A very enjoyable surprise social was held last Friday night in honor of Melvin Stout's 17th birthday anniversary. A dozen of his college friends took a hay-rack ride to the country home, where they were joined by others, participated in a number of games until midnight, and then partook of a fine lunch. Among other presents was a handsome blood-stone ring.

The following persons were present from abroad at the funeral of Mrs. Henderson on Tuesday: Mr. J. J. Henderson and wife, Amity; Mrs. Lucy Deady, Mrs. Ollie Failing, Mrs. Alice Strong and Mr. James Failing; Prof. E. Tilson and sisters, Mr. Jenks, Mrs. Prof. Crawford, Mrs. Guiles, Mrs. Lydia Leabo, Miss McNary and Rev. Ronald McKillop, Salem; Mr. L. W. Langhary, Dallas.
S. W. Davidson writes from Chicago to his brother O. F. Davidson of this city, that he will soon return to the shores of the Pacific. The reason he writes thus is because he has been sailing the great lakes and does not like the climate. He has followed the sea pretty much all his life except an intermission of seven years spent on a plantation in Australia. His second voyage was made before the mast on the steam frigate Minnesota, on a government mission to China. Lieutenant Semmes of the navy, afterward commander of the pirate Alabama, took an interest in the lad and taught him the principles of navigation. In this he has advanced, and has been all over the world, now returning to the land of the Pacific because it is the best place for the man who "plows the raging main" as well as for him who toils behind the plow.

The entertainment Friday evening, given by the Louise Baehany Opera Co., was highly enjoyed by all present, the attendance being fairly good. The six members of the company are all artists and gave a first-class entertainment. Many thought Miss Brehany's soprano excelled any singing they had ever heard. Olga Schmoll's violin playing was superb. Mr. Mintz sang a fine tenor, with the exception that he had the tremolo stop out too much to suit a good many, but we suppose this is a matter of culture. Mr. Carr's bass was surprisingly good, and Jessie Monroe sang a full round and pleasing contralto. Mr. Snavlet is certainly an eminent pianist, demonstrating this fact under difficulties, in not carrying his own piano, to many people who ordinarily take little interest in piano playing. As a part of the program, the second playing. As a part of the program, the second act of the opera "Martha" was presented, and many passages brought out with thrilling effect the beautiful voice of Miss Brehany.

The populist convention meets today and the democratic tomorrow. This is a busy week for McMinnville. Next Tuesday comes the district congressional convention.
The supporters of Congressman Tongue are satisfied that the opposition to his renomination next Tuesday will not be very formidable. It is not at all likely that it will, for those to whom the nomination of some personal friend would be preferable concede the honor to Mr. Tongue. They cannot claim that he has not voted as a republican. He has been with the party on finance, and tariff, and where duty to the party has been the issue, party has not been slighted. Mr. Tongue has advanced rapidly during the last term, and now occupies a commanding position on very important committees. All these things considered, the loyalty to Tongue is merited, and the McMinnville convention, like the Albany convention, will "make no mistake" in re-nominating Congressman Tongue.

At the municipal election Tuesday, Lincoln, Nebraska, Col. Bryan's home, gave the largest republican majority in years, and made a clean sweep of the local ticket.

Martha L. Henderson.
Died, in this city, on Sunday, April 1st, 1900, after less than a week's illness from pneumonia, Mrs. Martha L. Henderson, wife of J. Harvey Henderson of Salem, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Langhary of this city. This death came as an unexpected and sad stroke to a large circle of relatives and friends. Mrs. Henderson came over from Salem on the 24th ult., to aid her sister Mrs. Wm. Campbell, in the care of her son, Chester, who was very ill of brain fever. Mrs. Henderson was herself taken sick on the following Monday, and in spite of the best medical attention and skillful nursing grew gradually worse until her death.
Words are feeble to express the nobleness of character of this lady. She was universally cheerful and helpful to all the deserving. She was the light of her household, and a favorite among her immediate family. Though it is believed she did not expect so soon to be called from this life, it is known that she felt it was all right in either case, whether she lived or died.
Mrs. Henderson was born in Iowa in 1854, and was married to Mr. Henderson in 1873. She was for over 30 years a member of the Baptist church. The funeral service was held in the Baptist church of this city, conducted by her pastor, Rev. R. McKillop of Salem, in a brief but exceedingly impressive discourse from the text, "Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe also in me." Prayers were offered by R. W. King and A. J. Hunsaker. The floral tributes, bestowed by loving hands, were most beautiful and abundant. The pall-bearers were W. G. Henderson, F. E. Rogers, M. A. Baker, Prof. A. M. Brumback, F. W. Fenton and W. L. Warren. The attendance was large, and the sentiment of aching hearts can find no more fitting or comforting expression than that contained in the beautiful couplet:
It cannot be that all the ties
Of kindred souls and loving hearts
Are broken when the body dies,
When the immortal mind departs;
That no serene light shall break
At last upon our mortal eyes,
And guide our footsteps as we make
The pilgrimage to Paradise.

Life insurance is good for your family.
Health insurance is good for both YOU and your family.
You collect health insurance by living. You have to die before life insurance can be collected.
If you knew your health was threatened you'd insure it if you could. You can insure your health.
The stomach is the vital center of the body. The whole body is nourished from the stomach. The blood is made in the stomach. A disordered stomach means disordered blood, disordered body, disordered brain. You never heard of a sick person with a sound stomach. Make your stomach sound and you insure your health.
How? As thousands of others have done by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's the one sure medicine for the stomach. It heals. It strengthens.
"Words fail to express what I suffered for three years, with cold chills, palpitation of heart, shortness of breath, and low spirits," writes Mrs. A. C. Jones, of Waterboro, Colleton Co., S. C. "I could not sleep and really thought I would soon die. Had a peculiar roaring through my head all the time. Was so emaciated and weak I could not feed myself. My aunt induced me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which I did, only to please her, and six bottles cured me. To-day am sound and well. During the three years I was sick I had five different physicians."
