The new model Watch Movement measures but little more in thickness than the length of the screw holding the plates. No more bulging pockets. No exposure to knocks. We carry them all grades. Cases to match, adding but little to their size, yet so constructed as to afford ample protection.
You will find our prices right. We will not be undersold. We get the credit for selling watches at reasonable prices because of superior facilities in buying. Most jewelers make their entire gain in selling. We make half our profits in buying, and take it off the selling end—your end.

Mrs. J. D. Baker and daughter are visiting at Canby, Or. The Doctor gives notice right now that he will refuse to take charge of anybody's bird or cat while they are away to the coast or summer resorts. The man who has to stay at home must have some joys.

Dell Warren has secured a good position in the Oregon City paper mills. Dell played recently with the Oregon City baseball team, and his efficiency in that line of sport, coupled with extra good luck, won for him a place in the team, the manager of which secured for him the employment in order to keep him with them for the summer.

Messrs. Christenson & Houck are prepared for a vigorous warehouse season. They have relinquished the warehouse at North Yamhill and will do business in this city and at Newberg this year. Since their partnership they have conducted a big business, and one alike satisfactory to themselves and all their patrons. They are not the boys to lag behind.

Saturday's Evening Telegram contained a well written article from the pen of Chas. Grissen, entitled "Mountain Scenes in Old Yamhill," portraying the beauties of the many pleasure resorts of mountain and valley, together with their easy access from the metropolis. This was illustrated with views of big timbers, beautiful waterfalls and glimpses of the valley that contribute to the pleasure of a summer day spent in the mountains of Yamhill. Mr. Grissen's homestead lies up beneath the falls of the Willamina, and, besides being one of nature's beauty spots, his place with proper development of its latent power will some day become the source of electric energy enough to light every street, highway and farmhouse in the vicinity, as well as supplying power for pumping stations and mills.

Sheriff Sitton completed the sale the past week of the lands bid in by the county on tax sales, as provided by Sec. 3 of H. B. 11, general laws of Oregon. There were about 125 different tracts thus held by the county, and all were sold. The county recovered about $700 from a total tax of $3,000. The law is both unsatisfactory and unjust, and is the legacy of the old law requiring taxation of mortgages. Where the holder of the mortgage failed to pay, as he should, the tax became a lien on the land, and although the mortgage may have been paid off years ago, under the later provision the land can be sold for the tax, and that with very inadequate notice to land owners. Only a brief notice is required in one paper, and as a consequence very few became aware of such sale being made, and a good many kicks have been registered. In order to redeem these lands Sec. 5 of the act provides that the "person claiming to be the owner as against the purchaser shall tender and pay into court, with his first pleading, the amount of the taxes and costs for which the lands were sold, together with ten per cent per annum thereon from the date of the sale till the bringing of the suit, and all taxes or assessments paid by the purchaser since the sale, with interest thereon at ten per centum per annum. Nor shall any such action, suit or proceeding be brought unless within two years from the date of record of the deed by the sheriff." The law provides for such sales annually on the first Monday of July in each year, on sales upon which the period of redemption has expired.

Some person bent on something worse than mischief cut off the mane and tail of Eli Branson's pretty black horse last Friday night. A detective ought to be put on the scent of such despicable performances, and the perpetrators given a dose of the law.

Judge Cleland and wife of Portland came up Friday evening, and the following day proceeded to Meadow Lake. If Portland people will stop to figure a little they will find that in Meadow lake they have one of the most accessible, pleasant and inexpensive resorts in the state.

Having made arrangements with the largest milling company of the states of Oregon or Washington, to handle our grain the coming season, we are now prepared to handle all grades of grains at a better advantage and at the leading prices of any warehouseman of the county. 31-3 CHRISTENSON & HOUCK.

While gumming a saw on Friday the emery wheel he was using threw off a couple of pieces and struck Leonard Fink both above and below the left eye. The blow left him dazed, but did not floor him, and he was staggering about when observed and caught by a bystander. Dr. Michaux treated the wound, which proved quite painful for a time.

Miss Nellie Gardner returned from her eastern trip to Buffalo and other points in good health and spirits Friday evening, after an absence of five weeks. She says without doubt the experience was the greatest educational factor in her life. Mr. and Mrs. Harding, whom she accompanied, will return via San Francisco after the Epworth League convention.

Dr. Arthur S. Cooper returned home Friday evening after three years' absence, part of the time in South America practicing dentistry, and latterly completing his education in that line in the celebrated school at Philadelphia. He will remain here with his parents during the summer. Dr. Frank Cross, with whom Mr. Cooper has been associated, has also returned to his home in Salem.

Hundred-Year Jellies.
Neither time, moisture nor mold can effect jellies that are sealed with paraffine wax. Fill your glasses or jars, pour a film of paraffine over the surface, and the jelly will keep for a century if you want it to. Paraffine is white, tasteless and odorless, and is proof against moisture, acids, insects and germs. It prevents evaporation, granulation or change of any kind. A pound of paraffine goes a long way and can be used over and over again year after year. Just as good for covering preserves, fruit butters and jams. We have PARAFFINE WAX especially refined for selling purposes. ROGERS BROS. PHARMACY, McMinnville, Oregon, The drug center of Yamhill county.
