At a meeting of the trustees of the Oregon Fire Relief Association held in this city last Friday, Prof. E. Northup was chosen president to succeed the late president, O. H. Irvine. The vacancy thus caused on the board of trustees was filled by the election of F. W. Fenton. The provision regarding the president's salary was modified to the effect that the same should not exceed the sum of $500 per year. It is based on a percentage of the receipts from applications, and last year gave a salary to the president of about $500. The choice of Prof. Northup seems to us as good as could have been made. In the ten years of our acquaintance we have classed him as the man in the community who came as near as anyone to knowing the right, and living it as he understood it, and why shouldn't such a man be promoted to a place of honor and trust? Far too often they are not.

PROCEEDINGS OF INDIAN WAR VETERANS.

Still Hopful for Pensions. Hembree camp, Indian War Veterans, met in annual session at the city hall last Friday, captain Lee Laughlin, presiding. There were present: G. W. Olds, W. C. Hembree, J. T. Fouts, C. A. Wallace, Thomas Bynum, J. S. Robinson, G. L. Rowland, E. G. Crews, Wm. Laughlin and John Crimmins, and honorary member, J. C. Cooper. The minutes of the last regular session were read and approved. Capt. Laughlin, chairman of the legislative committee, reported the passage of the bill by the last legislature, similar to the one asked for by this camp at its last session, and appropriating $2000 to defray the expenses of sending a delegation of veterans to Washington. J. C. Cooper, one of the seven delegates appointed by the governor to go to Washington to urge upon congress the necessity of a pension for the Indian War Veterans, gave a brief report of the trip and of the efforts of the delegation to secure the legislation asked for. They found the sentiment at the capitol decidedly in favor of pensioning the Oregon volunteers who fought the hostile Indians of the territory. The bill to pension them passed the senate by a unanimous vote. President McKinley told them that he was heartily in favor of a pension and sincerely hoped they would succeed in their mission. Three-fourths of the members of congress said they would vote for the measure. The chairman of the pension committee said he would report favorably on the bill, but in his interview with Speaker Henderson that gentleman refused to allow the bill to come up at that session, as it was necessary to amend the bill, and the time was too short. Many will be discouraged, but a greater effort should be made at the next session of congress. The sentiment is there and Congressman Tongue by making the measure paramount on his calendar, can secure your pensions. On motion it was voted unanimously to endorse Hon. Thos. H. Tongue's decision in favor of pensions rather than for land warrants for veterans. Letter read from Comrade G. W. Alexander, late of Lafayette, but now of Parker, Wash. He was formerly a member of Capt. Hembree's company. Orderly sergeant instructed to request the state commander to invite our senators and congressmen to be present at the state encampment. The committee appointed on memorial resolutions reported as follows:

Be it resolved, by Hembree camp No. 3, I. W. V., that in the death of our worthy comrade, Robert L. McMillen, our country has lost a good citizen and this camp an honored member. We cherish his memory, commend his virtues and his patriotism. That our heartfelt sympathy is hereby extended to our worthy comrade, Capt. Lee Laughlin, in the loss of his beloved wife. May he never fail to receive the kind and ministering hand of comrades and friends, and may he live to see and receive the recognition of his services to the country he so bravely defended, that he may close his days in thankfulness and peace. G. L. Rowland, C. A. Wallace, J. C. Cooper, Committee.

Officers elected for the ensuing year: Lee Laughlin, captain; G. W. Olds, first lieutenant; J. T. Fouts, second lieutenant; J. C. Cooper, orderly sergeant; Wm. Laughlin, treasurer; C. A. Wallace, ensign; Eli Branson, musician. Delegates to state encampment, G. W. Olds, Wm. Laughlin, W. C. Hembree. No further business appearing the meeting adjourned.

There are a few more than forty thousand drug stores in the United States. If all these stores were so located that you might just as easily avail yourself of the services of any one of them, and if you had a prescription that you were very anxious to have rightly filled, you could do no better than to bring it to us. Some of these stores may be larger and finer than ours, but their drugs can be no better, nor can they compound any more accurate. Our stock of prescription goods is composed of the very best quality of everything that doctors prescribe, and no druggist can do more than be exact in his compounding.

Father Boyd, who hatches up near Dilley, tells a good mouse story. Lately mice had annoyed him to such an extent that he had declared war. As an instrument of extermination he bought one of these new-fangled rodent traps that has a bale wire that is thrown down by strong spiral springs. The mice contracted the bad habit of playing over the top of his dining table, wherefore he set his trap there. Just to one side was a jar of jam. During one of his meals he had occasion to go out of the dining room. Just before he returned he heard a great crash. The cat bolted past him, tail as big as a base-ball bat. She charged to the barn but seemed not to find a resting place. Back she came and under the house she skipped. He returned to the table for investigation. Everything seemed to be in order except the jar of jam which was spattered everywhere over the floor and the glass in a hundred fragments. Soon Mr. Boyd missed his new mouse trap nor could he find it anywhere. When next he skimmed milk he found in one of the pans his trap with a part of the cat's lip and whiskers. That explained why the cat ran, and why she does not now jump on the table.—Hillsboro Independent.
