D. V. Hoffman of Carlton was in the city Tuesday, and gave this office a business call.

J. D. Irvine, a prominent citizen of Independence, accompanied by his wife, visited over Sunday with his brother J. P., of this city.

All those knowing themselves indebted to S. Howorth & Co. please call and settle.

W. W. Todd, a merchant of Tillamook City, formerly of McMinnville, was over visiting his father and others early in the week, in connection with a business trip to Portland.

Dairymen can find the best and latest improved cream separators—warranted to gather all the cream in forty minutes—at F. W. Spencer's.

Mrs. Minnie Fryer of Sumpter, and Miss Cassa Berry of Tillamook City were visiting the family of John Nowell and other friends of this city the past week.

If you want a fine umbrella for your self or a present you can get it at Wm. F. Dielschneider's, the jeweler. A handsome new line.

Miss Lottie Ground of Monmouth was visiting her aunt, Mrs. F. W. Fenton, early in the week. Miss Ground was once a teacher in the McMinnville schools.

Dr. G. S. Wright will be absent from McMinnville attending the state board of dental examiners, from the 21st to the 27th inclusive, and his office will be closed. 43-2

The Dayton Journal has entered the list of Yamhill county papers. It starts out with a good appearance, and is published by the Gillingham Bros. There are many towns in Oregon in greater need of a second newspaper than Dayton, however.

Judge Denny, who introduced the Mongolian pheasants into this state, and made possible so much fun for sportsmen, was presented with a brace of birds recently. He was much pleased with them, and remarked that they were the second pair of birds he had been presented with since their introduction. O, gratitude! Where hast thou been hidden?

P. F. Wright, the candy man, struck an unusual thing in handling a bunch of bananas Saturday evening. Hearing a hissing sound, he dropped the whole bunch, and looking in the center of the bunch he found nestled in a lot of leaves a Central American opossum. He secured the little animal in a glass jar, and exhibited it in his front window, where it has been a curiosity to many people. Bananas are becoming the hiding place for so many strange things that dealers are getting to be more on the lookout.

"I wish to express my thanks to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy, for having put on the market such a wonderful medicine," says W. W. Massingill, of Beaumont, Texas. There are many thousands of mothers whose children have been saved from attacks of dysentery and cholera infantum who must also feel thankful. It is for sale by S. Howorth & Co., druggists.

Died—At the Chemawa Indian training school, at 6 a. m., Monday, October 10th, Axel Peterson, aged 40 years. Deceased occupied the position of head tailor or at that institution, having been there for eight years, and he was well liked by every student and employe therein. So thoroughly competent was he as a tailor that many of the students who received instruction from him in that trade are now occupying positions of a similar character at other places under the control of the government. He was a native of Sweden, and came to the school from Portland. A wife and four children survive him. The remains were brought to this city for burial in Masonic cemetery, the funeral occurring at the home of Martin Johnson, the tailor, on Tuesday, with whom Mr. Peterson often visited. The service was conducted by Dr. Elliott of the Unitarian church of Portland. Deceased was a brother of Mrs. Frank Jernstleit of Carlton.

Rev. W. E. Copeland, of Salem, Oregon, who was to lecture at W. C. T. U. to-night on "Trusts, and how to Destroy Them," was taken suddenly ill, and his appointment has been indefinitely postponed.

We understand that the prices at the Bird auction at Lafayette have been very satisfactory to the bidders, but Mr. Wade does not seem to enjoy selling brand new goods for less than wholesale cost; however, he says he will continue his auction another week.

Mr. J. F. Bakeman of Carlton, who recently suffered the loss of his residence by fire, has moved his family to McMinnville for the winter. They occupy the Martin house at the foot of Fourth street. Mr. Bakeman is engaged in hauling lumber for a new residence on the farm.

George Snyder could face an army of Filipinos, but when an old doe heads for him and he has no charge in his gun, he doesn't propose to stand and take it. The like occurred at Meadow lake early in the week, so say Bert Pearson, Matt Redmond and Arthur Harris, who were eye witnesses. Seven successive shots at five successive does had already added to George's consternation before the angry doe took after him. Anyway, the boys say he's a safe man around a herd of deer.

Rev. R. W. King of this city gave the opening sermon at the Oregon Baptist ministerial conference which began its session in Portland Monday evening. He made a declaration that surprised some of the delegates. He said that of 100 Baptist churches in the state over one-third had no conversions to record during 1898. He appealed to the church to bestir itself. "In former times it required but one sermon to convert 3000 souls, but it does seem to me now, friends, as if it took 3000 sermons to save one soul. If twelve months passed—I thank God it has not been so with me yet—when I had not brought one soul to Christ, I should think I would better have a calling elsewhere. You have read that the church is losing its grip on the world. Unless I am very much misinformed, or unless I make an awful blunder, I believe the most of people are well satisfied with the church as it is. They can sleep on Sunday, it doesn't interfere much with them, they say it doesn't hurt their business, and they are content to allow it to drift along just that way, not minding what the church is doing or what the pastor is doing. Talmage once said that if the newspapers didn't make some caustic comment on his sermon for two or three weeks, he thought it was time to tone up his sermons. The church must bestir itself. The time is ripe and we must be up and doing."

The Bankers' Life Association of Des Moines, Iowa, will give you protection cheaper than fraternal organizations, and more substantial. It has a guarantee and surplus fund of about $3,500,000.00. For particulars inquire of O. L. CLARK.

John Evenden met with a little streak of bad luck in his farming operations last Saturday. A good mare laid down and died of blood poisoning, presumed to have had its origin from a wound received from rolling on a rusty nail.

Miss Lena McCain, deputy postmaster, took her departure yesterday morning for a ten-days' vacation to Seattle and Tacoma. She was accompanied by her sister Miss Ethel, as far as Portland.

The condition of Elmer Dodson, who is ill with typhoid fever, is yet regarded as very critical, and some symptoms indicate that he is growing worse. He is receiving the best of treatment and nursing.

The Metropolitan Opera Co., arrived too late Tuesday evening to give their opera "Bohemian Girl," and the postponement militated against the patronage. They gave the opera the following evening to a very small house, and yesterday afternoon the troupe left for Portland, after the manager had executed a bill of sale to landlord DuBois for six trunks and contents, as an acknowledgment of an aggregation of debts. The loss of much of their equipment by fire in Pocatello, Idaho, recently has greatly crippled them.

The entertainment under auspices of college athletic association, which was to have been given in the opera house Saturday evening, Oct. 21, will be given in the college chapel. This change was made necessary in order to secure the musical accommodations. Remember, the entertainment will be given in full, just as if it were in the opera house. The work of the musical department under the efficient instruction of Mrs. Evenden needs no mention. The lecture on the Philippines by Alley Williams will give you much authentic information, and the entertainment will be closed by one of the most laughable farces ever presented before a McMinnville audience. Remember, it is for the benefit of the athletic association. Reserved seats may be secured at Rogers Bros. *
