The men who are directing the work of congress are thoroughly in accord with the advice of the president's message concerning the danger of being tempted into making extravagant appropriations by the prosperous condition of the national treasury. The tempters are on hand in the persons of those who are asking for extravagant appropriations for all sorts of things, but there will be no extravagance. The country is rich enough and prosperous enough for liberality, but the republicans do not believe that any country is ever rich enough or prosperous enough to justify extravagance, and no extravagance will be authorized by congress.

Mrs. A. N. Martin has been seriously ill during a portion of the week.

D. P. Trullinger has put his new flouring mill at North Yamhill into successful operation.

Notwithstanding all that has been said and done the best intrinsic values are to be found at the Racket store, especially in those Star 5 Star shoes.

The Northern Pacific will reduce passenger rates in Montana from four to three cents a mile the first of the year.

Wm. F. Dielschneider & Bro. have an elegant assortment of cut glass and silverware. Just the thing for Christmas gifts.

The smallpox scare at Dallas and Gaston has subsided, and the people on the west side are feeling easier.

Herbert Toney writes his parents from Ann Arbor that he is much pleased with the school he is attending, and that he wouldn't have missed going for a thousand dollars.

The gifts of Mrs. Leland Stanford are spoken of in the January Delineator. Now for sale at Grange store.

Dr. G. S. Wright will be absent from his office on the 18th, 19th and 20th of December, attending sessions of the state dental board in Portland.

Mrs. W. D. McDonald is just recovering from an attack of typhoid fever. Their daughter, Effie, is about the house again after a long-continued and severe illness.

John Kissick, who came to this country last spring, and has since occupied the Kesterson farm near North Yamhill, does not like the country—a rare exception—and advertises a sale of his effects for Dec. 27th next. Stock, implements, household effects and grain will be sold.

The first of January we expect to move across the street in the Fenton building. We want to sell all the goods we can before that time. Please come in and help us move them.

H. MILLS & SON.

Hon. John T. Gowdy is out with a petition for the Dayton postoffice, and is said to stand a mighty good show of getting it. He is one of the best old men in the county, and probably no one in Dayton or vicinity is worthier of an official favor of that kind.

A painful accident befell Joseph Draper last Sunday, whereby he lost the sight in one eye. His son was handling a loaded shotgun and the weapon was accidentally discharged, a portion of the contents striking the elderly Mr. Draper in the face.

We make a specialty of holiday goods, hence, we can suit you better than those who carry only a few as a side line. Come and see us. An elegant present given away Jan. 1st.

SCOTT & WILLIAMS.

The O. R. & N. Co. will introduce Bavarian hops and barley into Oregon. The United States imports Bavarian beer to the value of about $1,000,000 annually, and if the hops and barley can be produced and the beer manufactured here, it means a new industry for this country and keeping more money at home.

I will open for business on Saturday, the 15th inst., in the Jas. Fletcher building, with a full stock of harness, saddles, etc. Harness will be sold for cash, and 10 to 12 per cent cheaper than ever sold before in Yamhill county. Repairing of boots and shoes, etc. All work warranted.

A. D. HOSKINS.

Hodson will install the officers of Taylor Chapter, R. A. M. Every member of these bodies will be expected to bring a lunch basket well filled on that evening.

Hops grown near Independence won the gold medal at the Paris exposition. The Oregon hops were placed in competition with every hop growing country in the world and it is a source of much pride to Oregon growers that the hops grown here are the best the world produces according to the most competent judges. This will make Oregon hops sought for from every quarter of the world more than they are at the present time, and assures for the product of the state the top price in the markets of the world.

Don't forget the Dielschneider boys' jewelry store when doing your Christmas shopping.

The expert accountants are still finding discrepancies in the books. They say it is a common thing to find them in almost any county and in almost any office. There are good reasons for this: Very few men are good book-keepers.

We are paying this week 30 to 35 cts per roll for good butter and 28 cts per doz for fresh eggs. WALLACE & WALKER.

If you are not hungry you are likely to become so, and you will do well therefore to remember the location of J. P. Williams & Son's restaurant.

On his farm near town Wm. Goffrier raised this year considerable clover seed, which he sold for $6 a bushel right at home, and he thinks this beats wheat at 63 cents. Mr. Goffrier thinks this section is especially adapted to stock raising and the cultivation of grasses.

We need room for our immense line of holiday and other goods. Please call and see the bargains we offer at the Racket store.

A. H. Pape, a former business man in McMinnville, has sold his big farm in West Chehalis, and bought a smaller place within one and one-half miles of Newberg.

A few growers still hold their hops in expectation of higher prices. Offers are made of 14½c. In New York Pacifics were 19½c for choice a few days ago. Buyers are still active, but will not go above 15c notwithstanding the market value in the east.

Estes & Son have purchased especially for the holiday trade a full line of rockers of unique design and handsome finish, in addition to their other stock of furniture, house-furnishings, etc. Also a collection of pictures for parlor walls, or table.

Here is a rarity. Arnold Dielschneider of this city has a cat that has reached the remarkable age, for cats, of 21 years. The feline still catches rats and mice almost every day. Industry seems to prolong the life of cats as well as men.

People living in the big bend of the river south of town are petitioning for the opening of a road to lead north from Geo. Berg's place to the waterworks and on across Cozine creek to connect with the boat landing and the Atlas mills. It would be a much shorter route for them to the depot, the mill and the boat landing. If the road is put through it will knock Geo. Berg's house, orchard and well "galley west."

A commendable movement is being set on foot for the improvement of bicycle paths, leading into Newberg, by a system of graveling and rolling. The two children of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Holt who came down from Oakesdale, Washington, last week, were sick when they left home and since their arrival have been suffering with diphtheria, but are getting along nicely and are considered out of danger. Acting on the advice of the city water committee, and F. H. Story, who were appointed to investigate the matter, the city council will at once prepare for the erection of a new and larger reservoir on the hill north of town near the old one, the plans and specifications of which will be presented at the next council meeting. The excavating will be done this winter, and the reservoir put in next season. On Wednesday, Marshal Woods took up Guy Young, a lad of about 14 years of age, on a charge of stealing a watch and ten dollars from the old gentleman McCully, who lives out west of town. The boy acknowledged that he took the watch, but claimed that other boys were implicated in taking the money. He was arrested and bound over to appear at the next circuit court. For a boy of his age it would seem that a binding over to the state reform school would be more in order.—Graphic.

Columbus School Notes.

A great many of the pupils have colds, while some are out on account of sickness. Our basement is a very cold place for us to go to intermissions. This is the place where many of the pupils catch cold. Revs. Rose and Lindsey were visiting in the building on Wednesday afternoon. Miss Akin's room has some very fine singers. If you do not believe it come down some morning and watch the professor drill them. In a contest last month between the seventh grade and the high school as to punctuality in attendance the 7th grade won. For each half day that all in the room were present we put up a flag. At the close of the month there were 16 in Miss Akin's room and 11 in the high school.

Here is a conundrum that the high school was given last Tuesday, can you answer it? It is a bible character. There are five points used in the comparison: 1. Character simply referred to, but not mentioned in the bible. 2. Whose death was unlike the death of any other person. 3. Whose body never saw corruption. 4. A sample of whose winding sheet is in every house. 5. The cause of whose death immortalized the name of a modern author. The answer will be given next week.

A largely attended reception was tendered the C. P. church choir last evening, at the church.
