

CATARRH: FORERUNNER OF CONSUMPTION.

Few realize what a deep-seated, obstinate disease Catarrh is, regarding it as a simple inflammation of the nose and throat, little or no attention is given it. But, however insignificant it may seem at first, it is serious and far-reaching in its results. The foul secretions entering the circulation poison the entire system. The stomach, kidneys—in fact all the organs—feel the effect of this catarrhal poison, and when the lungs are reached its progress is rapid and destructive, and finally ends in consumption. It frequently happens that the senses of hearing and smell are in part or entirely lost, the soft bones of the nose eaten into and destroyed, causing intense suffering and greatly disfiguring the face. While sprays, washes and salves may give temporary relief, no permanent benefit can be expected from such treatment.

CATARRH IS A CONSTITUTIONAL OR BLOOD DISEASE, and far beyond the reach of mere local remedies. Those who rely upon them for a cure lose valuable time, meet with disappointment and allow the disease to take firmer hold. Only a real blood remedy can reach this troublesome and dangerous disease. S. S. S. cures Catarrh because it first cleanses and builds up the blood, purifies it, makes it rich and healthy, stimulates and puts new life into the sluggish worn-out organs, and thus relieves the system of all poisonous accumulations.

Mrs. Josephine Polhill, of Due West, S. C., writes: "I had Catarrh, which became so deep-seated that I was entirely deaf in one ear, and all inside of my nose, including part of the one, sloughed off. When the disease had gone this far the physician gave me up as incurable. I determined to try S. S. S. as a last resort, and began to improve at once. It seemed to get at the seat of the disease, and after a few weeks' treatment I was entirely cured, and for more than seven years have had no sign of the disease."

S. S. S. is made of roots, herbs and barks of wonderful tonic and purifying properties. It is the only vegetable blood purifier known, and a certain and safe cure for all blood troubles. Send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases, and at the same time write our physicians about your case. They will cheerfully give you any information or advice wanted. We make no charge for this.

Thursday night of last week a barn on the Ed Rogers farm was burned, presumably by an incendiary, and wagon, harness, and all contents of the barn were destroyed. This neighborhood will have to administer a little bit of "frontier justice" as an effectual bar to further procedure along that line, if the guilty person can be detected.

Our citizens had their attention called during the week to the advisability of graveling the road leading from McMinnville to Dayton, and they subscribed quite liberally to a fund for that purpose. Trade follows good roads just as surely as "trade follows the flag," and McMinnville business men recognize the value of good highways leading to the county seat.

The Spirituists of Clackamas county will hold their annual camp meeting at New Era, beginning June 23d and ending July 17th. The principal workers will be Prof. W. C. Mr. W. S. Whedon, cashier of the First National bank of Winterset, Iowa, in a recent letter gives some experience with a carpenter in his employ, that will be of value to other mechanics. I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled and that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought a bottle of it from the druggist here and informed me that one dose cured him, and he is again at his work." For sale by S. Howorth & Co., druggists.

Miss May Million, a former resident of this city, and a student of the college, now of Stevensville, Mont., and county superintendent of Missoula county, is in the city visiting friends and attending commencement exercises.

There seems to be a tolerably well-founded rumor afloat that Oscar A. B. Grosser, the builder and former owner of "Highland Lodge" above Willamina, met his death in Boston recently from a pistol in the hands of another man. This much seems certain, but particulars are wanting. Since the occurrence, Mrs. Grosser has desired to return to this county and purchase back the old home, but it is understood the present owner does not wish to sell.

Henry Johnson and his fiery team of three horses got in a tight place on Thursday of last week. He was hauling wood for the waterworks and while returning along the railroad near Mrs. Dallas' home, the train came along. There was nothing to do but to face it. This, Henry was willing to do, but the team was not. They rushed through the fence, throwing their driver to the ground, and ran until they brought up against an oak tree, shattering their harness badly. Henry was considerably bruised, but was pluckily at work the next day.

The minutes of the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, which assembly was recently held at Chattanooga, are at hand. The frontispiece contains a fine portrait of Rev. Henry Clay Bird, the moderator, a cousin of Judge Bird of this county, and to whom he bears a resemblance. The report of the committee on missions recommends that Rev. Gam Sing Quah be attached to the Chinese mission in San Francisco as interpreter, preacher and evangelist among his own people, and Gam will soon go to his new field of labor.

For the second time within the year, some person entered the school house in Dist. No. 8 one night last week and destroyed the organ by chopping it to pieces with an axe. This time he left a shoe-track measuring 4x10 1/2 inches, and the school board has been keeping the matter quiet in the hope of finding a clue to the identity of the miserable wretch. Destruction of the property of a school district would be scorned by even a Filipino brave, and it is a pity that Yamhill county must give shelter to such a depraved specimen of humanity.

The Eugene Guard contains the following notice of the popular county clerk of Crook county, who is a brother of Mrs. G. S. Wright of this city: "Returns from the Crook county election on the county clerk are that Arthur Hodges, present incumbent, and continuously in the office for twelve years, has been badly defeated. Hodges was elected as a democrat, but for some cause followed the lead of the lamented Grover and was repudiated by the party when the convention met in Prineville and made nominations a couple of months ago. Hodges then came out as a gold democrat candidate, and was taken up and nominated by the republicans. The fight was a bitter one, and resulted in his being badly defeated last Monday."

SOCIALISM.

Its Creed and Its Growth.

Editor Reporter: All men are more or less socialists, but a political party having the golden rule for its platform is comparatively a new factor in our civilization. "Whatever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

This seems to be the alpha and omega of scientific socialism. The law of kindness as exemplified in the sermon on the mount is of recent adoption by them. Formerly socialism and anarchy were allied in the fight against tyranny. It was natural. Very few men there are who will not get angry and strike when they first discover that they are injured. But the deliberate and philosophic man will reason over the matter and see if there is not some other method of turning the injury away so that it can be avoided.

For a hundred years the socialists of Europe worked together with anarchists under the conviction that liberty lay through revolution and bloodshed. Every movement had its fiery and violent spirits like our John Brown of slavery days. But about ten and fifteen years ago these men who always counseled violence were turned out of all conventions of socialists. Although many came as regularly accredited delegates, they were refused admission. The wise and reasoning members saw that if their principles were to prevail it would be necessary to win the good and true men of their country and this could not be done by violence.

This was a great step. It appealed to the great middle class who listened to the complaints of the socialists, and many became converts. The struggle that had been going on for a century took on a new life. Like all movements it had received its baptism in blood, but now it comes boldly into the opening and challenged investigation and full discussion. The movement became international. It went into politics. Though often dispersed by the military and police, it made no resistance, but kept on. In Germany the struggle has been most severe, because of the Iron Chancellor Bismarck. He first tried to stamp it out by violence, and failing in this he tried to make terms with the movement. In this he also failed, although succeeded in giving the rich classes 2, 3 and 4 votes each, which will only postpone the socialist victory. The first ticket put out received 30,000 votes; in 1878 it received 51,000; in 1883, 599,000; in 1890, 1,427,000; in 1893, 1,786,000; and in 1898, 2,125,000.

In France the vote rose from 30,000 in 1885 to 1,000,000 in 1898.

In Belgium from 134,000 in 1894 to 534,000 in 1898.

Denmark in 1872 cast 315 votes and 25,000 in 1895.

Spain cast 7,000 socialist votes in 1893 and 28,000 in 1897.

Italy cast 20,000 socialist votes in 1893 and 134,000 in 1897.

Switzerland cast 13,000 in 1890 and 36,000 in 1896.

Servia cast 50,000 socialist votes in 1895 and Great Britain cast 58,000 in the same year.

In America the socialist vote will need to be reckoned in all future contests. The trusts are a species of socialism that many claim should be under state management, thereby adopting state socialism. Newspapers are springing up in every state boldly advocating socialism pure and simple, until at least 2,000 such publications are now scattered among the people; one of these a vigorous little paper published at Girard, Kansas, has a circulation of 100,000 copies and goes to every stage in the union.

Now that the bomb thrower, the man with the stiletto and the torch have been eliminated from the socialist ranks, and the visionary man from Utopia has had his say, peace-loving and practical men are investigating the socialist theories and the converts are many. Some millionaires even are counted among them.

So that it would be well for every man who reads and thinks to investigate this subject for himself.

The Tissot Pictures.

When the Tissot pictures, illustrating the life of Christ, were exhibited in Portland a few weeks ago, over 1000 tickets were sold for the first evening, and it became necessary to repeat the lecture as the large auditorium would not accommodate all who sought admission. On the second night the large church was again full, many returning who were present on the former evening. At Albany an admission of 25 cents was charged, and one of the largest auditoriums was packed. The opinion is often expressed that one can get more light on the gospel story from this lecture than from many days of study. They have always produced a profound impression whenever they have been shown, often followed by a great religious awakening. They are works of the highest art and unlike anything ever produced before. The lecture by Dr. H. J. pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Portland, which explains these pictures, is very instructive. The admission is designed to cover the expenses only and so is placed as low as possible. The admission will be 15 cents. The number of tickets will be limited and will be on sale at Rogers Bros., June 18 and 19. Remember the time and place—the evening of June 19, at the Comb. Presbyterian church.

A Good Cough Medicine.

It speaks well for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy when druggists use it in their own families in preference to any other. "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the past five years with complete satisfaction to myself and customers," says Druggist J. Goldsmith, Van Etten, N. Y. "I have always used it in my own family both for ordinary coughs and colds and for the cough following la-grippe, and find it very efficacious." For sale by S. Howorth & Co., druggists.

Summer Resorts.

To the mountains our people in increasing numbers yearly look for those days of relaxation and recreation necessary to maintain the human machine in fair working condition. The languorous sloth of the seashore proves very seductive while it lasts, but many have decided that the annual outing should provide not only radical change of air and surroundings, but also such stimulation of flagging energies as will provide brawn and vigor for the return to labor. For this they urge the mountain climb and ramble, the balsam of the mountain pines, and the clear, unadulterated mountain air.

In this direction the Shasta Route now affords a wealth of attractions. The entire line of road from Ashland to Redding is studded with charming and accessible hotels and camps, where are cheer and comfort and healing at reasonable cost, and where you can hunt, fish, ride, loaf, or play with equal facility.

Or if you look for healing waters, none better can be found, hot or cold, than the springs of Ashland, Colestin, Anderson, Bartlett, Byron and Paso Robles.

Before visiting Europe, the people of the northwest should see the glories of Yosemite valley, and the wondrous groves of Mariposa and Calaveras; the Parisians are likely to make inquiries concerning these attractive resorts.

Send to Mr. C. H. Markham, general passenger agent, Portland, for new booklets on Castle Craig, Shasta Springs, McCleod River, Yosemite, and excursion rates thereto.

A Sprained Ankle Quickly Cured.

"At one time I suffered from a severe sprain of the ankle," says Geo. E. ALL ABOUT CALIFORNIA.

A Handsome Series of New and Useful Publications.

California is the natural paradise of the holiday maker. Its resources are inexhaustible, its invitation universal, and its resorts and attractions among the most noted in the world.

The Southern Pacific company publishes descriptive literature containing valuable information about all of them. It is for free distribution and may be obtained from any Southern Pacific agent, T. H. Goodman, general passenger agent at San Francisco, or C. H. Markham, G. P. A. Portland, Ore. If you apply by mail inclose a stamp for each publication.

"Resorts and attractions along the coast line" is a handsomely illustrated folder, giving a description of the health and pleasure resorts on the coast between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

"Shasta Resorts" embellished with beautiful half-tone engravings, describes the scenic and outing attractions of the vast and wonderful Shasta region, the grandest of pleasure grounds.

"California south of Tehachapi" tells all about the charms of that remarkably favored semi-tropic garden spot, Southern California.

A handsome map of California, complete in detail, reliable, skillfully indexed, and full of information about the State's resources. It is the only publication of its kind conveniently folded for pocket use.

"Summer Outings" is a 32-page folder devoted to the camping retreats in the Shasta region and Santa Cruz mountains. It appeals more directly to that large and growing class of recreation seekers who prefer this popular form of outing.

"Pacific Grove" is the Chautauqua of the west, and this folder not only describes the pretty place itself, but gives a program of the religious and educational meetings, conventions, schools, etc., to be held there this summer.

Other publications are "Lake Tahoe," "Geysers and Lake County," "Yosemite," "Hotel del Monte," "Castle Crags,"
