Trade With Asia Discussed by Ex-Minister Barrett.

MANILA ONE STEP TO CHINA

Address Was Delivered Before the New York Chamber of Commerce-Pacifie Coast Interests Dwelt Upon.

New York, June 3 .- The regular commerce was held this afternoon, and pany, the Market-Street Railway Com-Mr. Barrett said in part:

China, with her population of 350,000,. miles, is far more so. While we wish war revenue tax stamps attached to to gdin a large share of the foreign the deeds of trust. trade of the Philippines, which now amounts to $32,000,000 a year, and should reach, under American control $100,000,000, we must have great am | and advising as to the present. Here-000,000 gold, and should soon in- after the only control she will exercise crease, with 'open door' and freedom of trade, to $350,000,000.

"Add to this sum the trade of China proper, which is separated from Hong Kong, and that of the other Asiatic countries, and we have an actual total of nearly $1,000,000,000. Are not these figures which should make us think twice before shirking our responsibility? Shall we, in the face of them, retreat and leave the prize to others, or shall we advance and win our reasonable share?

"America is today the arbiter of China's future. The Pacific coast has vast interests at stake in the development of commerce and trade in the Pacific and the Far East. Under such development depends largely the future prospects of Calfornia, Oregon and Washington, three powerful giants of statehood, whose wonderful growth and splendid possibilities must appeal to you all. These states ask the East not to be sectional in this question of meeting our responsibilities in the Pacific. They beg that New England and New York will recognize that as Boston and New York city have built an enormous trade on the Atlantic, San Francisco, Portland and Puget sound cities wish to rival them on the Pacific. San Francisco would say to Boston, in the latter's agitation of anti-expansion ideas: 'Remember, you are working directly against the interests of the Pacific coast by such agitation.'

"To you business men of New York I say that the business men of the Pacific slope are looking for your hearty and effective support in the development of commerce and trade in the Pacific, and in the holding of the possessions we have legitimately gotten hold Open Up the Summer Campaign at San of, believing that you appreciate that the prosperity of the entire country is

"Briefly summarized, our policy in China should be directed, first, to the preservation of the integrity of the empire, with no further alienation of territory; second, freedom of trade throughut all China, commonly called the 'open door,' as outlined in the old treaties; or, third, in the unavoidable delimitation of 'spheres of influence,' such delimitation as will not close the growing markets to the products of the United States. We should stand for the integrity of China, because we have much to lose and nothing to gain by its breaking up. If we retain the Philippines we shall be strong in the south, but we must have, under the ditions of China divided, a port in the north, if we would properly maintain our position in the Pacific and Far Combs. Mrs. Stanford Has Transferred Her En tire Wealth to the University

San Francisco, June 3 .- Mrs. Jane L. Stanford, widow of the late Senator Bandits Held Up the Union Stanford, has formally transferred all of her vast wealth to the university which bears the name of her dead son. Deeds representing property valued at over $10,000,000 have been given in NEAR WILCOX IN WYOMING trust to the trustees of the Leland Stanford, jr., university, and this, added to its previous endowment of

MARCHAND AROUSES FRANCE.

He Unexpectedly Lashes the Government for the Evacuation of Fashoda. Chicago, June 3. - A special cable tc the Chicago Tribune from Paris says: Major Marchand's speech at Toulon has fallen like a bomb. Marchand's previous attitude and his frequent reprotestations of loyalty to the government gave no indication of his intention to lash the government for the evacuation of Fashoda. The speech is regarded as seditious.

Here is the incriminating phrase, spoken in reference to the evacuation of Fashoda: "Seeing what a state of division our country is in, over an affair of which I need not speak, we comprehend that France could not make the supreme effort. We felt that our country could not make a proud, energetic reply. Ten centuries of history have taught her that peace was the instant question. Happily. peace was maintainetd, but I believe I can say that of that sort of peace there had better not be too much in France in the same century."

As a result of Macrhand's speech, a group of city councuilmen today asked that plans for the grand reception to Marchand at the Hotel de Ville be countermanded. . The prefect of police head for the robbers who held up its has forbidden any one inside the station to meet the hero save government officials, who must be provided with special permits.

The mail and express runs as the first section of No. 1, overland limited. The second section follows only five minutes behind. A bridge two miles from the scene of the robbery was fired to prevent the second section from coming up during operations. A bridge in front of the train was dynamited. The trainmen were all covered with rifles, and the robbers took their time. The value of the plunder is unknown, but is represented as light.

The sheriffs of Albany and Carbon counties, with posses and United States marshals, are after the bandits, who are supposed to be members of the noterious "Hole in the Wall" gang, which has terrorized the state for vears. Later advices say that as the train reached the bridge, one of the robbers crawled into the cab, and at the point of a gun ordered Engineer Jones to pull across the bridge and stop. Meanwhile, the others of the gang were at work in the express car. Just as the engine pulled off the bridge there was a tremendous explosion that scattered the express car for a hundred feet in every direction. The end of the mail car was blown in, and several stringers knocked out of the bridge. Engineer Jones was injured by the flying debria.

There was a display of gorgeous native toilets, and many jewels were worn, and the array of handsome women surprised the Americans. There was a long programme of American and Filipino dances, followed by the rendering of several instrumental selections, ending with "The Star Spangled Banner." General Smith has punished the insurgents at Escalante, island of Ne-gros, for the murder of Captain Tilley, of the signal corps, who was fired upon by the natives under a flag of truce and cut off from rejoining his companions on board the cable ship from which he had landed. SAM T. JACK'S REQUEST.

Well-Known Actor and Manager Wills His Wife to His Brother.

New York, June 5 .- Sam T. Jack willed his wife to his brother James C. Jack. The last testatment of the actor and theatrical managner, proprietor of several theaters, "Creole" and other burlesque companies, who died April 27, has been filed for probate in the office of the surrogate. It contains this remarkable provision:

"It is my wish first and foremost that my brother James and my wife Emma shall become husband and wife." Mrs. Jack, the "Emma" of the will, was Miss Emma Ward, the favorite acteress in the Lily Clay burlesque company, which was playing at Niblo's in 1892 when Sam T. Jack married her. James C. Jack was asked if he would accept the bequest of his obtained $36,000 in money and $10,000 brother, but he would make no state-

Interest in Alaska Still Continues, A. though It Is Not as Much Talked of as Formerly.

"We hear little in this country now-Adays about travel to the Klondike," said J. Francis, general passenger agent of the Burlington, to an Omaha reporter, after an extended trip in the Northwest, "but when you get into the Northwest you find there is about as much interest in the Alaskan mining section as ever. Prospectors are returning from the North almost every day, and the stories they tell keep alive the desire in a certain portion of the people to seek their fortunes in that country. The result is that travel froom Portland, Seattle and Tacoma to Alaska is about as heavy as it has ever

"But the Klondike mines are not the only ones which contribute to making business lively in the North Pacific coast towns. The mines just north of Washington, in British Columbia, are attracting their share of the attention. and Seattle is deriving great benefit from the rush to that territory. Over in Idaho and Eastern Oregon there are reports of rich new discoveries, and when the snow leaves the mountains turkeys, 10,000 chickens, 60 tons of the prospects are that there will be a big rush to these diggings. All in all, mining is taking a new impetus in the Northwest, and business of all kinds is feeling the benefits of it."

He presented which will go to Rosenbaum & Co., at himself at the auditor's office and asked Omaha. The cattle represents a value to have the records changed to show that of $40,000. he is still alive. About a month ago the body of man was found under a warehouse with his nose in a tin cup in which a sponge saturated with chloroform had been placed. The remains were identified as those of Montpetit by reputable persons who had known Montpetit for years and had served in the army with him. They described the mark on his person and his personal characteristics, which were found to fally exactly with the dead man. The coroner's jury accordingly returned a verdict that the remains were those of Montpetit and that he had committed suicide. Yesterday Montpetit arrived in the city from the Snake river country, where he had been working, and is deavoring to solve the mystery of en who he is. He does not relish the idea of having his name recorded among the county archives in the list of self-destructors, but how to amend the records is a question. And then another interesting and tantalizing question arises. if Montpetit is not dead, who occupies his grave?
