When at the fair come to the O. K.—right close to the lions, but they won't hurt you. They are too well fed; so are all who come to the O. K.

Sandusky Wilson's family of Goldendale, Wash., arrived Wednesday evening to attend the carnival. Here's hoping they'll all have a good time.

When you are in town go and see H. A. Palmer & Co.'s fine new stock of groceries, and don't forget that they pay the highest cash price for all kinds of produce; eggs and poultry a specialty.

The ladies of Knowles Chapter, Order Eastern Star, will serve lunch from 11:30 a. m. until 8 p. m., today, Friday, in the Adams building. Come and enjoy a substantial lunch.

The Sheridan public schools will open Monday, Oct. 1st. The following corps of teachers has been engaged: Prof. C. C. Linden, principal; Miss Edith Percival, Miss Bessie Linden and Miss Mildred Daugherty.

The Woodmen monument has been erected over the grave of Frank Hibbs. The date of dedication has been deferred till next June, when the monument to Mrs. Harvey Henderson's memory will be dedicated also.

The members of Pennington's threshing crew presented Mr. Pennington a handsome gold watch chain, having upon one side the I. O. O. F. emblem and upon the other that of the A. O. U. W. John is well thought of by his men.

Ben Sparks' public sale on Wednesday was only fairly well attended. Stock and implements generally brought a good price. Ben is going to farm his own land, and Mr. Bones will succeed to the tenancy of the Todd farm.

There will be no limit to the noise. Dick Phillips will have a carnival feature. He will place in a little pen on main street a half-grown donkey with ears as large as tobacco leaves, and when it is away from its mother it utters no uncertain sound. Some of the boys have named it "Col. Bryan."

Married, at Forest Grove, Sept. 27th, Clark Hembree of Monmouth and Miss Pearl Stewart. Both are well known in this county, Mr. Hembree being a brother of W. L. of this city, and a former resident of this place, and Miss Stewart was for many years a resident of North Yamhill. They will reside at Monmouth.

The services at the Christian church next Lord's day are as follows: Morning subject—The life of Jesus among Men. Evening subject—The Chinese War, and the Survival of the Fittest. Special music by the male quartette. Look out for the Christian social soon, for which a splendid program is being arranged. Mrs. Al Young will recite some of her best selections. Excellent music, etc.

In St. James' Catholic church a mission is being conducted this week by the Rev. Fr. Smith, a missionary of repute from the east. Fr. Smith comes from the Paulist house in New York city, and this is his first experience on the Pacific coast. Great interest is taken in his forceful and instructive discourses, and the mission gives all—Catholics and non-Catholics—a rare treat, in learning the positive side of dogma, the high and strict morality which the Catholic church proclaims and enforces. Services every evening at a quarter before eight; in the mornings at half-past eight. All are made welcome. Next week several days will be given to the outlying portion of Catholics who ordinarily worship in St. Patrick's chapel. The services next week will be held in schoolhouse No. 36, Gopher valley, as being nearer and more central.

M. E. Hendrick is now located in his new quarters, and offers a new line of groceries, crockery and glassware at prices consistent with a moderately filled purse.

Herbert Toney left for Ann Arbor dental college last Monday. His many friends here look forward to his graduation and return with great pleasure, as he is a good and bright boy.

Awards for the best county exhibits at the state fair were in the following order: Marion first, Linn second, Washington third, Benton fourth. Yamhill made no county exhibit. If she had she would have displaced one of these neighbors.

An Apple Social.

Something unique in the social line was given by the Epworth League in the Adams building Tuesday evening. Paper slips each bearing a number and one or more letters were given out, and those receiving them were required to seek among their friends for the duplicate numbers, the letters on these forming the name of some well-known variety of apple. The person gathering these slips of the same number had to write a couplet rhyming with the name which the letters spelled. First prize, an apple pie of generous proportions, was awarded to Mrs. A. N. Martin, for a poem on the "Newtown Pippin." Miss Edith Seitters won second prize, an apple pie of smaller size, the subject of her poem being the "Maiden's Blush." Third prize was a very small apple pie. This was given to Miss Grace Sutherland for a verse on the "Russett." Lunch boxes were sold at auction, the proceeds of which netted the sum of about $5.50.

COLLEGE NOTES.

The second week of school closes with more enrolled than the corresponding week last year.

The number scheduled to graduate this year is nine: four from the classical and scientific, four from the literary and one from the normal course.

Although we miss some of the old students, we are glad so many have decided to come again.

One of the students in physics seems to think he is sorely imposed upon. After fretting and inhumanly biting his lips to keep from using foul breath while trying to ascertain the tensile strength of a wire, the fate befell him to drop a weight upon his cornfield, thus causing him to break all former engagements with his lips, and how the smoke rolled.

We are soon to have a telephone connected with the central office. The students have contributed half of the expenses for the school year.

The musical director is nursing a fine coat of poison oak.

The college is to be represented with a glee club, so if unaccountable noises are heard at any time this winter be sure you blame the right ones.

Ginger has become a noted drink with the professors.

The Philergian society began its work Saturday night. A division of the society is advocated.

The Y. M. C. A.'s first meeting was attended by a large number. Let it continue.

Watch for the exhibit of the college at the carnival and get literature.

Sore fingers and slippery tongues are epidemic at the laboratory.

Sad Ending of Ray Miller.

A painful accident to contemplate was that which happened on the Jolly farm Monday afternoon. C. J. Miller's eldest son Ray was bucking straw with another boy. The thresher had stopped, and the boys were off their horses. When it started again, the other boy's horse took fright, and ran around Ray's horse. He grabbed the tug in his effort to hold his horse, and in the mix-up he was struck by the straw sweep, and it is presumed that one of the sharp teeth penetrated him. When the threshers reached him his bowels were protruding from the breach, though he had risen to his feet and walked a couple of rods. Dr. Goucher was speedily summoned, and aided by Dr. Michaux, all possible attention was given the unfortunate lad. He lingered until 11 p. m. Wednesday, when death ended his suffering. The tooth of the rake penetrated his stomach from the right side and broke two ribs on the left side. The burial was held yesterday afternoon.

The Mother of Christian Science.

Local followers of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy feel that their leader has been so misrepresented and maligned that some statement of refutation should be made and request us to state that on the 6th of the present month the lady was the guest of the Concord state fair at Concord, N. H. As the carriage approached the governor's reviewing stand, she was announced to the throng as the Rev. Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of christian science. The band struck up a patriotic air, and the 10,000 spectators in the amphitheater waved handkerchiefs, cheered and applauded. In deference to Mrs. Eddy's distaste for undue demonstrations, the crowd had been requested to refrain from a too boisterous recognition of her presence. After having made the circuit of the grounds, Mrs. Eddy and her escort, together with about 50 visiting scientists, witnessed the greater part of the afternoon program. Before leaving, Mrs. Eddy expressed to the authorities and to her escort her appreciation of the honor paid her.

In the language of one admirer: "Every person present had the opportunity to see that Mrs. Eddy is in excellent health. She is in full possession of every faculty. Whatever may be the number of her years, and they are more than three-score and ten, she is youthful in appearance and vigorous in every act and movement. Her bright, sparkling eye, her clear, fair complexion, her quick vivacious movements, bespoke a strong body and a forceful intellect. Her public appearance is conclusive evidence that she is no recluse. She is glad to meet the people, and the only reason for so seldom appearing is the strict attention she gives to the best and important interests in her care. Her appearance on the state fair grounds shows the breadth of her interests."
