EDITOR'S EXPERIENCE.

ARMY LIFE CAUSES PHYSICAL AND MENTAL DISABILITY FOR MANY YEARS.

Rescued From Death by Reading an Advertisement-A Journalist of Note Advises His Readers and Friends.

From Farmer & Dairyman, North Yakima, Wash

In 1883, I entered the regular U. S. Army and was assigned to Co "E," Sixth Infantry, then stationed at Fort Douglas, Utah. My boyhood days had been spent on a farm in Kentucky, but I had not been accustomed to manual labor for several years previous to entering upon active military duties. The constant and excessive daily drills, sleeping in tents and general exposure of a severe winter, brought on a peculiar nervous trouble, which soon incapacitated me for all garrison work.

The post surgeon ordered me to the hospital and diagnosed my case as muscular rhuematism. My lower limbs seemed to be dying-losing all sense of ontward feeling. The most excruciating pains made me almost wild with misery and I could not stand alone. My appetite was ravenous, digestion perfect, lungs strong and general health good except for this distressing disability.

After several days' treatment with no change, the surgeon concluded I had heart failure. He prescribed tincture of digitalis, and gave me several cept that I kept getting worse. In the his enemy slowly falling behind. The fall of 1884, I was discharged on surold hound appeared to know that there geon's certificate of disability, and bewas danger in his rear and took to the gan the difficult task of existing and trying to regain my health in a strange uae tht rushing train went past him, but land, surrounded by unsympathetic

My condition continued to grow more plarming. I was compelled to use a heavy staff to prevent talling. Altoona the track inspector found the Al! attempts at manual and mental labor were made under exasperating difficulties I seemed about one-hal dead. My weight was less than 140 pounds, though I was over six feet in height. I tried electricity with no avail. Several local physicians gave me treatment which was not effective. Many well advertised remedies for nervous debility were taken with no satisfactory results.

I read all the medical authorities obtainable, and finally found my symptoms under the head of Locomotor Ataxia. The author said there was no cure for the disease, and I believed him. He recommended a mixture of iodide of potassium and sarsaparilla, as a possible aid to existence. I took several bottles of this formula and double the strength. This failing, I made up my mind to die as soon as possible. There was no comfort, pleasure or happiness in life which knew nothing but

One day I read the experience of a man who had been afflicted with Locomotor Ataxia, and cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I bought one box and tried the remedy, following the directions very closely. This had a little effect, and I procured a half dozen boxes, and took them before I was convinced that a cure was possible. I began with one pill after each meal, in a few days I took two, and finally used one box a week. My pains gradually disappearwalk, run and jump, and actually dis-

The readers of this paper will be pleased to the searn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucons surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

An ingenious table intended for the use of invalids who are confined to the bed, has been devised. It is so arranged that it can be raised or lowered, and can be increased or decreased in diameter, to overlap the side of the bed. By pressing a knob it can be converted into a reading-desk, and spring clips are provided for holding the reading matter in position. The mechanism of this table is so easily worked that an inavlid can operate it without assistance.

A Phosphorescent Crab.

There was recently added to the aquarium at Calcutta a gigantic crab about two feet in diameter across its shell, and having legs three feet long, which was captured in a drag-net in the Indian ocean about a mile from the shore and at a depth of 45 fathoms. After being placed in a large tank it devoured the fish and smaller crustaceans that were its fellow prisoners, and later, in the evening, surprised its keepers and visitors by emitting a white phosphorescent light, strangely illuminating the gloomy corner where it had concealed itself between two weak, either naturally or because boulders.

Why Certain Metals Cannot Be Cast. As is well known, some metals are unsuitable for casting, while others, like iron, can readily be cast in any desired shape. The property of casting well is said to depend upon whether the metal contracts or expands on solidifying from the liquid form.
