Good Cough Medicine for Children.
"I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's cough remedy," says F. P. Moran, a well known and popular baker, of Petersburg, Va. "We have given it to our children when troubled with bad coughs, also whooping cough, and it has always given perfect satisfaction. It was recommended to me by a druggist as the best cough medicine for children as it contains no opium or other harmful drug." Sold by Howorth.

Books Given Away.

A little booklet, "What a Chair Car Is," has just been issued by the Burlington route. To anyone intending to make a trip east it will give a great deal of valuable information. These elegant chair cars are attached to every Burlington route train, and seats are free to holders of tickets via the Burlington. Many travelers prefer the chair car to the tourist sleeper. The book will be sent free to anyone addressing R. W. Foster, Ticket Agent Burlington Route, Cor. 3d and Stark Sts., Portland, Or.

Tourist Cars.

The tourist cars, like a newspaper in a country town, certainly will "fill a long felt want." A cool, clean, well ventilated sleeping and observation car, equally free from the discomforts of the old fashioned passenger coach and the stuffy heat of the over-luxuriously upholstered drawing room and sleeping cars, and at a moderate extra fee, has solved the problem of providing attractive accommodations for general public. The O. R. & N. Co. runs three of these cars daily between Portland and the east. A porter is in charge of each car to look after the wants and comforts of the passengers. For rates and particulars write to
A. L. Clark, General Passenger Agent
O. R. & N. Co., Portland, Ore.

Rear Admiral Sampson's regard "for the good of the service" led him to forget that the good of the service depends to a large extent upon the consideration that the service shows to the man behind the gun. There have been many times in the history of the country when the social standing of the gunner was of far less import to the nation than his ability to shoot.

President Boardman will occupy the Baptist pulpit next Sunday both morning and evening, and will continue to serve as supply until a new minister is secured.

Mrs. J. F. Adams and T. A. White are two property holders who have the warmest thanks of all pedestrians who pass their premises. Both have constructed new sidewalks and it didn't take a city ordinance to compel them to do it, either.

Miss Valeria Patty, who for almost a year has been a faithful and efficient compositor in this office, severed her connections at the close of last week to take a position with Sanford & Edwards, the wholesale milliners of Portland. Miss Patty is not without experience and natural taste in millinery, and her rapid advancement is looked for. Miss May Barnhart has taken her place in this office.

Fred L. Post, the fruit raiser of the Willamette island, is now shipping a large variety of his cured fruits to eastern markets. Owing to the high price necessarily paid to secure fruit last season, the returns are not highly profitable. He gets from 6c to 6 1/2c per pound for a good article of dried prunes in the St. Paul market. We asked him what it would cost to put in a good fruit dryer in McMinnville. He said that a dryer which would turn off a thousand bushels of dried prunes in a day could be built and equipped for $2,000. If a local subsidy could be raised for such an enterprise, Mr. Post, could he be secured, would make an excellent manager of the business.

Thursday evening of last week Sheriff Durbin of Marion county was in the city for the purpose of taking back with him one C. F. Wright, who gave his name here as Chas. Johnson, a notorious convict, whose movements during the previous week, were a strange mixture of luck, shrewdness and fatal foolishness. On the previous Monday he was acquitted of stealing a watch from a Salem man nearly two months ago, and was liberated from jail. That night he stole the mare and also stole a saddle and bridle from the feed stable of Mr. Schramm, in Salem. In this city he traded the horse, saddle and bridle for another animal and outfit, getting some money "to boot." With that he could not resist the temptation to fill up with Yamhill booze Wednesday, and this was his undoing. The description of the stolen animal and the suspected thief had fallen in the meantime into the hands of the Yamhill county officers, and they recognized the horse in possession of Elmer Johnson, of Forest Grove. This fact they telephoned to Sheriff Durbin, and he asked them to look up the man who had done the trading. A short search resulted in his being located at the city jail, where he had been placed while intoxicated. Sheriff Durbin's surprise may be imagined when he found upon the person of Wright the watch belonging to J. G. Evans, for the theft of which a Marion county jury had acquitted him a few days before. All the way to Salem Wright watched for a chance to strike Durbin, and twice raised his hands preparatory to doing so. It was only by the most constant vigilance that the sheriff avoided a fight and landed his prisoner there without being compelled to shoot him.

O. O. Hodson writes from Muncie that ever since he has been there the thermometer has registered from 4 to 20 degrees above zero, but notwithstanding this he is having a lively time with old friends, and was going to make a trip to the state capital with a lot of them.

Dr. W. H. Vose on his recent trip to southern Oregon, decided to locate in Yoncalla, Douglas county, and will move thither this week. Dr. Vose is an excellent gentleman and a good physician, and we wish him every success in his new field.

At the opera house Friday evening, the entertainment given by the Christian Endeavor, though rather poorly attended, was a rare treat to lovers of elocution and music. Miss Holmes and Miss Gambell, in their respective roles, received merited applause.

Mr. Wallace, orator for the home college in the contest to be held tonight at Corvallis, has been given the place of first speaker. Some argue that this is unfortunate, and yet they say first impressions are often the most lasting. Let us hope so. Forty seats have been reserved for the McMinnville delegation.

Al Young is recovering from a severe attack of inflammation of the bowels. On the beginning of his recovery Mrs. Young was prostrated with a severe derangement of the nervous system, which has brought on at least temporary mental aberration. She is with her parents southwest of the city.

Some good suggestions are contributed by a correspondent in another column relative to the local need for enterprises which shall give employment to the people and manufacture our raw materials into marketable products, and the necessity of working in harmony in order to get such things. In answer to the question, Where is the paper that has ever mentioned the soap factory? we respond "Here!" The files of the Reporter are full of gratuitous mention encouraging the project at its outset, and many other projects which never materialized to the same extent. Any constant reader of the paper knows this. We are always ready to lend a helping hand within the legitimate province of a newspaper, but we cannot furnish the capital for and manage the business of new enterprises. Though many would differ on some propositions, in the main our correspondent is on the right track, and if other citizens show the same spirit of willingness and harmony something will be accomplished along the lines suggested. Don't fail to read the article.

Death of O. L. Clark.
O. L. Clark, the well-known insurance man for the Bankers Life, who has spent much time in McMinnville, and who had many friends here, died in the hospital at Salem early Wednesday morning. He was stricken with appendicitis a week before and the disease had reached a too advanced stage when the operation was performed.

Before his death, Mr. Clark gave minute directions regarding the disposition of his affairs and his funeral. Deceased was 26 years old. He leaves a young wife, a mother, one sister and four brothers to mourn his untimely demise. He was a member of the Diana lodge K. of P. of this city, and a number of members will go to Corvallis today to attend the funeral.

New Catholic Pastor.
Rev. M. J. Hickey, late pastor of Ashland, has been appointed by Archbishop Christie to take charge of McMinnville, and has already taken up his residence among us. He is spoken of as an exceptionally brilliant orator, affable in manner and of broad views. There is no doubt but that he will be cordially received by his congregation and strongly supported in his church work. The reverend gentleman will hold services on Sunday next at 10:30 a. m. and at 4 p. m. and will preach on both occasions. There will be no services on Friday night, the 8th inst., as the father will be visiting the Indian missions. Father Hickey says that non-Catholics are quite welcome to his church and will be treated with every kind consideration.

Mr. Pilkington has been elected track manager for this season and Mr. Nelson will fill the place of Mr. Hobbs as manager of our '01 football team.

J. S. Wallace supplied the pulpit in Calvary Baptist church, Portland, Sunday, and remained in the city until Wednesday, receiving training on his oration.

The Freshmen have the honor of giving the most entertaining and best delivered rhetorical year. The platform work deserves great credit, but the "finale" has never been excelled in the history of the college. The forces of Rutherford displayed great endurance and saved the flag at the strategic moment by compelling the evacuation of Commodore Adams and his Stout aid-de-camp.

J. C. Cooper returned from his eastern trip yesterday. He visited one week with his children in San Francisco. He visited but two sections that will at all compare with Oregon: southern California and Louisiana. The latter is much like Yamhill county. He believes the way is paved for the future passage of the Indian War veteran's bill, and all delegates return filled with the same hope.
