LOCAL NEWS.

G. S. Wright, dentist.
Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Irvine are in Portland this week.

A G. A. R. post was organized in Dayton on Wednesday.

J. O. Rogers is constructing a new fence about his residence.

Mrs. Jas. Martin of Monroe is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Fred Nelson.

Bennie Blood went to Shedd's on Wednesday to preach for the Baptists there next Sunday.

D. W. Ralston of Sheridan left last week for Grant county, to investigate the cattle business there.

The fir grove near Mrs. Latourette's home on college side has been chosen as the tenting ground for the encampment.

Mrs. D. A. Boardman and son Fred left yesterday morning for Colfax, Wash., where they intend to remain through the summer.

Mrs. John Evenden succeeds Miss Katherine Glen in the chair of music at the college. An excellent selection, and one that does credit to the institution.

Rev. Geo. W. Fender and bride returned from the east on the evening train of Wednesday. A reception will be tendered them at the C. P. church tonight.

A. T. Moffit of Salem has completed the work of putting a new foundation under the Atlas Milling Co's warehouse, and will soon perform a similar service for Mr. Hendricks' warehouse.

M. A. Baker has been in Portland this week as a delegate to the Native Sons' convention. He was chosen one of the trustees. Of course we missed the joke at the play Tuesday evening.

The graduating class of the normal training school for nurses in connection with the medical department of Willamette university has for its motto: "Out of the bay into the ocean."

Our prices on eggs, butter and everything in the grocery line will remain the same during the coming week, and you can depend upon getting the best at the lowest prices. McMinnville Grange & Farmers' Co.

Prof. Louis Barzee has been chosen to the vice-presidency and chair of sciences of the Drain normal school. The vacancy thus caused in the faculty of McMinnville college will probably remain unfilled for the present.

An entertainment by home talent directed by Miss Pugh will be given under the auspices of the ladies' guild of the Episcopal church in about two weeks. Delsarte drills and a pantomimic rendition of "The Lotus Eaters," will be the main features of the evening. See the program next week.

A strawberry party was brought to grief on Wednesday. H. M. Bond with his team took a number of children in the country to pick berries. When returning in the vicinity of the Star mills the wagon was upset, and driver and children dumped underneath. Mr. Bond held to the lines or there would have been a disastrous runaway. Bruises and the loss of the berries, with a broken wagon tongue, covered the damage.

Barring a little bad grammar, Yates of the Sheridan Sun gives some good advice to two citizens of the town who engaged in an unseemly quarrel there recently. He says: "They had ought to feel ashamed of themselves, of the violation of law, the giving away to temper and the example set before the young men and boys of the community. What a pity it is that some strong, sturdy old mother, could take both of the old boys across her knee and use the slipper in good old fashioned style upon the most prominent portion of their anatomy."

An assembly of five or six hundred people witnessed the unveiling of the Woodmen monument over the grave of D. C. Small at South Yamhill cemetery Sunday afternoon. The usual ceremony was enacted for the occasion by the Woodmen, and it was followed by an address by Prof. H. L. Boardman. It was a splendid effort both from the standpoint of poetic fancy and analytical reasoning. The poetry was in the picture he gave of nature's beautiful surroundings constituting a fitting place for one's last sleep, and the reasoning was in the thought that man's immortality is proved by the yearnings of men to perpetuate their memories in erecting monuments, and their desire that they should be erected. It was a strong and logical argument for a belief in a future existence. The new monument is of granite and resembles the stump of a tree. It is a very fitting tribute of fraternal remembrance.

"A Summer's Fancy" by home talent Tuesday evening brought returns of $48.40. This was not sufficient to create a reserve for the monument fund. The playing was quite good throughout, the heavy four being Levin, Evenden and Oliver, and Mrs. Ethel Dorris. The ability of the gentlemen was well known before hand, but that displayed by Mrs. Dorris was even better than her friends anticipated. Minor parts were carried by Misses Jennie Anderson, Grace Sutherland, and Grace Newell, and Messrs. R. A. Harris and Glen Henderson, the latter appearing equally well in a double roll. The play is a light one, and if we were criticising it we would greatly shorten the story Jack has to tell of his foreign experience, and have his wife make him atone severely for his wrongs in the recognition scene of the fourth act. There is some talk of asking Mr. Levin to return and repeat the play on the third night of the encampment. Home entertainments for a monument fund ought to receive a better patronage than this one had, but something seemed to "hobble" it from the start.

Died in Manilla

The sad news came Monday evening of the death of Ralph Odell, son of Albert Odell of this city, who enlisted as a recruit last June from this county. His death occurred in the hospital at Manila on June 9th, of "incinerative colitis," which means dysentery. The news reached here simultaneously with that of the starting of the boys for home. They will return leaving behind five of their comrades, viz: Bert J. Clark, Elmer Miller, Richard Perry, Frank Hibbs, and Ralph Odell. Who is there that would say that we should not erect a monument to our soldier boys, and particularly to commemorate the memory of those who will never return?

Heath & Taylor have just closed a trade with Arthur McPhillips for $600 worth of drain tile. Arthur proposes to show the farmers of old Yamhill county what a drained farm will do.

Miss Susie E. Parmenter, grand chief of the Rathbone Sisters, and Mrs. Gardner, came over from Salem last Saturday evening to visit Diancia Temple No. 15, which was enjoyed by the members. Ice cream and cake were served.

The pastor of the Baptist church will preach next Sunday morning a sermon especially to old people. A large number of invitations have been sent out and a large number of old people are expected to be present.

O. O. Hodson attended the grand chapter of Masons in Portland this week, and was elected deputy grand high priest. This is another step higher for Mr. Hodson, and next year will probably see him chosen to the highest office.

Watch our market for strawberries, cherries and all fruits in their season.

Strawberries at Dresser & Hendrick's furnished by S. H. Maris, the gardener, are always best quality, fresh and clean. Also vegetables of all kinds brought in fresh every morning. Mr. Maris' Fair-lawn canning berry is superior to the Wilson. Orders for berries left there will be filled in rotation. When there, look around and see if you need any groceries.

The contract for building Charles Nelson's new house has been let to L. Grantstrom for $1,050.

Miss Nellie Ramsey returned Sunday afternoon from a visit in Salem, accompanied by her brother.

Mrs. L. C. Heinrichsen and granddaughter of Portland arrived Tuesday evening on a visit to Mrs. R. Nelson.

The teachers' institute has been well attended this week. Over 100 were enrolled the second day. Supt. Littlefield read the law to them, and got them all out about 25. Prof. Barzee lectured on Wednesday night, and State Supt. Ackerman last evening.

Rev. Duncan Wallace of Walla Walla, Wash., has been elected president of the Mineral Springs C. P. college, situated at Sodaville. The endowment fund of this institution has been increased $12,000 by some recent bequests.

We want to tell our many friends that we have renewed our determination for the future, as we have in the past, to stay where we are—at the top—despite the cost.

We have competition, but no rivals; the people know us as the bargain makers in staple and fancy groceries, crockery, glassware, chinaware, lamps, etc., and know that we will protect their interests when they trade with us. We have proved that to them. We think a good deal of the good opinion of our customers, and we will keep up our reputation with them by supplying goods of high grade of quality at a low rate of cost.

During the G. A. R. encampment this month, we want all strangers in town to call and see us at our store, make themselves right at home, examine our stock and get our prices. We expect those who know us to call without waiting for an invitation. Very respectfully yours, DRESSER & HENDRICK.

Notice to G. A. R. People.

For the benefit of the grand army of the republic we will make a special discount of 10 per cent on all our uniform suits. We carry them in all sizes. Respectfully yours, R. JACOBSON & CO.

We now have a few thousand dollars to loan on farm property, at good terms. 12th IRVINE & VINTON.
