Louise M. Brehany, the best ballad singer America has produced in many a day, is to be here shortly with her superb concert company. They are doing this year in addition to a most attractive concert program, "The Garden Scene of Faust," beautifully costumed, and with special scenery. The papers everywhere speak enthusiastically of this program.
Come to the college chapel next Saturday evening, March 31st. Miss Pease will exhibit her family album. These portraits are of famous and well-known characters, and are warranted to be the only original and truly life-like portraits of these individuals ever produced. Mrs. Evenden has charge of the music for the evening. Admission 10c.
All are cordially invited to attend the Christian church next Lord's day. Morning subject, "The Foreknowledge of God." Evening subject, "The Sensitive Character." Good music is expected by the choir. The Rowland quartet of brass and Mr. Grissen are to be with us. Mr. Grissen will give us one of his best violin selections.—Pastor Lindsey.
In arranging for the Louise Brehany production of the Garden Scene of Faust, with her clever company, the management have provided her with a beautiful garden scene and the very best of costumes. The company is better than last season, and a great musical treat is in store for our people. They will be here March 30th. Secure seats now at Rogers Bros.
Levi Hagey, a pioneer of 1847, moved to McMinnville from Dundee last week, to become a permanent resident, having bought the Coulter residence on River street. An expression of the appreciation in which Mr. and Mrs. Hagey are held was shown just before leaving their old home, when 93 of their neighbors dropped in unannounced to pay their parting respects, bringing well filled baskets with them.

The services at the M. E. church will be held as usual next Sunday. The pastor who has returned from Forest Grove will preach morning and evening. The subject for the evening service will be "The Question of Questions." A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these services.
Mr. T. D. Henderson, one of Yamhill's successful farmers who believes in combining stockgrowing with wheatraising, went up to Sunnyside stock farm west of Albany on Tuesday and purchased a thoroughbred Red Poll calf, which he shipped down Wednesday. The calf is a little over four months old, and when weighed before leaving for the farm he tipped the beam at 350 pounds. He will have a comfortable home on Mr. Henderson's farm, and will be a desirable addition to the improved grade of cattle in his herd.
Odell & Wood, real estate agents, are making some good sales of land with the opening of spring. During the current week they sold the Gates and DeHaven farm near Ballston, consisting of 247 acres, to Mr. Rand of Portland, for $7,500. Also the farm of Mrs. Mary Brock, three miles west of McMinnville, consisting of 480 acres, to J. T. Converse for about $4,500. Mr. Converse's son will occupy the place as a stock ranch. Through their agency Mr. A. Trull has leased the Chas. Smith sawmill in the northwest part of the county. He is said to be an experienced lumberman, and may establish a yard in this city.
