An impression having gone abroad that I had pronounced the illness of Thos. Dickinson of North Yamhill to be smallpox, I take this method of correcting said erroneous impression. No such statement was made by me, "jokingly," or otherwise. J. C. MICHAUX, M. D.

An engine emerging from a tunnel constitutes a unique window display at R. Jacobson & Co.'s. It is bringing goods to their store. A former train ran over a "boxer" and cut his head off. Far above the engine, on a snow-clad mountain, is another train rounding the curve.

Sheriff Sittou conveyed the patient to the asylum Wednesday afternoon.

Carneros, Calif., is the name of the new town where C. H. Cook, formerly proprietor of the produce and feed store in this city, now lives. A California paper says of the place: "The welcome news was received that Carneros is to have a post-office with Mrs. Rosa M. Cook as post-mistress, and the name will be Dumbarton. Dumbarton is a very good old Scotch name, but our people are very much attached to the Carneros name, and would have been much pleased if the name could have been retained, but similarity of other names prevented. It is reported that Mr. C. H. Cook will open a general store at Carneros. We have also heard that a blacksmith shop will soon be opened in that thriving settlement."

The "Kid" band gave an entertainment at the opera house Wednesday evening, with the object of getting money with which to buy uniforms. The attendance was not large, and the receipts were not very encouraging. The band is composed as follows: Fred Bradley, solo cornet; Clare Snyder and Orville Arthur, B flat cornets; Hollie Burns, solo alto; Gordon Baker and Morris Arthur, altos; Harry Hobbs, Carl Klyver and Archie Crewse, trombones; Harry Woodrum and Frank Snyder, bass; Howard Henry, snare drum; John Maloney, bass drum. They have been practicing under Prof. Feely only two months, and ventured their first selection before the public on the street Wednesday evening. Their playing is very creditable, and the audience, though not large, was appreciative. They were assisted in their entertainment by Miss Bonner, an elocutionist, whose work was also good.

Dr. J. F. Calbreath has filed his biennial report of the Oregon insane asylum with the trustees of that institution. The doctor has been superintendent for eleven months. The whole number under treatment for the two years was 1871. 217 were discharged as recovered, 224 died and 50 escaped. The total remaining Nov. 30, 1900, was 1173. The doctor says: "It is noted that the proportion of cures has risen to 31.9 per cent on admissions during the term, and to 11 1/2 per cent on the whole number treated. When we remember that the general average of patients discharged as cured in the United States is approximately 20 per cent on the admissions and ours has reached 31.9 per cent, it certainly affords satisfaction. Of the whole number remaining in the hospital, November 30, 1900, it is considered that 102 of them may be classed as curable; 980 incurable, and 91 doubtful. The check placed upon committing persons because of the temporary aberration incident to the immediate effects of the 'drug habits' and their defective control of the same, has been effective. Only those really insane, either coincidentally or as a result, have been received." Of the patients now in the asylum, 28 were received from this county, 25 males and 11 females. This is about our full quota on an equal division among the counties of the state, but there are eleven counties which have sent more. Sherman county has sent but one.

The annual convention of the State Teachers' Association is to be held in Albany, December 26 to 29, inclusive. All railroad lines have made a special reduced rate of one and one-third fare for the round trip from any point in the state, and an interesting session is anticipated. Leading educators are to be present and participate in the meeting. Supt. E. V. Littlefield is on the program for the response to the address of welcome, and President H. L. Boardman and Prof. W. W. Bristow have assignments on the program. Prof. Littlefield will extend an invitation to the association to meet in McMinnville next December, and has enough co-operation from other counties to make him feel assured of success. If we get the association it will be a matter for congratulation, and an opportunity to show our ability to entertain, as we have done in the past. The association brings together 300 to 400 teachers from the western part of the state, and a banquet and reception is always a feature.
