TO COMPOUND PRESCRIPTIONS

properly it takes time. It requires experience and a complete knowledge of drugs. It requires the druggist to have a large variety of drugs—fresh drugs. He must give the best possible work, and for compensation he must be reasonable. With the above facts remember we are careful and strive to please one and all alike. These are reasons why our prescription file thrives all in this county. We are recognized by doctor and customer alike for being accurate and dispensing only the purest drugs.

SAVE MONEY BY ATTENDING THE

YAMHILL COUNTY STREET FAIR & CARNIVAL

Celebrating the Completion of the Yamhill Locks.

McMINNVILLE, OREGON, SEPT. 27, 28, 29.

The preparations for celebrating the completion of the Yamhill locks are taking shape in a very encouraging manner. The petition circulated and signed asking Messrs. R. P. Bird, H. S. Maloney and J. C. Cooper to act as an executive committee and to appoint other committees to make arrangements for the celebration by holding a street fair here, was accepted by these gentlemen, and they went to work to carry out their part of the program.

To this end they have promulgated the following official announcement:

It has been decided to hold a street fair here September 27, 28 and 29 under a large canvas pavilion covering the intersection of Third and D Streets, where the products will be exhibited by the several precincts of the county, on stands prepared and set apart for each. These exhibits will be presided over by young ladies selected from each precinct.

In the center of this pavilion the exercises of crowning the queen will take place, and she will be seated on an elevated throne in sight of the multitude. King Carnival will arrive on the steamer from the locks. He will be met at the landing and escorted to the pavilion with great pomp and ceremony with blare and blast of horn and bomb.

Several farmers have urged that an old fashioned barbecue be given and when the farmers come to the front the rest of mankind will take off their hats and bless them.

Three young men from each precinct in the county have been appointed to nominate a candidate from that precinct to be voted for for queen of the carnival, and to look after collecting and superintending the exhibit from their respective precincts. This will make spirited rivalry and rich fun for the boys. It divides up the larger towns and gives the smaller ones an equal advantage.

Hon. Binger Hermann the man whose indomitable energy got the bill through congress to build the locks and Hon. Thos. H. Tongue who has fought it to a finish in spite of—and high water will deliver appropriate addresses.

Yes, and some one has proposed a baby show. Well, we've got 'em and we'll have the show. Whoop'em up Liza Jane!

The following committees have been appointed:

Willamina—Guy Lamson, J. C. Cockermham, Frank Brown.

A meeting of all the young men of the precinct committees through the county appointed to nominate candidates for queen will be held at the committee rooms here Saturday, September 1st, at 11 a. m., to agree upon a system of balloting, qualifications of candidates and to discuss and agree upon the several duties of these committees. As full attendance as possible is requested. Select your candidates as soon as possible. This meeting is important. Balloting should begin very soon.

SOME SUGGESTIONS TO COMMITTEES AND CITIZENS.

There is a great field open now for one of the most enjoyable occasions the people of Yamhill county have ever had. Of late years McMinnville and surrounding towns have learned that it is not necessary nor economical to run off to Portland to have a good time. We have the talent and the resources to make such a time at home, where every member of every family can enjoy equal privileges for happiness. This carnival will be such an occasion. It is highly proper, and the completion of the locks is a matter of such importance in Yamhill's history as to fully justify the effort now making for a big celebration. It is suggested that in order to get together the best industrial display, special prizes should be offered for work in the following among other lines:

Best collection of Indian work, best amateur photography, best art, best domestic work, best kindergarten work, best collection of native botanical specimens, best shell, head, willow and bark work, best brass band. We are assured of the baby show, but let us not forget the best pair of twins, over two and under five years, and the oldest couple in the county. Prizes need not be expen-

There is more real enjoyment in the sociability following such effort than in giving and receiving valuable prizes.

The plans of the executive committee are not definitely formulated along all lines, but are likely to take on an order something like the following:

A large pavilion 60 feet square will be erected at the First National Bank corner, under which exhibits will be staged, and it may be necessary to employ a room for a portion of the display. The first day will be occupied with crowning the queen and reception to King Carnival. The second day, excursion to the locks. The third day, barbecue and speaking, base ball and award of premiums.

Invitations are to be sent to Senator McBride, Ex-Senator Mitchell, Congressman Moody, Governor Geer and other dignitaries, whose attendance will lend great eclat to the occasion. Should Gov. Roosevelt's itinerary to the west be timely, he will be invited.

Of course the people of the county and many from neighboring counties will be here. If you are an old Yamhiller, and have been long away, this will be your opportunity to return and renew acquaintance. Everybody is cordially invited. The event will mark an epoch in this county.

Elks Carnival.

Account grand carnival of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, to be held at Portland, September 4th to 15th inclusive, tickets will be sold at reduced rates from all stations on Oregon lines to Portland and return. These tickets will be on sale September 3d, 4th, 6th and 13th, and limited to three days after date of sale.

NOTICE.

R. Jacobson & Co. will run a midsummer clearance sale, commencing July 5, 1900, and will continue until every dollar's worth of summer goods is closed out. Cost or less is no object, as the goods must be closed out in order to give us room for fall stock.

You assume no risk when you buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Howorth & Co., druggists, will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using it. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaints and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and reliable.

To the Public.

I have opened for business back at the old stand, and will be pleased to see all my friends. We are better prepared than ever to cater to all who desire a good meal at the old standard rate. Call and see us.

Advised Letters.

The following letters remain uncalled for in the McMinnville postoffice August 28, 1900:

Chas. O. Anderson (foreign), H. S. Esmaay, Wm. Fletcher, Miss Mable Gilbert, Jess Hess, Mrs. L. E. Hood, J. M. Hulery, O. R. Lerens (5), F. J. Middaugh, Mrs. F. Small, Glen Roobner, Maude Ryan.

JAMES McCAIN, P. M.

"Through the months of June and July our baby was teething and took a running off of the bowels and sickness of the stomach," says O. P. M. Holliday, of Deming, Ind. "His bowels would move from five to eight times a day. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house and gave him four drops in a teaspoonful of water and he got better at once." Sold by Howorth & Co., druggists.

Ex-Governor W. J. McConnell, whose position as inspector of Indian agencies requires him to travel all over Idaho, says there is a great change in political feeling, and expresses the opinion that the republicans will carry nearly every county in the state.

ELDER LINDSEY'S NOME EXPERIENCE.

Among the best addresses ever given by Elder Lindsey in this city was that delivered from his pulpit Sunday night, when he gave a portion of his experience in Nome City. It was listened to by a large audience. One of his earliest experiences after reaching there was the ministerial duty of preaching the funeral discourse of a fellow steamboat passenger, who was sick on the way up, and with whom he had formed a close acquaintance on the voyage. He died with the words "Wife and babies" on his lips, and they buried him in three feet of ice. The first Sunday in Nome the elder in company with Dr. Templeton of Portland, set up a big dry goods box as their pulpit, in front of the Hunters saloon on Main street, and mounted it in the midst of about 5,000 people. They felt very strange in this position, and did not know what moment a shot from some pistol would take their heads off. But for fear of being gayed, they began singing "What a friend we have in Jesus." After the first verse there came the demand from various parts of the vast throng, "Sing another verse." This they did, and before the song was finished, most of the bystanders were joining in. A drunken man attempted to climb up the box, and succeeding, Brother Lindsey placed his arm about him and invited him to share the book. But he persisted in singing the song two octaves higher and usurping the preacher's place, until it became necessary to fire him. The encouraging talk which the elder then gave was well received. He advised them to save the money they had left and get out of the town away from temptation. It was a cheering and encouraging message where it was sorely needed. The drunken man was among the first to grasp the preacher's hand and declare that he would cease drinking, a resolution that he afterwards carried out. Other Sundays followed in a similar way, the services being generally well received, and considerable money contributed voluntarily for the "salvation army," as the little band of leaders had come to be called. Elder Lindsey scored with some warmth of eloquence the work of the transportation companies in inaugurating the gold excitement for the sole purpose of filling their coffers, and in bribing the metropolitan press to withhold truthful reports of the degree of crime and the number of deaths. He would not cease to hold it against them and to expose the iniquity. Had Dr. Goucher and himself remained and had the means, they could have constructed a hospital and have had for entertainment and healing thousands of people. He returned to McMinnville with a stronger conviction than ever of the great brotherhood of man. He was more of a fraternalist and less a religionist than before, and while he could not point to many converts at Nome, nor had not mined much gold, he believed that he had taken blessed truths from God's word and impressed them upon his hearers which might prove of more value to them than nuggets of earthly gold, and the work performed was sufficiently important to him and his associates that his church could not regret the three months' time that he was loaned to the mining camp. He announced that his second year as pastor would begin with next Sunday morning's service. During his absence a trip inland of 75 miles reduced the elder 35 pounds in flesh. His last meal before leaving Nome was taken with Sam Laughlin and Ernest Henderson, and it was full of brotherly love and affection.

Rhude is Biting it Off.

County Treasurer Rhude last week sent $2,300 to State Treasurer Moore to apply on Yamhill county's state tax for 1899.

The state levy is 6 3/10 mills, and on Yamhill's valuation makes $30,997.68. Mr. Rhude's payments during the year have been as follows:

Remitted in March $ 3,000 00
" " May 4,000 00
" " June 6,574 64
" " July 5,000 00
" " August 2,300 00

Total $20,874 64
Balance due 10,123 04

Total tax $30,997 68

The treasurer figures that the obligation will probably be wiped out during September.
