

CANCER Cannot be Cut Out or Removed with Plasters

Surgical operations and flesh destroying plasters are useless, painful and dangerous, and besides, never cure Cancer. No matter how often a cancerous sore is removed, another comes at or near the same point, and always in a worse form. Does not this prove conclusively that Cancer is a blood disease, and that it is folly to attempt to cure this deep-seated, dangerous blood trouble by cutting or burning out the sore, which, after all, is only an outward sign of the disease—a place of exit for the poison?

Cancer runs in families through many generations, and those whose ancestors have been afflicted with it are liable at any time to be stricken with the deadly malady.

Only Blood Diseases can be Transmitted from One Generation to Another

—further proof that Cancer is a disease of the blood. To cure a blood disease like this you must cure the entire blood system—remove every trace of the poison. Nothing cures Cancer effectually and permanently but S. S. S.

S. S. S. enters the circulation, searches out and removes all taint, and stops the formation of cancerous cells. No mere tonic or ordinary blood medicine can do this. S. S. S. goes down to the very roots of the disease, and forces out the deadly poison, allowing the sore to heal naturally and permanently. S. S. S. at the same time purifies the blood and builds up the general health. A little pimple, a harmless looking wart or mole, a lump in the breast, a cut or bruise that refuses to heal under ordinary treatment, should all be looked upon with suspicion, as this is often the beginning of a bad form of cancer.

Mrs. Sarah M. Keeling, 941 Windsor Ave., Bristol, Tenn., writes: "I am 41 years old, and for three years had suffered with a severe form of Cancer on my jaw, which the doctors in this city said was incurable, and that I could not live more than six months. I accepted their statement as true, and had given up all hope of ever being well again, when my druggist, knowing of my condition, recommended S. S. S. After taking a few bottles the sore began to heal, much to the surprise of the physicians, and in a short time made a complete cure. I have gained in flesh, my appetite is splendid, sleep is refreshing—in fact, am enjoying perfect health."

Our medical department is in charge of physicians of long experience, who are especially skilled in treating Cancer and other blood diseases. Write for any advice or information wanted, we make no charge whatever for this service. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, ATLANTA, GA.

Mrs. Emma Snelling and daughter, Bena, returned home Tuesday evening from a season of camping at Long Beach. While there they visited Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McKinney, formerly of this place, who have since January been engaged in the stock and poultry business, and we are pleased to learn, are having a good degree of success. The tents at Long Beach are said to present the appearance of a veritable army, and the boats and trains are always crowded.

L. Wambagan finished picking his Gravenstein apples last Friday. Off of 70 trees he picked 250 bushels of good marketable apples, which he sold for 40 cents per bushel. The remark is often made that raising fruit does not pay. It is a sure thing that Mr. Wambagan has made more off his apple crop than any wheat grower will make off his wheat crop, taking into consideration the amount of land cultivated, and the expense of cultivating it. By selecting suitable land and properly setting out trees and cultivating them, it is evident that fruit will give better returns than wheat.

B. Gabriel estimates the amount of wheat that he will receive at the Red warehouse this season at 20,000 bushels. The amount received in former years was in the neighborhood of 75,000. The discrepancy in the amount received this year is on account of the light crops. The Dayton evaporator is now running on potatoes. Fifty cents a hundred is the price paid for good potatoes.—Dayton Herald.

C. B. Lafollet of this city has made money out of one cow by furnishing milk to the cheese factory. His returns for the milk for the month are $3.30, besides all the milk a family of five and a young calf could use. If the factory hadn't been here his wife would have made butter of the surplus, for which he spent $2.10, leaving him a net profit of $1.60 and the extra work in making the butter. Sheridan's cheese factory closed a month's run yesterday morning. The product of the factory is about 1700 pounds of cheese, for which, at market prices, they will receive about $178. $136 of this is to be divided among the 20 patrons, leaving $42 for the manufacturers. Out of this they will pay $41 for milk hauling, $4 for wood, $2 for rent and some for freight for shipment of the cheese to market. So not much clear profit is left to the manufacturers. Mr. Ziemer thinks he will give it about two weeks' more trial and if more milk is not brought by that time he will shut down until next spring.—Sheridan Sun.

They are cautious and conservative, but without aggressive, and their policy is to absorb the weak and to become masters of the field, and beyond any reasonable question, the California Consolidated Petroleum Company will earn for its stockholders dividends that will send the stock many times about par, and make many investors comfortable for life, if not rich. Its stock should be bought before it advances, as it surely will. Stock redeemable on demand at any time within 30 days from date of certificate. All money paid in installments refunded on demand at any time within 30 days from date of first payment. Summer Resorts.

To the mountains our people in increasing numbers yearly look for those days of relaxation and recreation necessary to maintain the human machine in fair working condition. The languorous sloth of the seashore proves very seductive while it lasts, but many have decided that the annual outing should provide not only radical change of air and surroundings, but also such stimulation of flagging energies as will provide brawn and vigor for the return to labor. For this they urge the mountain climb and ramble, the balsam of the mountain pines, and the clear, unadulterated mountain air.

In this direction the Shasta Route now affords a wealth of attractions. The entire line of road from Ashland to Redding is studded with charming and accessible hotels and camps, where are cheer and comfort and healing at reasonable cost, and where you can hunt, fish, ride, loaf, or play with equal facility.

Or if you look for healing waters, none better can be found, hot or cold, than the springs of Ashland, Coalinga, Anderson, Bartlett, Byron and Paso Robles.

Before visiting Europe, the people of the northwest should see the glories of Yosemite Valley, and the wondrous groves of Mariposa and Calaveras; the Parisians are likely to make inquiries concerning these attractive resorts.

He Believes in Raising Sheep.

George Young, formerly proprietor of the Occidental Hotel, Portland, but for a number of years engaged in woolgrowing in eastern Oregon, was lately interviewed by an Oregonian reporter. Mr. Young said the greatest desire of his life was to learn in advance what was going to be the result of the coming presidential election. He was not so much interested in who might be elected as in knowing beforehand who was to be the successful candidate. If Bryan was to be elected he wanted to know it in time to convert his sheep into gold dollars, and then he would put the money into an old stocking and bury it, and wait for the clouds to roll by.

Speaking of sheep, Mr. Young said Oregon and the Willamette valley, especially, was peculiarly adapted to growing sheep. There used to be a good many sheep kept in the Willamette valley, and everybody was prosperous. Now there were but few sheep kept there, and the ground had been cropped to wheat in many places for 40 years, and the result was a partial failure of the wheat crop. The farmers in the Willamette would have to go back to keeping a reasonable number of sheep. They killed out weeds, and fertilized the ground, and put it in condition for raising good crops.

He told of the trouble and expense he had been in killing off coyotes, and blamed the selfishness of Portland people, who opposed in the legislature the paying of a bounty on coyote scalps. He said that the city was dependent on the country, and vice versa, and that because there were no coyotes in Portland and no sheep and chickens there for them to kill, was no just reason for the citizens to object to a slight tax to provide a fund to aid in exterminating coyotes.

A Minister's Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Fowler, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured." WEDDING GOODS.
We wish to call special attention to our fine line of paper and envelopes for wedding invitations and announcements. Invitations are not quite as much in evidence as they were a few years ago, though they are still all right. Announcements sent out immediately after the important event, are very generally used. Either is accepted as a token of friendship, and is treasured as a souvenir and keepsake in every household where healthy sentiment abounds. The sending should not be neglected. An announcement or invitation should be artistic both in form and execution. We have beautiful stationery, and have recently added a series of type by which the fine effects of lithography can be fairly imitated if not equaled.

PARTY INVITATIONS.
For most invitations the square bevel-edged card 3 1/2 x 4 1/2 cannot be surpassed, either printed or written. We have them and can furnish them either written or printed very reasonably.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.
We have recently added a line of mourning bordered note paper, to meet the legitimate public demand for this class of printing. Our facilities are unsurpassed, and calls from adjacent towns can be filled in an hour's time.
