Ancient Rome was a wonderful city, built on hills and remarkable for its municipal improvements and its public spirit.

Night is approaching as we reach India. Here is an excellent railway station, a superior hotel, and an approved sanitarium twenty feet below sea level.

In the desert portions of California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, there is little of interest except to the lover of history.

He aspires to the leadership of an alleged party which maintains a kind of precarious existence, only by virtue of its historic name.

Passing along eastward, out of the arid plains into a section bearing evidences of occasional showers of rain, an Oregonian begins to feel more at home.

Live-oak trees, fairly good grass, and fields of old corn stalks, and cotton and rice fields line each side of the road as we approach the Sabine river.

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE CASE.

Mr. McCain Replies to X. Y. Z. and Cites Some Facts Apparently Overlooked.

McMINNVILLE, Or., March 5, 1900.

TO THE EDITOR: In the Telephone Register of February 22d, appeared a screed signed "X. Y. Z.," in which this modern Ananias exercised his peculiar talent for malevolent misrepresentations of his neighbors.

He seeks an opportunity to make a dirty fling at some of his republican neighbors. He says there is no justification for such allowance.

The county court of this county presided over by Hon. Wm. Galloway, a democrat, as county judge, at the March term, 1892, allowed J. J. Spencer $5 for a legal opinion as to a road matter.

At the July term of said court, 1892, such court allowed O. H. Irvine $5 for legal services; at the December term, 1891, such court allowed J. E. Magers $7.50 for legal services.

In fact, the above-named firm of democratic lawyers have drawn during the last eight years, from the county treasury of this county, more than $600 for legal services and advice.
