The game of ball between the court house ring and the professors, lawyers and doctors Thursday of last week resulted in a victory for the latter, the score standing 27 to 23. The attendance was good. Proceeds amounted to $7, which goes to the entertainment fund of the volunteers. Prof. Scott made the best individual score—4 runs and 1 out—with Reynolds, Macy and Littlefield second best, with 4 runs and 2 outs. The trade in arnica has since been good.

Wm. M. Manning, now of Newberg, was in the city Wednesday. His sale on the old place west of Carlton occurred on Tuesday, and brought fairly good prices, considering the time of year. Mr. Manning is well pleased with Newberg as a place to live, and is doubly happy because of the fact that two eastern friends, Mr. Smith of Washington, Pa. and his niece, Miss Laura Martin of Mountville, W. Va., arrived last week to visit him, and will remain until September. They are looking for land to purchase in this county.

Miss Adda Pugh will give a recital to-night at Sheridan. She will be assisted by the Hobbs-Patty quartet, and there will be a cake walk. All who attend are sure of a pleasant evening, as these young ladies are fine entertainers.

Why doesn't somebody bring fruit to town? The caterers to the public appetite complain that never before have they seen such a dearth of fruit in the market. Berries have been a scarce article since the strawberry season closed.

R. A. Harris' family has spent three weeks on Salmon river, and they write him that they will stay another month, they are having such a good time. Mr. Harris is tempted to go over himself, for a visit with his parents, whose home is there.

Robert McDonald went to California last week and his brother W. D. left on Monday. They, with others, are interested in gold mining near Hornbrook, on the northern line of the state, and some very flattering prospects are said to be ahead.

Alphouse W. Wardle, brother of W. M. Wardle of this city, died of brain fever on Tuesday at Glencoe, Washington county, at the age of 23 years. He was unmarried. Burial was made on Wednesday in the McBride cemetery, near Carlton, the service at the grave being conducted by Prof. Northup.

C. L. Shear of Washington, D. C., agrostologist, who is making a tour of the Pacific coast in the interest of the government, is stopping with Kansas friends at J. G. Eckman's this week. He has just returned from attending the association of agricultural experiment stations in San Francisco, where those in attendance were banqueted and shown over the state for a whole week with everything absolutely free. California knows how to treat visitors, and her business courtesy and shrewdness have been large factors in advancing her to a front position among the commonwealths.

All the bodies of the dead in the Second Oregon will be brought home for burial at the government's expense. Removal of the bodies will not begin for five or six months. A plan was tried of embalming the bodies as they were brought in from the field, but for various reasons it did not succeed. The military authorities have promised to return the bodies, not only to San Francisco, but to the town designated by the relatives of the dead soldier, wherever it may happen to be—all at the government's expense. In case no request is received from relatives, the body will be conveyed to Washington and interred in the national cemetery.

This town does awfully need a city park, and is woefully behind other and smaller towns in the respect of not possessing one. Like most of the towns in the valley, however, it has about a half-dozen groves near by, any one of which would make a model park if purchased and improved. There is the Brock grove, the Stout grove, the McDonald grove, the Brooks grove on the river, the college grove, and others a little farther away. There is a chance here for some public-spirited citizen to leave a monument to perpetuate his memory by giving the city a lift in the direction of securing a city park. Only a little money, work and attention is all that is required. Nature has done and will do the rest.

Mrs. Jane Shuck and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mollie Shuck of Monitor Mills, Clackamas county, are the guests of C. A. Wallace and family.

Miss Nanna Ungerman is in Portland visiting with the family of Gen. Summers, and will also attend the Chautauqua at Gladstone Park.

There will be an initiation at the Rebekah's next Tuesday evening. A full attendance of members is desired. Members of team especially requested to be present.

Barnett, a cattle buyer, drove a herd of 500 yearling steers through town yesterday and loaded them on cars here for shipment to North Yakima. They were from Tillamook county and were in good condition.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Harding returned home Wednesday evening after nearly three weeks' absence attending the national meeting of editors and subsequent excursions to the sound. They heard Sam Jones at Oregon City Tuesday evening.

A good idea is suggested for the parade formation when the reception to the volunteers is held. It is to place the Mexican veterans in the lead, then the Indian war veterans, then those of the civil war, and lastly those of the Spanish-American contest, interspersed with bands.

Should Have Been Furloughed.

Frank M. Girard, a member of company I, Oregon volunteers, arrived in Albany on Saturday from San Francisco. He came in violation of orders, but in a manner which will arouse sympathy in his behalf. On reaching the San Francisco harbor, while still on shipboard, he received a telegram announcing that his mother, who resides near Monmouth, was dying, and asking him to come at once. He applied to the officer for a furlough, offering the telegram as the reason, but it was refused. By the aid of sympathetic comrades he was let down by a rope into a small boat and went ashore, taking the train at once for Albany. He hired a team and driver and hurried to his home. After remaining at his mother's bedside a few minutes, he came out weeping and said she was yet alive, but very low. He told the driver that he would return to his regiment in a few days. He is a young man of unquestioned veracity, and has been one of the best soldiers in his company. Influential friends will endeavor to secure his release from the charge of desertion.

Accidental Drowning.

A verdict of accidental drowning was rendered by the coroner's jury in the case of E. C. Root, the student who met his death while bathing in the river near the foot of Montgomery street, Saturday afternoon. The body was shipped to his brother, Sidney Root, at Lafayette, last evening, and the interment will take place there today. Deceased was a native of Yamhill county. A number of fellow-students called at the morgue yesterday to pay their respects to their dead companion, but no relatives or particular friend appeared. Deceased was a member of the Second Baptist church on the east side, and roomed on Fifth street, near Jefferson, at the time of his death.—Oregonian, July 17th.
