The Duty of Mothers.

What suffering frequently results frequently from a mother's neglect to properly instruct her daughter!

Tradition says "woman must suffer," and young women are so taught. There is a little truth and a great deal of exaggeration in this. If a young woman suffers severely she needs treatment, and her mother should see that their good qualities. she gets it.

Many mothers hesitate to take their write freely about her daughter or herself to Mrs. Pinkham's Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and secure from a man the most efficient advice with out charge.

Mrs. August Pfalzgraf, of South Byron, Wis., mother of the young lady whose portrait we here publish, wrote in January, 1899, saying her daughter had suffered for two years with irreg-ular menstruation—had headache all the time, and pain in her side, feet swelled, and was generally miserable She received an answer promptly with advice, and under date of March, 1899, the mother writes again that Lydia E. larity.
