Hood's Sarsaparilla was given the daughter of Silas Vernooy, Wawarsing, N. Y., who had broken out with scrofula sores all over her face and head. The first bottle helped her and when she had taken six the sores were all healed and her face was smooth. He writes that she has never shown any sign of the scrofula returning.

Rheumatic pains are the cries of protest and distress from tortured muscles, aching joints and excited nerves. The blood has been poisoned by the accumulation of waste matter in the system, and can no longer supply the pure and health sustain-ing food they require. The whole system feels the effect of this acid poison; and not until the blood has been purified and brought back to a healthy condition will the aches and pains cease.

the aches and pains cease.

Mrs. James Kell, of 707 Ninth street, N. R., Washington, D. C., writes as follows: "A few months ago I had an stack of Sciatic Rheumatism in its worst form. The pain was so intense that I became completely prostrated. The attack was an unusually severe one, and my condition was regarded as being very dangerous. I was attended by one of the most able doctors in Washington, who is also a member of the faculty of a leading medical college here. He told me to continue his prescriptions and I would get well. After having it filled twelve times without receiving the slightest benefit, I declined to continue his treatment any longer. Having heard of S. S. S. (Swift's Specific recommended for Rheumatism, I deeded, almost in despair however, to give the medicine a trial, and after I had taken a few bottles I was able to hobble around on crutches, and very soon thereafter had no use for them at all, S. S. having cared me sound and well. All the distressing pains have left me, my appetite has returned, and I am happy to be again restored to perfect

SENT WOLF PELT TO ROOSEVELT

Ranch Q een Presents Vice President with Capture t T ophy. Gov. Roosevelt has in the gunroom of his Oyster Bay residence the handsomely mounted pelt of a gray wolf. When Col. Roosevelt was in Oklahoma last fall, before the elections, he was the guest of Col. Zach Mulhall. One morning Miss Agnes Mulhall, accompaget rid of it easily, paleness, nerv- nied by her younger sister. Miss Lucille, started out for a ride. When Can be completely and perma- The equestrians being between the

The fleet-footed cow ponies gradually gained on the quarry, and Miss Agnes made her lariat ready for the throw.

While riding at full speed she threw the rope and caught the larger wolf fast by the neck. Turning her horse, homeward she sped, dragging her captive. For five miles or more the wolf was hauled toward*the ranch house, when he suddenly succeeded in freeing himself by gnawing the rope in two. But he was not to escape. Plying the "quirt," the girls were at his heels. Soon King Lupus was again captured. This time it was Miss Lucille who succeeded in roping him.

Fearing that the wolf might again escape, they headed their horses for a tree. Around the trunk of this the horse was circled, slowly but surely Bertha-No doubt it is a reflection dragging the captive closer and closer to the tree, until finally he had but a yard or so of leeway. Suddenly Miss Agnes bent over in her saddle, unbuckled a stirrup strap, and with the weapon thus provided, beat the wolf to death, still seated in the saddle.

LUXURY OF APARTMENT HOUSES

Wonderful Modern Conveniences with

Which hey Are Fitted. "The high-grade apartment houses of New York form a distinct school of architecture," writes a New Orleans architect, "and the study of luxury and absolute convenience has been reduced to an exact science. The newest and finest structures have features undreamed of a few years ago. To begin with, the decorations are never undertaken now until after the suites are leased. Then designs are submitted to the tenants and the work is done in "All the best houses contain long-dis- 100 pounds. tance telephones in every set of apartments, together with heavy burglarproof safes, built into the walls. Another new feature is a cold-storage apartment for each floor, where the tenants may leave their furs and winter clothing during the summer months without danger from moths. Call boxes for messengers, physicians, police, automobiles, private livery service and several other things are usually grouped in a cabinet near the door of the suite, and nearly all the houses have both laundries and cafes, limited strictly to occupants of the building.

Still another innovation is a reception hall, in which a trained attendant is kept on duty day and night to receive callers. This is designed to protect tenants from canvassers, cranks and bores of various sorts. Such things as mail chutes, ice water, private Turkish a matter of course.

"One very swell place I visited had an electric heating equipment for chafing dishes in the pantry and electric curling irons in the bedrooms. It is hard to imagine what could possibly be added, but I dare say the advance during the coming year will be as great as during the twelve-month past. Incidentally, it costs a small fortune to live at such places."-New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The Emperor's Portrait.

When Charles Denby was minister to China a publisher wrote to him asking him to procure a photograph of the Emperor of China. His reply, printed in a New York exchange, shows that the pictures published as likenesses of the Emperor cannot be trusted. Mr. Denby wrote as follows:

"It would afford me great pleasure to send you a photograph of the Emperor if one could be procured. After making inquiries I find that his photograph. or portrait of any kind, has never been taken. "The Son of Heaven is not visible to any foreign eye except when foreign ministers are received in audience. On such occasions all cameras or sketchbooks are absolutely forbidden.

"When the Emperor goes out in his sedan-chair all the cross streets are barricaded with mats, and every door and window by which he passes is closed. Should any one be caught spying, death follows immediately."
