NEWBERG.

Prof. E. E. Compston, of Oregon City, is in town visiting with his parents.

Tuesday an ice cream social was given by the ladies of the Friends church.

Last week Mrs. J. Ingle, of Wisconsin, who has been visiting near town, left for a visit to LaGrande.

Quarterly meeting was held at the M. E. church last Sunday, Rev. D. A. Waters, presiding elder.

Mrs. M. E. Myers returned from a visit of several weeks at Grant's Pass, with her son and daughter.

Prof. D. M. Metzger, Mrs. Metzger and two children are visiting with relatives near town for a few days.

Mrs. W. N. Sutton and children are home after a two weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. C. G. Christenson, of Wheatland.

On Sunday next an old people's meeting will be held, in the old time style, at the M. E. church. Rev. Hosford, an aged minister of Portland, will preach.

A jolly crowd of ladies from Lafayette, took possession of Mrs. T. H. Bryan's home on Tuesday, and a very enjoyable day was spent, with a sumptuous dinner served, as only Mrs. Bryan gets up.

GOPHER.

Wilbur Agee was a Sunday visitor at his uncle's, Chas. Agee.

Miss Mamie Casey has returned to her home after a long stay at Bellevue.

Mrs. Cronin and daughter Mary, spent Sunday at Bellevue with Mrs. Dan Kirby.

Henry and Allen Davis of Muddy valley were guests at E. H. Taylor's Sunday.

Mrs. M. Agee, of Bellevue, visited at her daughter's, Mrs. Daniel, Friday and Saturday of last week.

Rev. Turnage and wife came over from Red Prairie Saturday and visited until Sunday evening with L. Agee.

A large crowd attended the church services Sunday, which were conducted by Prof. Northup of McMinnville.

Frank Kimsey is doing rapid work on J. Cronin's house, which is beginning to assume the look of a dwelling place.

J. Eborall has been busily employed in erecting a storehouse for his prunes. He expects to have a large amount of prunes this season.

No threshing has been done yet in this valley. The farmers have stacked all their grain that is ready, and are waiting for the spring grain to ripen.

Mrs. J. Eborall and Miss Cockerham made a trip to McMinnville Saturday. Mrs. Eborall returned home Sunday, accompanied by Miss Esther Eborall.

Glen and Eva Macy, of McMinnville, during the absence of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Macy, are visiting with their grandparents, Mr. I. Lambright and wife.

ALL ABOUT CALIFORNIA.

A Handsome Series of New and Useful Publications.

California is the natural paradise of the holiday maker. Its resources are inexhaustible, its invitation universal, and its resorts and attractions among the most noted in the world.

The Southern Pacific company publishes descriptive literature containing valuable information about all of them. It is for free distribution and may be obtained from any Southern Pacific agent, T. H. Goodman, general passenger agent at San Francisco, or C. H. Markham, G. P. A. Portland, Ore. If you apply by mail enclose a stamp for each publication.

"Resorts and attractions along the coast line" is a handsomely illustrated folder, giving a description of the health and pleasure resorts on the coast between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

"Shasta Resorts" embellished with beautiful half-tone engravings, describes the scenic and outing attractions of the vast and wonderful Shasta region, the grandest of pleasure grounds.

"California south of Tehachapi" tells all about the charms of that remarkably favored semi-tropic garden spot, Southern California.

A handsome map of California, complete in detail, reliable, skillfully indexed, and full of information about the State's resources. It is the only publication of its kind conveniently folded for pocket use.

"Summer Outings" is a 32-page folder devoted to the camping retreats in the Shasta region and Santa Cruz mountains. It appeals more directly to that large and growing class of recreation seekers who prefer this popular form of outing.

"Pacific Grove" is the Chautauqua of the west, and this folder not only describes the pretty place itself, but gives a program of the religious and educational meetings, conventions, schools, etc., to be held there this summer.

Other publications are "Lake Tahoe," "Geysers and Lake County," "Yosemite," "Hotel del Monte," "Castle Crags," each brimful of information about the places named, and printed in the highest style of the art.

The Wheat Failure.

In view of the very poor crop conditions this year in the Willamette valley and the question as to the cause of the same, Mr. E. B. Townsend, manager of the Portland Flouring Mills Co. in Albany, wrote to Prof. A. E. Cordley, of the department of zoology in the Oregon agricultural college, calling his attention to the presence of insects found generally in wheat straws and asking his opinion as to their connection with the crop failure. Prof. Cordley's reply follows:

"The insect to which you refer as feeding in the joints of wheat straw is commonly known as the joint worm and belongs to the chalcid genus isosoma. It is an insect capable of doing considerable injury, in fact there was one period during the first half of the century when the farmers in certain parts of the east were compelled to abandon the growth of cereals for a short time. So far as I have observed in this vicinity, however, only a small proportion of the stems are infested and I believe that this insect is only in a very slight degree responsible for the general failure of the wheat crop. In certain sections in the lower part of the valley the wheat has been badly injured by the true Hessian fly, and of course throughout the valley it has perhaps been slightly injured by the aphid, but undoubtedly most of the injury is due to our system of farming, and to unfavorable climatic conditions. By the growth of wheat after wheat, without the intervention of clover, or other similar crops, particularly by our system of summer fallowing, a very large proportion of humus has disappeared from the soil, which, in consequence, has a tendency to become cloddy. The frequent rains of last summer, alternating with drying weather, probably increased this tendency, and as there was practically no frost last winter to break up these clods, the soil has remained in a condition very unfavorable for the retention of the capillary moisture which is so essential to plant growth."

"Through the months of June and July our baby was teething and took a running off of the bowels and sickness of the stomach," says O. P. M. Holliday, of Deming, Ind. "His bowels would move from five to eight times a day. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house and gave him four drops in a teaspoonful of water and he got better at once." Sold by Howorth & Co., druggists.

Card of Thanks.

LAFAYETTE.

Rev. D. M. Metzger preached in Portland last Sunday.

Threshers are on the spring grain now, and the weather remains fine.

Mr. Howard will make the last pick on his blackberry patch on next Monday.

Rev. Frank Billington will preach here next Sunday at 11 o'clock in the Evangelical church.

Messrs. Hyde and Ewing, who moved Mr. Ott out to Lake county several months ago, returned on Tuesday.

Elder C. C. Poling held the quarterly meeting here on last Saturday and Sunday, taking his departure for Dallas on Monday.

Work on the locks is progressing finely. The contractors expect to finish the main work in ten days. Boats will be running through the locks by the 15th of September.

To the Public.

I have opened for business next door to Gaunt's barber shop, and will be pleased to see all my friends. A little later on we will be back at the old stand better prepared than ever to cater to all who desire a good meal at the old standard rate. Call and see us.

NOTICE.

R. Jacobson & Co. will run a midsummer clearance sale, commencing July 5, 1900, and will continue until every dollar's worth of summer goods is closed out. Cost or less is no object, as the goods must be closed out in order to give us room for fall stock.

From the Newberg Graphic.

Joe Porter has had great luck on his hunting trip in the Coast Range. He sent word in that he brought down two deer on one excursion last week, which made pretty good sport for one day.

Chas. Carl, who lately came here from Coos county, has been employed by Jesse Edwards to manage his dairy. Young Mr. Carl has had considerable experience in Coos, where dairying is the great industry and has made that country prosperous. He says that last month his father, who has something over thirty cows, and an eighty acre farm, realized two hundred dollars from his dairy. We need a few practical dairymen up in this part of the country to show some of our farmers what there is to be gained in taking up the industry. With wheat yielding from five to ten bushels, now would be a good time to make the lesson a very plain and easy one.

The bridge west of town will be finished up this week ready for travel, and will be immediately put to a much appreciated use by teamsters who have waited on its completion to begin hauling cord wood from across the canyon. In the first place however a good deal of grading will have to be done, especially at the west approach. The bridge will be a big improvement to the town in many ways. It took one hundred thousand feet of lumber for the structure. R. M. Gilbert of McMinnville, the contractor, took the job for $952, but some additional work has been done in the way of painting and lengthening the span and he says the total cost will be something near $1100.

The annual meeting of the Oregon press association will be held at Ashland September 19th and 20th.

CARLTON.

Mrs. Messenger is quite sick. Mrs. Wiser who has been quite sick, is reported a little better.

On Monday evening the young people of the Christian church gave an ice cream social in connection with their monthly business meeting. There was quite a large crowd present, and a very good time was enjoyed.

Last Sunday the ladies' aid society of the Christian church gave Aunt Lucinda Caldwell a surprise in honor of her eightieth birthday. There were thirty-two present, and a very good time was reported. Aunt Lucinda is a member of the lookout committee in the aid society, and a member of the christian endeavor society. She seems as young as some people at twenty-five. She is the mother of David Caldwell of McMinnville.

Ion. W. A. Howe of Carlton, came near losing his life by asphyxiation a few days ago. Mr. Howe was having the interior of a large water tank painted, the preservative having the peculiarity of throwing off strong fumes of ether during the process of drying. The painter who had the work in charge was overcome before finishing the tank. Mr. Howe decided to relieve him, and tying a sponge about his mouth and nostrils as a safeguard against the gas, he descended into the tank and began wielding the brush. His movements were merely mechanical, for he states that he was overcome by the gas nearly as soon as he entered the tank, and worked away unconsciously for several minutes until he became exhausted. He was rescued as quickly as possible, and recovered when supplied with wholesome air unmixed with the deadly fumes of the paint.

Damage to last year's wheat crop by rains, and the poor crops of this year, have left the wheat farmer in poor condition financially. It is encouraging to find however that the farmers generally are not discouraged, although very much disgusted. The change from a one-crop way of farming to a system which will include live stock and the growth of forage plants in rotation with grain will come about much quicker than anyone could have hoped, and men who for many years have been unwavering in their fidelity to wheat are now looking for sheep or other stock and inquiring about the culture of clover, rape and other forage plants. When the next year of very poor wheat crop comes in the Willamette valley, it will bring distress to but few, because nearly every farmer will then have some important source of income in addition to wheat.

Some growers believe that hops will reach as high a market price as twenty cents this year.

Mrs. Asbury will return today, from a two months' visit with her parents in Grant county.

In Harney county, $35 to $65 per head is paid for horses by speculators, who want them to sell to the government.

Rev. G. W. Fender will return home next week, and will occupy the pulpit at the C. P. church Sunday, Sept. 2d. Services at the usual hours.

A man from Los Angeles passed through Rogue River valley last week, having about 100 Belgian hares for sale at prices ranging from $10 to $50 apiece. Farmers generally had judgment enough to prefer cows to rabbits.

President McKinley will have a body-guard of 200 policemen, under the command of Captain Gibbons, and the same number of national guardsmen, at the reception to the nation's chief executive and other distinguished visitors to be given in Chicago by the G. A. R. officials next Tuesday. This precaution is deemed necessary on account of threats made by anarchists.

A Medford dispatch says that the fruit of Rogue River Valley is going to turn out much shorter than was first estimated, especially on pears, prunes and plums. The pear crop is very light. Nearly all plums and prunes will be shipped dried this year, and will amount to 15 to 20 cars.
