How would it do for Uncle Sam to offer to trade Kentucky for Nicaragua?

AN attempt is being made in the Indiana courts to break up the glass trust, which has so far proved less easy to break than its products.

A second great shipyard is to be built at San Francisco and will give employment to 3000 men. That town made a valuable reputation when it turned out the battleship Oregon.

THE Belgian hare "craze" has struck Oregon. The hare or rabbit is very destructive of grass, tender vegetation and young trees, and the fanciers may unwittingly be introducing a pest.

FOUR American steamers designed for the Pacific trade are each to be 730 feet long, with a capacity of 22, tons. Some of the builders say the transpacific liners of the future will be 1,000 feet long.

GEN. WHEELER says the withdrawal of our troops from the Philippines would expose to great danger all the natives who have been friendly to Americans. But what copperhead cares for anything connected with the American side of the case?

THE new registry law provides for registration every two years, between January and May. There will be no other registration for the next presidential election. Books close May 15. They who neglect to get their names on the rolls practically disfranchise themselves not only for the state election in June, but for the presidential election in November.

ONE of Congressman Tongue's pet measures is the matter of condemnation and purchase by the general government of the canal and locks at Oregon City, and it is believed that with the prestige accorded him by virtue of his position on the river and harbor committee he will yet be able to see the consummation of his idea. The success of this measure and the abolishment of tolls on the Willamette will save many thousands of dollars to Oregon farmers each year.

QUAY, of Pennsylvania, has lost his seat in the U. S. senate by one vote. Clark of Montana will also be sent home to reflect upon the futility of attempting to buy his way into the senate with gold. Quay was appointed senator by the governor of Pennsylvania. The governor, who was the political boss of the machine had put the collar of brass upon the neck of Quay, and led him around at will. The difference between the two cases lies in the fact that Clark bribed the legislature, while Quay was the creature of boss rule. The rejection of these two men by the senate marks a notable victory for good and right government, and the results of the noble work done by that body will last through all our history.

SENATOR SIMON said the overwhelming sentiment of his people compelled him to vote against the Porto Rico tariff bill. Tongue and Moody voted for the bill, and the sentiment of the people, as expressed through the delegates sent to the late congressional conventions, has been rather on the congratulatory order. Simon should place his ear to the ground again and listen; perchance it was the still, small voice of Levi Blumenstein & Co., the tobacco importers of New York, that he heard.

AN international effort will be made by the leaders of the latest farmers' movement, to control the world's wheat markets by limiting production and to fix the minimum price at $1 per bushel. A farmers' trust would certainly be a novelty, and were such a thing practicable, it would place the tillers of the soil in the same category with the manipulator of sugar trust stocks; they would be the "push," and the rich speculators of today would be the ones to cry out against trusts. But the earth is too large for a farmers' trust to ever materialize, and the Willamette valley farmers realize this. Their trust is fixed already. They will limit the production of wheat, and substitute therefor hay and forage crops. Then, with improved grades of cattle they will supply the other trusts with the finest of beef and dairy products.

The passage by the immense majority of 240 to 15 in the house of representatives of the proposed amendment to the constitution providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people should, perhaps be regarded as interesting rather than important, says the New York Tribune. By some persons it will be held to signify that popular sentiment is overwhelmingly in favor of the change. Others will argue with more reason than it can fairly be considered to reflect the prevailing wish, but not the proportions in which the country is divided on the question. Some will probably make a still heavier discount and say that a large number of representatives were willing to have the proposition submitted to the people without regard to their own preferences or to their judgment of what the people through their legislatures should do about it.

DESPITE the fact that the dread of the descent to the silver basis has been allayed by the heroic action of the republican congress, "free silver" is still being made an issue in Oregon this year. However, it remains true that what benefits one class of the population cannot be detrimental to the interests of another class in the long run. Thus the assumption that free silver can help the farmer and laborer, while it will operate to the disadvantage of the banker, the merchant and the manufacturer, is the rankest nonsense. On the other hand, if a sound dollar is good for the banker, it is good for the farmer, too. When it comes to a question of governmental policy that affects the entire population, it is utter folly to assume that one class may be permanently benefited at the expense of another. The whole country stands or falls together in the matter of wealthgetting and in the general progress of the race, and any general system which prevents the progress of any one class of citizens must react to the disadvantage of all others.

To The Public.

Section 5 of the bicycle laws of the state of Oregon provides:

Section 5. The absence of the proper tag from any bicycle shall be considered prima facie evidence that the tax has not been paid. It shall be the duty of any and all peace officers, deputy sheriffs and bicycle tax collectors to seize, securely and safely hold all such bicycles until the levied tax and $1 additional has been paid as a fine for such non-payment. Therefore, all bicycle owners are notified that this tax must be paid by May 1st.

INGALLS ON DEWEY.

Ex-Senator John J. Ingalls of Kansas, when interviewed lately concerning the Dewey candidacy, said: "It is unfortunate for the fame of Dewey that he did not remain indefinitely at Manila. The perspective was greatly to his advantage, and distance lent enchantment to the view. He was a hero at Manila, but ever since he landed in New York the bran and sawdust has been running out of him. Everything he has said and done has sunk him steadily in public estimation. "All his utterances have been cheap, weak and silly, and his conduct has been feeble and vacillating to the edge of imbecility. Somebody has denounced the Admiral. His candidacy is ridiculous. His ignorance of politics and public issues and public duties is pathetic. Since Hancock's announcement in the Garfield campaign that the tariff was a local question, which he had heard mentioned at Norrisstown, Pa., there has been nothing so absurd as Dewey's declaration for the flag and free trade. He will not receive a vote in either convention. The presentation of his name would provoke inextinguishable laughter and derision. What the Admiral needs above everything else at this time is a course of instruction in the noble art of taciturnity."

FAIRLAWN.

The hard frosts Sunday and Monday night hurt the strawberries. Mr. Bolinski has gone to Astoria to spend the summer. Mr. Weed is able to be around again with the aid of two crutches. Jacob Seitters has several men employed in his brickyard, getting it in readiness for the making of brick. He expects to start up some time this week. Mr. Waugaman has sold his home in Fairlawn to Mr. Emmitt, who is having some improvements made on the house before moving his family. Mr. Pond is so much improved in health as to be able to take the train last Friday for a visit of several weeks with his daughter, Mrs. Athey. The report that J. R. Derby was able to be around the house is a great mistake as he has not been able to sit up over half an hour at any time.

They Who Build Cities.

Jones & Adams, the Nestucca sawmill men, are sending plenty of lumber to their yards in this city, lately, and the sash and door factory is kept busy working a choice lot of it up into fine finishing material. The Nestucca mills have furnished most of the lumber to build McMinnville, and while the city goes on expanding the saws will continue to rub up against the tall giants in the coast mountains. While cheerfully sending down the lumber for the magnificent homes throughout the city and county, the firm of Jones & Adams is not forgetful of the artistic side of the situation, and a look through their store at the head of Third street, will convince one that they are builders, from the foundation up. They make a specialty of paints, oils and glass, and in this line their stock is most complete. They invite inspection, if you are thinking of doing some painting this spring.

Backache.

So many women suffer from it. It mars alike their hours of work and pleasure. Backache is generally a symptom of derangement of the delicate womanly organs. It is useless therefore to apply plasters and similar local treatments. A cure can only be effected when the cause of the ache is removed. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure the debilitating drains, the inflammation, ulceration and displacement which cause backache, headache, and many other aches and pains. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol and is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics. It agrees with the most delicate persons.

"I took your medicine six months and I feel now like a new person," writes Miss Annie Stephens, of Belleville, Wood Co., W. Va. "I have no backache, no headache, no pain anywhere. I took seven bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and seven bottles of his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I think there is no medicine like Dr. Pierce's. I can't speak highly enough of your medicine for it has done me so much good. I don't feel tired as I used to nor sick. I feel well and think there is no medicine equal to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription." The Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The New Styles.

Their fit is perfect, their wearing qualities are attested to by the hundreds of my satisfied customers. Their appearance and style we won't try to describe; you must see them to fully appreciate their beauty. But we will say that they are the noblest line of footwear ever shown anywhere.

Diversified Farming Does Pay!

There is no doubt but that the farmers of Yamhill county now realize that raising cattle, sheep, goats, hogs and chickens pays. The St. Charles store appreciates this most beneficial change and is now enlarging for the increasing trade in consequence. May 1st our large store will be completed, when our splendid stock can be displayed to better advantage, and will be central for ladies from the country to get a chair while waiting. Notice is called to the planked place on B street for tying horses. Everyone welcome to visit this splendid trade depot. You'll be given polite attention. N. E. KEGG, Prop.
