

SCROFULA The Blighting Disease of Heredity.

In many respects Scrofula and Consumption are alike; they develop from the same general causes, both are hereditary and dependent upon an impure and impoverished blood supply. In consumption the disease fastens itself upon the lungs; in Scrofula the glands of the neck and throat swell and suppurate, causing ugly running sores; the eyes are inflamed and weak; there is an almost continual discharge from the ears, the limbs swell, bones ache, and white swelling is frequently a result, causing the diseased bones to work out through the skin, producing indescribable pain and suffering. Cutting away a sore or diseased gland does no good; the blood is poisoned. The old scrofulous taint which has probably come down through several generations has polluted every drop of blood.

Scrofula requires vigorous, persistent treatment. The blood must be brought back to a healthy condition before the terrible disease can be stopped in its work of destruction. Mercury, potash and other poisonous minerals usually given in such cases do more harm than good; they ruin the digestion and leave the system in a worse condition than before.

S. S. S. is the only medicine that can reach deep-seated blood troubles like Scrofula. It goes down to the very roots of the disease and forces every vestige of poison out of the blood. S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known. The roots and herbs from which it is made contain wonderful blood purifying properties, which no poison, however powerful, can long resist. S. S. S. stimulates and purifies the blood, increases the appetite, aids the digestion and restores health and strength to the enfeebled body. If you have reason to think you have Scrofula, or your child has inherited any blood taint, don't wait for it to develop, but begin at once the use of S. S. S. It is a fine tonic and the best blood purifier and blood builder known, as it contains no poisonous minerals. S. S. S. is pre-eminently a remedy for children.

When my daughter was an infant she had a severe case of Scrofula, for which she was under the constant care of physicians for more than two years. She was worse at the end of that time, however, and we almost despaired of her life. A few bottles of Swift's Specific cured her completely, as it seemed to go direct to the cause of the trouble. I do not believe it has an equal for stubborn cases of blood diseases which are beyond the power of other so-called blood remedies. S. I. Brooks, Monticello, Ga.

Our medical department is in charge of experienced physicians who have made Scrofula and other blood diseases a life study. Write them about your case, or any one you are interested in. Your letter will receive prompt and careful attention. We make no charge whatever for this.

The state agricultural college did a neat and appropriate act last week in unveiling and dedicating a memorial tablet to the memory of Edwin C. Young, a former student, and one of the noble 64 of the Oregon regiment who never returned.

The same manifestation of public spirit displayed by Mrs. O. N. Denny of Lafayette in the matter of flax culture, is followed up by her on the subject of sugar beets. She has pledged to plant 20 acres for the Newberg factory. Here is an example worthy of emulation.

S. M. Gillingham has removed his printing outfit from Dayton to Cottage Grove, and will start a paper. When Mr. Gillingham invaded the Dayton field a few months ago, The Reporter suggested that there were better places in the state for a second paper than Dayton. Mr. Gillingham took umbrage and never forgave us for giving the advice he is now acting upon.

In the turmoil and tribulation of politics and war, Elsie Wright, the harness maker, has not been lost sight of. He is still doing business at the same old stand and is as ready now to give customers the best articles for the least money as he ever was. Among the latest invoice in his line will be found some very fine buggy robes and fancy bridles. His riding and buggy whips are good persuaders.

Prof. E. A. Lake of the state agricultural college has gone to Paris to study prune culture. His mission is due to the creation of a bill which passed congress, wherein there is appropriated the sum of $5000, which is made available for the trip. Prof. Lake is to report at Washington, D. C., where he receives his instructions and credentials. There are two other men from the United States in the employ of the federal government on a similar errand in France. He will return in November.

M. D. Wisdom, editor of the Rural Spirit, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, was in the city Monday, accompanied by W. H. Wehrung, the president of Hillsboro. They were out in the interest of county exhibits at the coming state fair, and while here enlisted the services of J. C. Cooper in preparing an exhibit for this county. They expect to secure grain and fruit exhibits from most of the counties of western Oregon. Mr. Wisdom says that the very best stock dealers in the state are interested in competitive exhibits of fine stock this year, which will make the feature of fine stock at the fair one of increased interest. Two of these breeders are Ladd of Oak Hill farm, this county, and W. O. Minor of Heppner, whose business is managed by N. C. Maris, formerly of Newberg. Their specialty is shorthorns. Premiums on horses and cattle run from $20, $40 and $5 down to diploma. There is a total of $1,000 in premiums for shorthorns. Dates of the fair are Sept. 17th to 22d.

We publish this week the semi-annual statements of the sheriff, clerk and treasurer. These reports would have been gotten up earlier, but County Clerk Nelson was expecting to receive the proper blanks from the secretary of the state for that purpose, hence the delay in making up his report.

Mr. Geo. Willis, sr., used to have a farm where is now a portion of McMinnville. He could raise big crops of wheat, and before threshing machines were as plentiful as they are now he often threshed his grain with a flail and winnowed it with the sea-breeze. Mr. Willis is just as good a farmer as he was then, and, although he does not grow wheat, he still has a house and garden on the site of the old farm, where he surely comes out ahead of his neighbors in the matter of raising potatoes. Last Monday Mr. Willis placed a basket of new potatoes on exhibition at this office, which would have captured the prize at any agricultural exhibit.

A law seeking to close barber shops on Sunday will be prepared for the next legislature. The barbers of almost every town or city would favor Sunday closing, if it were agreeable to their patrons. President Sam Howard, of the State Barbers' Commission, is favorable to the movement, and states the truth in a nutshell as follows: "Getting shaved on Sunday is merely a habit which some men have fallen into. Once the habit was broken they would not mind shaving on Saturday. If a man gets shaved Saturday evening the beard will not grow enough to be visible by Sunday. But there are many who get shaved on Sunday morning because it is convenient to do so. If the means were taken away I am confident that not many would mind it greatly."

Mrs. Metcalf, aged eighty-five years, died at the home of her son, L. M. Metcalf north of Newberg, at one o'clock Thursday morning. K. C. Eldridge has sold the creamery plant to a company made up of the dairymen who have been patronizing it, who will run it on the co-operative plan. Prof. Edwin Morrison has all his arrangements made and will leave here shortly for Chicago where he will spend the summer vacation taking special work in the University of Chicago. Prof. F. K. Jones has resigned his place on the college faculty and has accepted a professorship in the university at Wichita, Kansas, an institution in which his father is specially interested. He left here last Saturday for Berkeley, California, where he will take special work during the summer. Prof. Jones has done good work in Pacific College and he will be appreciated wherever he goes.—Newberg Graphic.

The climate and crop bulletin of the weather bureau gives the following for week ending June 25th: "Farm work has been retarded by the rains, which interfered most with the work of haying and the twining of hop vines. The fall wheat in the Willamette valley continues in a generally poor condition, and complaints are now made that in addition to the rust affecting it that many fields are badly invested by the grain aphid. In southern Oregon, the Columbia river valley and the plateau region fall wheat is doing splendidly. The warm weather has caused the heads to fill rapidly, and it is expected that cutting will be general in a week or ten days. The rains have been beneficial to spring wheat, and that crop has made excellent progress during the week. Barley, oats, corn, potatoes and gardens have also been benefited by the rains. Winter oats are heading nicely, and barley in many places is ripe and ready to cut. Hops continue to make rapid growth, and although hop lice are numerous they are not increasing very fast. Quite a large amount of hay, principally clover, in the Willamette valley and coast district, recently cut and lying on the ground, has been damaged beyond recovery by the rains, but that remaining uncut is abundant, and the loss will not be a serious one. In these sections cherries and berries have also been damaged by the wet weather, but in the remaining portions of the state fruit is doing nicely, and considerable thinning by hand has had to be done."

BROWN-WHELDON.

At the residence of A. H. Wheldon in the hills northwest of this city a very happy event was witnessed last Thursday afternoon, when the marriage of his daughter, Miss Elvora, took place, she being married to Mr. James D. Brown at that time, according to the beautiful ritual of the M. E. church, the ceremony being performed by Henry T. Atkinson, who is the pastor of that church in this city. The parlor in which the service took place was beautifully decorated with flowers and evergreens. At the conclusion of the ceremony, which was witnessed by a number of invited guests as well as by the relatives of the bride and groom, there were many congratulations offered to the young couple by those present, and the company then adjourned to the dining room, where a bountiful table was set. That long life and happiness may be through life the portion of Mr. and Mrs. Brown, is the sincere wish of their many friends.

AS TOLD BY ANOTHER.

The procession was headed by little Zella Fink, flower girl, then Mr. Verne Wheldon and Miss Pearl Dolph, groomsmen and bridesmaid, followed by the contracting parties. After the words which made them man and wife had been spoken, the guests were taken to the dining room, where an elegant lunch was served. Mr. Brown is well known and has been a student of McMinnville college for the past three years, and just two weeks ago receiving his degree of bachelor of science from this college. He had charge of the gymnasium and was star player in the football and base ball teams this year. The young lady whom he has taken for his life partner has been here only about a year from the east, and most of this time she has been with the Mark Sisters in the millinery store. She is an accomplished lady and has made a great many friends here. May plenty, peace and happiness go with them in their journey through life.

The Yamhill county teachers' annual institute will be held in the court house McMinnville, July 5th, 6th and 7th. Prof. Durrette and Prof. Groat will be the instructors. Teachers are required by law to be in attendance at this institute three days.

ALL ABOUT CALIFORNIA.

A Handsome Series of New and Useful Publications.

California is the natural paradise of the holiday maker. Its resources are inexhaustible, its invitation universal, and its resorts and attractions among the most noted in the world.

The Southern Pacific company publishes descriptive literature containing valuable information about all of them. It is for free distribution and may be obtained from any Southern Pacific agent, T. H. Goodman, general passenger agent at San Francisco, or C. H. Markham, G. P. A. Portland, Ore. If you apply by mail inclose a stamp for each publication.

"Resorts and attractions along the coast line" is a handsomely illustrated folder, giving a description of the health and pleasure resorts on the coast between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

"Shasta Resorts" embellished with beautiful half-tone engravings, describes the scenic and outing attractions of the vast and wonderful Shasta region, the grandest of pleasure grounds.

"California south of Tehachapi" tells all about the charms of that remarkably favored semi-tropic garden spot, Southern California.

A handsome map of California, complete in detail, reliable, skillfully indexed, and full of information about the State's resources. It is the only publication of its kind conveniently folded for pocket use.

"Summer Outings" is a 32-page folder devoted to the camping retreats in the Shasta region and Santa Cruz mountains. It appeals more directly to that large and growing class of recreation seekers who prefer this popular form of outing.

"Pacific Grove" is the Chautauqua of the west, and this folder not only describes the pretty place itself, but gives a program of the religious and educational meetings, conventions, schools, etc., to be held there this summer.

Other publications are "Lake Tahoe," "Geysers and Lake County," "Yosemite," "Hotel del Monte," "Castle Crags," each brimful of information about the places named, and printed in the highest style of the art.

There will be a fair peach crop in this vicinity this season. Some trees are overladen with the fruit. Henry Moech expects to have about 150 bushels, J. B. Fuson will have a good supply, and also J. J. Rowley, and others.

On Saturday last as Charles Saunders, who delivers the rural mail from the Dayton office, was starting out to deliver the mail, when near Nichols & Gabriel's store, Percy, little son of E. Hall, about 5 years of age, and Henry son of B. Gabriel, about the same age as Percy, who were at play near by, tried to climb into the mail wagon. Henry succeeded in doing so but Percy could not get in, and while dangling on the wagon his right leg was caught in the wheel and badly broken in two places just below the knee. His leg was so firmly caught in the spokes of the wheel and held so tight that Mr. Saunders, who had not noticed the boys until he heard the injured boy scream, had to back the wagon to release it. J. C. Nichols who was near by, also had his attention attracted by the outcry of the little boy. He carried him to Mr. Hall's residence and Dr. Courtney was called. The doctor set the fractured limb, and the boy is doing very nicely.—Dayton Herald.
