Diversified Farming Does Pay!
There is no doubt but that the farmers of Yamhill county now realize that raising cattle, sheep, goats, hogs and chickens pays. The St. Charles store appreciates this most beneficial change and is now enlarging for the increasing trade in consequence. May 1st our large store will be completed, when our splendid stock can be displayed to better advantage, and will be central for ladies from the country to get a chair while waiting. Notice is called to the planked place on B street for tying horses. Everyone welcome to visit this splendid trade depot. You'll be given polite attention.
N. E. KEGG, Prop.

Some spectators at the fusion convention are of the opinion that Willie Scott did not have a fair show. He had the same number of votes as Gist, but one ballot, which had "Gist 14" on it was counted as one vote, and gave Gist the nomination. A good many thought a third ballot would have been fairer.
J. A. Frisbie returned Tuesday evening from a four months' visit to his old home in south central Ohio, reporting a very pleasant trip. He says the farmers' wheat in that state is bothered with the fly, and they are plowing much of it up and putting it in oats and corn. Otherwise business and prospects are good.
In the turmoil and tribulation of politics and war, Elsia Wright, the harness maker, has not been lost sight of. He is still doing business at the same old stand and is as ready now to give customers the best articles for the least money as he ever was. Among the latest invoice in his line will be found some very fine buggy robes and fancy bridles. His riding and buggy whips are good persuaders.
"Cyclone" Davis, the crude and eccentric campaigner, who changes color about as often as J. B. Weaver and the chameleon, spoke at the court house Tuesday evening. Cyclone was last here in '96 in the interest of the democrats. He was then heralded with a brass band and a big choir of singers with piano accompaniment. He brought with him a trunk full of books and piled them on a table to terrify the republicans but only referred to one book. This trip he was not desired, but to prevent a riot he was permitted to come. There was no music, and the few democrats who were courageous enough to sit up front, for the most part turned their backs to the audience. Cyclone still makes the same speech, from the text derived from Dr. Franklin, that they who pull the purse strings of this country also pull the heart strings of the people. From this he expands until he makes such bald statements as that 44 millions out of 75 millions of people in this country do not own their own homes. Very few who hear such talk take the trouble to analyze it, or ask where he gets his information. All they care to do is to believe it. They fail to remember that many rich people live in rented homes as a matter of choice. We said Cyclone was not desired to come. There was good reason for it. Our democratic brethren are not without honor, and they remembered that after Cyclone's first visit here he went back to Texas and stomped the state for McKinley. We could not help thinking while listening to his speech, how glibly he must have told the other side of the question in Texas, and whether he wouldn't repeat the operation this fall, if he can get a conference with Mark Hanna.

The St. Charles store will still continue to do business as usual. Thanking you for past favors, your patronage is solicited in the future. You will be given polite attention. Mrs. N. E. Kegg.
S. H. Maris says the crop of strawberries will be good, and most other varieties of fruit will be sufficiently abundant. The shortage with him is mostly Italian and Champion prunes. He will pick his first ripe strawberries in a few days—probably early next week.
The residence of Mrs. Chas. Sitton, about a mile west of Uncle Doc's house, was consumed by fire Wednesday afternoon, the blaze originating from the flue. Mrs. Letitia Bean occupied the house and was alone when the fire started. Most of her effects were saved. There was no insurance.
C. D. Johnson and son Willie left on Wednesday for Seattle, from which point they will take passage about the 10th inst. for Cape Nome, to join the search for gold. Dr. Goucher will go on the same steamer. Other parties going to Nome from this city will sail about the 24th.
Report of school in District No. 86—for month ending April 27th, 1900: Those who have been neither absent nor tardy, and have maintained perfect deportment are Pansy Johnson, Julia and Jacob Aage, Veda Guild, and Jimmie Hess. The visitors during the month include Messrs T. Watts, D. Johnson, and Leander Johnson, Mrs. T. O. Guild, Mrs. T. Watts, Misses A. Johnson and R. Shumate.—M. FRANCES TAYLOR, Teacher.

Gam Sing Quah, the educated Chinaman, now on his way to Canton as a missionary, preached twice to good audiences in the Comb. Presbyterian church on Sunday, and lectured the following evening on his boyhood days in China. All his addresses are full of interest, and on the lecture proposition he broke the record of the town, receipts amounting to $28 on a 10-cent admission fee. Mr. Gam took unto himself a handsome wife the previous week in San Francisco, who accompanied him here.
The sad duty devolved upon the county court and others on Wednesday to adjudge Nicholas E. Kegg, grocer of this city, insane from the excessive use of intoxicants. Sheriff Henderson and Dr. G. S. Wright accompanied him to the state hospital yesterday, where it is hoped his improvement and cure will be speedy. His business here will be continued by Mrs. Kegg and Garner Speicher.

Considerable damage was done to fruit in California and Texas by frosts which occurred about the same time as those in Oregon.
Mrs. Holt, sister of Ed Allen of this city, died in Portland on Tuesday. Mr. Allen was present at his sister's death and burial.
John Steprath, aged 47, a resident of the Fairdale neighborhood, was adjudged insane on Wednesday. His mania was religious in its nature. He was unmarried.
Harlow Mills departed on Monday for a five or six weeks' visit in Kansas and Illinois. The best authorities say he will return alone. The force at the Racket store is being supplemented by the services of S. C. Sherrill, late of southern Oregon, now a student at the college.
The services at the M. E. church will be conducted as usual next Sunday; the pastor Henry T. Atkinson who is home from Forest Grove, will preach morning and evening. In the evening the subject will be "Our doubts and how to overcome them." The preaching service is preceded by the Epworth league service, which begins at 7 o'clock. Everybody is cordially invited to come out and enjoy these services, especially those who have no other church home.
A dispatch from Sheridan under date of May 1st says: "A road race to Ballston and return by way of Bellevue, a distance of 12 miles, was held here last evening, in which Misses Millie and Bessie Daugherty, F. B. Churchman, Florence Smith, Zella Bones, Jeannie Findley, Bessie Linden, Messrs. Will Smith, Gary Price, Thomas Scroggin, Cal Droebaugh and John Talbot took part. The young ladies were given 20 minutes' start. Gary Price won the race against a very strong sea breeze (on the return trip) in 48 minutes, with Miss Millie Daugherty a good second.
The first accident occurred about four miles from Sheridan. Miss Findley had a bad fall in an isolated place, and as she had not returned at dark a hack was sent out and she was found by the roadside in a semi-conscious state. Miss Florence Smith had a fall and broke her arm. Among the boys Mr. Scroggin alone was injured, escaping with a finger-nail torn off and a badly smashed wheel."
