How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of SCOTT'S EMUL-SION. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

For the month the man getting the largest amount received $162.33, and the man getting the lowest only received 54 cents, so it will be seen the checks cover as wide a range as possible. The creamery, which began operations with only 700 pounds of milk per day, producing 23 pounds of butter, has made it possible for a man with a small capital to go into something that he can make a comfortable living besides make himself a good

A Good Example.

Banker Hirschberg, of Independence, has set an example to moneyed men who expect to profit by the development of the dairy industry which is well worthy of emulation, says the West Side. When the average farmer balanplace at the opera house this, Friday, ces accounts for the year he finds the margin of profit so narrow that he has little capital to invest in cows, and as a result he reluctantly turns away from branching out into a field he feels sure would yield good returns. Mr. Hirschberg has come to his relief by offering to lend him money with which to purchase cows, exactly as the country banks furnish the money with which the wheatraisers harvest their crops. If, in addition to his cattle, the farmer sees fit to offer, but sells groceries as cheap as can equip himself with a separator, Mr. Hirschberg stands ready to advance him what is necessary to buy one. In this way he has already increased the patronage of the Independence creamery, given the dairy industry in the United States a decided stimulus, and taken no risks beyond those ordinarily incident to his

J. T. Morgan, a member of the Millwho has become a prominent figure in of FURNITURE. local labor circles, thinks the Chinese exclusion act should be re-enacted to cover Japanese laborers. "The exclusion "expires May 5, 1902, and it should be re-enacted without delay in such a form as to apply to all native Asiatic people. I think it should be made permanent this time, unless there is some wellgrounded barrier in the way of treaty relations or considerations of equal im-

"The re-enactment of this act is one of the most important subjects before The working classes of the country are already much aroused and have made this sentiment known to our lawmakers. They are agitating the subject more or less in their meetings. In public discussions and on the streets of Portland the Chinese question is an important topic, and will continue to be.

"The reasons for excluding Chinese and Japanese laborers from the United States are numerous. If the exclusion aw is permitted to expire next year, within ten or fifteen years we shall be able to count the celestials among us by the million. Accustomed as they are to an exceedingly low and degraded stan-dard of living in their native land, once they are here in such large numbers. white mechanics and laboring men all over the country will be subjected to deadly and grinding competition. Un-der the stress of such relentless opposi-tion, the rate of wages and standard of living among our producing classes would fall to a level to which no human beings should be reduced. A few years later all other classes would be likewise affected. Nearly all of our people, a with the toilers, would suffer.

"Failure to re-enact the exclusion act would be a menace to the permanency of our educational, fraternal and humane institutions, a threat to some of the best features of our civilization, a tendency in the ultimate towards the overthroy of our republic and the frowning of danger upon our prestige, our greatness and our glory as a nation and a people. The question, therefore, finally embraces the welfare of the world in the future, and the destiny of all mankind through the ages yet to come.
