologetically Repudiated Interest on Cuban Bonds.

New York, May 31.—The Times' London financial correspondent cables: Paris has at last betrayed symptoms of tiredness. The French are marvelous people, the most painfully thrifty in the world, but even they cannot supply means for all the follies to which they are invited to subscribe. Early last week some of their industrial paper structures began to crumble, and suddenly the bourse found itself overloaded in many directions. It has been sulky ever since, and twice during the week it looked almost disposed to abandon Spanish investments.

Poor old Spain seems about to throw up the sponge and apologetically repudiate. No one expected any government official to admit bankruptcy squarely; your Spaniards has far too much dignity to do anything of the sort. But an indirect admission does just as well, so the next debt coupon is not to be paid until the cortes votes the new budget with fresh taxes, which is not a job of lightning express order. Worse still, in some respects, the government has viciously kicked the Bank of Spain, so that it may die of ill usage. Spain has no commerce to speak of, except what foreigners conduct. The Bank of Spain has therefore, levied on the government by the simple process of making it advances as required out of increased issue of notes. The security given consisted of Cuban bonds, treasury notes and 4 per cent redeemable bonds. The interest on the Cuban bonds has been frantically suspended, that on all the other debt has been postponed, and—harder treatment than that, if possible—the redemption drawings on redeemable bonds have been stopped. The result is that the bank is stranded high and dry, with assets of perhaps $35,000 represented merely by government promises to "manana."

The only consolation is that the repudiation was done with high Spanish dignity. The government had no more use for the bank, because it could not get any more notes, therefore it is left lying like a spent mule. The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris bourse is consequently pretty certain to be limp and wobbly for some time, if it does not actually collapse.

The term of the French banks comes next. They hold nearly the whole of the Spanish external debt and some Cuban bonds, and have made splendid profits out of the business in the past, especially out of venturesome bears. Both England and the United States paid them heavy fines for rash sales on the outbreak of the last war. We certainly did, and for many years past British bears have been periodically trapped and sheared by these skillful French financiers. They can therefore afford to lose a few millions and still have enough for "soupe maigre." But lose they must, because their very success in the past leaves them with all the bonds and no market to negotiate upon. The Paris