To be sure, you are not a watchmaker. How should you know the difference? That is just why you should buy that watch of a substantial, located, home jeweler—a place where you know of whom you are buying and have the assurance of a business reputation and guarantee that goes with every sale.

Wm. F. Dielschneider & Bro., McMinnville's Reliable Jewelers.

Reduced Rates to the East. Account Buffalo exposition, the Burlington route is naming a low rate of fare which enables passengers to visit the exposition and other eastern points at greatly reduced rates. Before making other arrangements call at our office or write for full particulars. R. W. Foster, Ticket Agent, Burlington Route. Corner Third and Stark Streets, Portland, Oregon.

Fly Danger. We are accustomed to regarding flies merely as annoying pests. We combat flies in a half-hearted manner because we do not realize the danger they bring into our homes. Flies are the most active of all agents in the distribution of germ diseases. If people could see the loads of germs and filth they carry, an unrelenting war of extermination would be waged. We have all the effective weapons against flies. The cost is nothing compared with the annoyance avoided, to say nothing of the safety and saving their use may afford. No matter what sort of insect may annoy you, we have the right "dose" for it.

ROGERS BROS. PHARMACY, McMinnville, Oregon. The drug center of Yamhill County.

A specially good issue of the College Review is that of last month. It contains five half-tone cuts of the graduates, and the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes, besides a write-up of commencement.

S. A. Manning will conduct a hardware store on Grand Avenue in East Portland. He has leased five buildings there for seven years, and three of them sublet for enough to pay the entire rent. Lucky boy.

Fred Nelson left on Tuesday for Portland, where he has a paying position in the O K barber shops, the largest shop in Portland, operating with 14 chairs. His place here at Logan's is filled by Jim Holman of Dallas.

The grain pests that gave such uneasiness a month ago seem to have stopped ravaging the fields, or else the grain is growing faster than the insects can eat it. At present the outlook for a bountiful harvest is very flattering.—Hillsboro Independent.

Misses Mary Bird and Grace Newell left last Friday on the morning train for Portland, from which place they intend taking the steamer July 11th, for San Francisco, to attend the Epworth League convention. They will also attend the Chautauqua at Oregon City next week.

Civil government was established in the Philippines on July 4th, with Wm. H. Taft as civil governor, his acts to be subject to the approval of Secretary Root. The Philippine commission will hereafter act in an advisory capacity, military rule to continue whenever an insurrection exists. The last company of volunteers, the 44th, has returned home, leaving 25,000 regulars in the field, 10,000 of whom are soon to return.

It wasn't hardly fair for D. M. C. Gault, the Hillsboro editor, to serve our people as he did during the congressional visit last Saturday morning. He looks as distinguished as a congressman himself, and being always social, was one of the most observed men on the depot platform. People were asking after they returned to business down town, "Who was the one-armed congressman?"

W. D. Wright is showing his friends something new in the berry line in Oregon. Last year Mrs. Belle Holman sent him up from California a few slips of the Logan berry, which he carefully planted and cared for in his garden, and now has a fine crop of them. They seem to be a rarity in Oregon, but well adapted to the country. They resemble the mulberry in form, but are much larger and are very rich eating. Their size will compare favorably with the ordinary shotgun shell.

The citizens of Happy valley, Pea ridge and Gopher valley will petition for the establishment of a rural delivery mail route to extend from McMinnville to Mr. Patterson's home in the mountains beyond Pea ridge, thence down through Gopher valley and back through Muddy valley via South Yamhill Baptist church. It is desired to have semi-weekly service. There seems to be a general disposition to favor the petition. The route will be about 25 miles in length.

Amusement in justice court at Hillsboro: Mrs. L. J. Gishwiller refused to pay taxes on her dog. City Marshal Atkinson couldn't get possession of the dog, so attempted to take the widow. There was resistance and effort to take by force. At the trial for assault and battery four respectable women swore that the widow was knocked down, slapped and her hair pulled, and the marshal was fined $10. Mrs. Gishwiller formerly resided in this city.

The first cremation at the Portland crematorium, on the Oregon City electric railway, took place on Tuesday. The body of E. P. Sine, an attorney of Lexington, Or., was the first to be incinerated. It was also the first cremation in the northwest.

Capt. H. L. Heath returned Monday morning from his trip to Texas. He was taken sick in the Sacramento valley on the way down, and was laid up at the hotel in Beaumont for ten days, threatened with appendicitis. Notwithstanding this unfavorable introduction he believes Texas the greatest state in the sisterhood.

John Willis says he now has B street rocked from town north almost continuously to the Leabo farm gate, and he will soon complete similar work on the Lafayette road as far as the Yamhill bridge. His method is to scrape the dust from the center of the road, place the rock, and then scrape the dust back over it. The first rain fills the interstices, and with travel the road soon becomes smooth and solid.

Newberg is to be congratulated. She has succeeded in raising the $12,000 debt which has been hanging over Pacific college for some time. Half this amount was secured by President McGrew through solicitation in the east, and this week through a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether at home, the other half was pledged. They didn't do a thing but ring the old college bell and sing "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

Be careful with pitchforks. Francis Davis, the 16-year-old son of Thomas R. Davis, a prominent farmer residing three miles north of Hillsboro, fell off a wagon loaded with hay, on Monday, and received injuries from which he died within an hour. As he fell, he carried his pitchfork with him, and the handle struck the ground first. One of the tines entered the young man's left eye and penetrated the brain four or five inches. The physician who probed the wound states that the tine performed a semi-circle. The young man expired before medical aid arrived.

A severe accident befell Cal Long last Friday while constructing a new bridge near the Waddel school house. He and his son Wilburn were shifting a heavy derrick along on rollers on the floor of the bridge. One of the guy ropes was not tightened, and in tipping the derrick to remove the rollers, it twisted about and tripped Cal down and fell diagonally across his breast. The derrick weighed several hundred pounds, and the result was three ribs disconnected from the spine and one broken, besides a very painful bruising generally. Wilburn succeeded in removing the derrick and assisting his father into the buggy to come home. Before going far Mr. Long became unconscious, and remained so for over an hour. Though suffering considerable pain, his condition since has been one of gradual improvement. The accident will probably disable him for the summer.

Custer W. R. C. No. 5 was represented at Forest Grove by Mesdames Neal, Keen, Hopfield, Kegg, Colby, Cooper, Cady and Ungerman, who feel justly proud, as they came home bearing the honors of having one of their members elected department president, Mrs. Emma Galloway. This makes the second time Custer corps has been recognized, as Mrs. Ungerman was elected in 1894.

Considerable space is given in this issue to Mr. D. B. Ogden, the leading representative of Christian Science in the state. The article he criticizes was not editorial in this paper, but historical "space writing." The Reporter editors are not Christian Scientists, but are tolerant enough and discerning enough to see the good there is in most any faith. Our attitude toward Christian Science is this: To the extent that it enables man to be self-helpful, self-curative, hopeful and optimistic, coupled with the aid that a higher power will extend to those who trust him, it is a good thing, and certainly better than no faith. We do not agree with it, that matter is not real and that all ills may be thought out of existence. One cannot help but admire the persistence of Mr. Ogden in defending his faith, or the ability displayed in the defence herein made.

MARRIED 25 YEARS. Sunday June 30th, was a festive and memorable day at the home of Mr. W. H. Fletcher. The occasion was the celebration of his silver wedding, a celebration such as the invited guests could scarcely have seen surpassed. The courtesy and bounteous hospitality of the host and hostess were assuredly remarkable. Punctually at 2 p. m. those who had the honor of being invited were ushered into the dining hall, which was beautifully enlivened with floral adornment, but especially was it noticeable for its display of every delicacy the appetite could crave. Princely hospitality was plainly the motto of the day, and so numerous were the guests that a third and fourth table had to be set. Whilst those who sat at the banquet were regaling themselves on its sumptuous viands, strains of melodious music from the adjoining parlor charmed the joyous banqueters. At the head of the table sat Mr. James Fletcher, Sr., and wife, Mr. John Fletcher and wife, Mr. Geo. Baxter and family, Mr. Guy Sully and wife, Mrs. Smith and sons, Mrs. Simler and daughter, Mrs. Edie May and children, W. W. Carl and family, Mrs. Derr and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Houck, Mr. and Mrs. Dee, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Mr. C. Richards and wife, Mr. Marion Palmer and wife. The respect and esteem of the honored guests were shown by the presentation of most appropriate and handsome gifts. From Mr. and Mrs. Houck, silver berry spoon; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wood, Oakdale Cal., beautiful pie knife; Mr. Richards and wife, silver sugar shell; Grand-ma Fletcher, exquisite silk handkerchief; Mr. and Mrs. Marion Palmer, silver butter knife; Mrs. Emma Smith, set of silver table spoons; Mrs. Derr, silver fork; Mr. and Mrs. John Fletcher, beautiful bon bon dish; Mr. and Mrs. Dee, silver sugar spoon; Clifford, Ernest and Roy Smith, silver sugar spoon. When all had ceased admiring these charming souvenirs, the assembled party was afforded a pleasant surprise when W. H. Fletcher, with youthful love and affection sparkling in his eyes, took his bride apart and placed on her nuptial finger a massive gold ring, thus engaging himself for at least twenty-five more years of mutual love and unflinching constancy. After loitering upon the lawn admiring the wealth of gorgeous flowers, duty called away the partakers of the celebration, who, while reluctantly departing each to his home, left, nevertheless, bearing away a lasting impression of the day and wishing to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fletcher long years of prosperity and happiness.
