December Perfumes

A good while ago we began thinking about holiday perfumes; come and see what our thinking has amounted to.

It has resulted in a rare assortment of the finest goods obtainable, in securing some new specialties, and in getting all the price concessions possible.

It is apt to be a sin against your purse and satisfaction if you fail to see our line. Perhaps its a little early for Christmas buying, but the goods are here and forehanded people needn't wait.

THE U. S. SENATOR.

A Column Devoted to an Unbiased, Unprejudiced Discussion of Probable Candidates.

The republicans will have fifty-five members in the next legislative assembly, not counting the citizen members from Multnomah county. Assuming that five of that delegation cooperate with the republicans, thirty-one will constitute a majority of the republican members. The plan to name a party candidate for senator by secret caucus, if successful, would mean that thirty-one men could meet and bind the other twenty-nine to support a man whom they might name, under penalty for failure or refusal of being branded as party outlaws. Those twenty-nine men might honestly feel that the individual selected did not really represent the republican party, and consequently refuse to support him. His "nomination" might be secured by questionable methods. Money might be used to secure a majority of a caucus and excused under the plea that it is not dishonest, as it is only a "nomination" and not an election. A caucus nomination might be secured when party endorsement might be absolutely impossible. The result would be the same—a perversion of the real party will. Let there be no such scandal attach to the forthcoming election as has attended all those of recent years. Let us have a decent, honest and orderly selection of senator. Let a man be chosen who can accomplish something for the state, and not one who only thinks he can. Let a man be elected who is on friendly terms with the president and his cabinet officers, and whom the leaders of the party in the senate respect and recognize as the real representative of the party in the state. Let no man's claims be considered because of his ability to maintain a paid lobby to shout his praises. The possession of wealth should not be a passport to the United States senate, though it has recently become noticeable that the millionaires are on the increase in that body, and in nearly every instance their selection has been made only after the party has been scandalized and charges of corruption unsuccessfully refuted. Let Oregon declare emphatically that a mere money bag shall not represent her in the upper house of congress.—Communicated.

The Kind of a Senator We Need.

The shrewdest, soundest views on the question of trade with the Philippines that we have yet seen are those of Hon. H. W. Corbett, as published in our last issue. His lifelong training, habit, and temperament, carry him intuitively and unerringly to the very heart of a business proposition. There are none better than Mr. Corbett on a question of business or finance, and this, coupled with the fact that he is known of all to be honest and upright, is sufficient reason why he should be elected to represent Oregon in the United States senate. The next six years is fraught with great commercial possibilities for this state, and it is very important that we have at headquarters a clear-headed, influential business man who thoroughly understands these possibilities and knows what is necessary to accomplish their realization. With Mr. Corbett in the senate, Oregon will have a champion who will never rest until the barriers militating against our trade with the Philippines are beaten down, and we have an open door to our own possessions. As to appropriations for our own state, another great desideratum, no one has ever excelled the record made along this line by Mr. Corbett when he was in the senate before. It is not ornaments, nor pyrotechnics, nor profound erudition that Oregon needs in the United States senate, but men of strong character, resourcefulness, business and financial knowledge, and force. Our crying need is expansion of commerce and enlargement of trade. The rest will take care of itself.—Fossil Journal.

OREGON NEEDS A MAN.

Next Senator Should Be One in All the Word Implies.

There is a new conception of our duty in electing a United States senator for Oregon, and in it we see the augury of a better state of affairs than our state has heretofore known. The question which the state legislators should put before them is, what is absolutely and demonstrably the best reason to apply when selecting a man for a place in the senate at Washington. In choosing men for this important and high trust, we inherit too much of the ill-advised, haphazard system, when men's place in the state for real merit was interpreted in every way—when authority ruled despotic in a political trickster or boss—and it swallowed that system whole, without inquiry of any kind as to its real merits or disadvantages.

LAFAYETTE.

The tie vote on the four councilmen was decided before the recorder on Tuesday night. Nelson Brock and Joe Huston were the two that were successful—one on each side.

There are several new families moved into town of late.

Seven teams have been hauling rock to the locks of late, to be thrown into the water to save the embankment from washing more. U. S. Engineer Ogden is here every few days looking after the locks. He came up from Portland last Tuesday.

Mr. Burbank is still improving; is now able to walk about the house without help. Mrs. Burbank is now on the sick list, but not bad.

The bell was successfully taken out of the Seminary building and placed in the Evangelical church on last Tuesday.

There will be a celebration in the Methodist church on Christmas eve, with a Christmas tree and appropriate exercises. All are invited.

Mrs. Belcher is on the sick list of late.

E. A. Hill of McMinnville was down the first of the week. Attorney Irvine was also down. Come again.

John Wiesner is repairing the Holl property recently acquired by him on Fifth street, and will occupy it as his residence when completed.

CANCER

Sufferers from this horrible malady nearly always inherit it—not necessarily from the parents, but may be from some remote ancestor, for Cancer often runs through several generations. This deadly poison may lay dormant in the blood for years, or until you reach middle life, then the first little sore or ulcer makes its appearance—or a swollen gland in the breast, or some other part of the body, gives the first warning.

To cure Cancer thoroughly and permanently all the poisonous virus must be eliminated from the blood—every vestige of it driven out. This S. S. S. does, and is the only medicine that can reach deep-seated, obstinate blood troubles like this. When all the poison has been forced out of the system the Cancer heals, and the disease never returns.

Cancer begins often in a small way, as the following letter from Mrs. Shirer shows:

A small simple case on my jaw about an inch below the ear on the left side of my face. It gave me no pain or inconvenience, and I should have forgotten about it had it not begun to inflame and itch; it would bleed a little, then scab over, but would not heal. This continued for some time, when my jaw began to swell, becoming very painful. The Cancer began to eat and spread, until it was as large as a half dollar, when I heard of S. S. S. and determined to give it a fair trial, and it was remarkable what a wonderful effect it had from the very beginning; the sore began to heal and after taking a few bottles disappeared entirely. This was two years ago; there are still no signs of the Cancer, and my general health continues good.—Mrs. E. SHIRER, La Flete, Mo.

S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and the only one guaranteed purely vegetable. Send for our free book on Cancer, containing valuable and interesting information about this disease, and write our physicians about your case. We make no charge for medical advice.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

The time has come when there should be a fundamental reconstruction of this system. And the great error of this method of parties selecting a senator, as it has existed, and as it partially exists now, is that it depletes our influence in the halls of congress. The new conception, of which we have spoken, is growing among the journals of Oregon, and the people are being led to think less of political losses and more of worthy, able men.

It is an acknowledged fact among all thinking men that Oregon must have a transformation in her senatorial representatives or she will soon meet with almost irreparable loss. Conditions demand this and here is one of them.

Silence can little longer secrete the fact that the mouth of the Columbia river is fast filling up with the silt washed down the stream. This filling is taking place at the sea-end of the jetties. Very soon the talk about an open river will be lost in the cry for an open mouth of the Columbia. Unless the jetties are extended, the outgoing and incoming commerce of Oregon and southern Washington will be dependent upon railroads and Puget Sound.

Have we a United States senator carrying sufficient influence, either in the commercial world or in mental acumen, to secure the appropriation for this needed jetty extension? Judging from the past the question must be answered in the negative.

Viewing the situation from the standpoint that neither Senator Mitchell nor Binger Hermann are candidates, the man who would take up this work with a vigor which has characterized his whole life, is Senator W. H. Corbett of Portland. He is a man who has accomplished something in life, and possesses a lofty standing in the commercial world. He has done a thousand times more than all his calumniators combined to make Oregon what she is. On his name no dishonest act has fallen, and he is a broad-minded, capable gentleman. He would stand for something in the United States senate. His education and never-failing perseverance, his wide acquaintance among men of large wealth and education would be of material assistance in carrying out measures to secure needed improvement.—Baker City Republican.

One of the most important questions in which the west, the Pacific coast in particular, is interested is whether a tariff will be placed on American goods exported to the Philippines. By the terms of the treaty with Spain, no tariff can be placed on articles shipped from that country to the archipelago, and to levy on American products would be an injustice. Hon. Henry W. Corbett has taken a deep interest in this matter and has become the champion of the Pacific coast. He is in the position to materially assist this section in what is really a heart attack, and will probably be where he can better exert his great influence in a more telling manner. Every citizen and producer of Oregon should feel concerned in the congressional proceedings relative to this cause. All are vitally affected and should not permit congress to make a target of the Pacific coast.—Aurora Borealis.

Among the tens of thousands who have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for colds and la grippe during the past years, to our knowledge, not a single case has resulted in pneumonia. Thos. Whitfield & Co., 240 Wabash avenue, Chicago, one of the most prominent retail druggists in that city, in speaking of this, says: "We recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for la grippe in many cases, as it not only gives prompt and complete recovery, but also counteracts any tendency of la grippe to result in pneumonia." Martha Garrison Redmond.

The death of Mrs. F. W. Redmond in this city on the night of the 7th inst., after what seemed but a short illness, came as a surprise to a large number of friends and acquaintances. Death was due to internal cancer. A surgical operation was performed in October for what was thought to be a tumor, but which revealed to the physicians a very general and malignant cancer. The patient was kept in ignorance of her real condition, and was left to suppose that the operation had been successful, and that recovery would follow, and that she would then visit California. The last few days previous to her death she was unconscious, but a few hours before death came there was a lucid moment and an effort to speak, when the nurse caught from her lips an inarticulate "Lucile, Lucile"—the name of the little adopted daughter.

Martha Garrison was born in 1854 on the Garrison donation land claim, in the old house still standing just west of the Whiteson hotel. She was the second of three daughters born to Jephtha and Cornelia Garrison. They moved to McMinnville in 1869, and occupied a little house standing on the identical spot where now stands McMinnville College. Mother Garrison was an invalid, and upon Martha devolved the care of Lelah, daughter of her eldest sister, who died when the child was an infant.

Martha was married to Frank W. Redmond Nov. 19th, 1882. Together they engaged in merchandising in McMinnville for a number of years.

The only members now left of this branch of the Garrison family are, Mrs. Belle Holman of Watsonville, Calif., her daughter, Bessie, and Mrs. Lelah Miller of this city.

Two months previous to her death Mrs. Redmond received the ordinance of baptism from Rev. Joseph Hoberg, and expressed a determination to live a christian life.

The funeral was held on Sunday, at 1 p. m., at the residence, a large number of friends being present. Revs. Jos. Hoberg and H. T. Atkinson made addresses. Burial was made in the family lot in Masonic cemetery.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank all kind friends who were with her and us during her last hours for their kindness and help in our late bereavement in the loss of a dear wife and mother.

BASKET BALL.

A Victory for McMinnville—St. Helen's Hall the Victim.

A college team met on the field a Portland team Friday, Dec. 7th, for the first time in the history of the college. Miss Lanyon, who chaperoned the visiting team, was referee. Miss Scott, from the Hall, and Mr. McKillop, of the college, were umpires. Prof. Brumback of the college, scorer, and Dr. Fenton of Portland, timekeeper. Captain Smith, of the Hall team, although much heavier, was unable to score a point against Captain Daniels, McMinnville's small and well-known guard. Pearl Grover, McMinnville's other guard being sick, Osa Roberts was substituted and played a fine game, as Miss Birch, her opponent, made only two baskets. The Hall's center, Miss Poulson, much larger than our center, Bessie Cook, scored to points against our center's 3 points, although both played fine. Our center did not do as much grand-stand work, but did fine team work, placing more confidence in her forwards. Miss St. Clair, the Hall's guard, playing against Maud Hobbs, was very quick, but not so much so but that Maud made 3 baskets, scoring 6 points for McMinnville's team. But the star of our team was Dean Witzel, who, in spite of the good work done by Miss Herrin, the Hall's guard, made 7 baskets, scoring as many points as the Hall girls did altogether. At the end of the first half the score was 12 to 6, the last half the Hall girls did better, the score ending 23 to 14. Misses Kuhn and Swartz were the Hall's subs, Misses Bird and Gilson McMinnville's. The return game will be played the third week in January. A game will be played with Albany girls in the meantime. Portland Academy, Monmouth, Forest Grove and Newberg have all been challenged, but refuse to play our girls. The visiting team was accompanied by a carload of "rooters," chaperoned by Miss Curtin, but even these were outdone by the college "rooters" club.
