The press of the country is printing pictures of democratic presidential possibilities with Bryan left out. This, too, in face of the fact that Bryan has a paper of his own and can't be shut out even if he has to print his own picture in his Commoner.

The truth that riches have wings was never more clearly exemplified than in the case of John Pondir, who just died almost in want in New York. He was once an influential member of the New York Stock Exchange and a power in Wall street.

An observant Portland woman who has been visiting the Pan-American exposition says the Oregon exhibit is nothing to be very proud of, but that it is far superior to the Washington exhibit, although Washington appropriated twice as much money as Oregon did. It is also remarked that the mineral exhibit is the best of any and attracts the most attention.

The democrats who have always clamored for foreign markets through the medium of free trade will doubtless lose all interest in free trade since we have foreign markets in greater measure now than ever before, and greater foreign markets in prospect than any nation of the world ever anticipated. Our foreign markets will be antagonized and denounced as the outgrowth of imperialism.

The secret service agents of the United States have the biggest job yet on their hands in ascertaining who took the $30,000 out of the mint at San Francisco. That mint and vault was considered one of the closest guarded and secured depositories for money in the world, and yet some one walked away with $30,000 in gold, and the most discreet secret service men in the employ of the government are unable to find even a clue as to who took it or when it was taken.

Newspapers in the Willamette valley are beginning again to tell cheerful tales of farmers with fields of wheat which will average 35 bushels per acre. It appears probable that the crop of the valley will be up to the average of recent years, with last year's failure omitted. Last year the farmer of good methods fared but little better than his careless neighbor. This year there will be a big difference in favor of the man who deserves the large crop. The weather in the Willamette valley has for a number of weeks been as favorable to wheat as could be expected.

A woman of New Britain, Conn., who is a christian scientist, maintains that mosquitoes have brains and reasoning powers, that it is "outrageous" to kill the "little harmless insects," and that all that is necessary is to reason with them. She says: "If a mosquito is troubling you just speak to him kindly and say, 'Look here, my friend, you leave me alone and I'll leave you alone.' Then believe that he won't bite you. Even if he does his sting won't hurt. I have done this for years, and now enjoy having the pretty little things around and listening to their musical buzz."

The new school book contractors who will supply different books to the pupils of the state of Oregon, will be required to establish and maintain official depositories for the distribution of books according to the selections of the state superintendent of public instruction. The contractors are required to give bonds for the keeping of their agreement with the state. One of the methods under consideration is to give retailers, no matter in what part of the state they may be located, the same discount, the same margin of profit. This would put dealers in Portland, Astoria, Ashland, Lakeview and all other towns in the state on precisely the same basis.

The tariff question is discussed from different standpoints by republicans in different sections of the country. But popular government is only a series of compromises after all, and the people whose opinions now differ will be able to get together on some platform acceptable to all before the next election.

Berlin dispatches announce that while the German emperor's lacerated jaw is improving, it has not yet reached its normal strength. His majesty is still compelled to put his most vigorous remarks into writing.

Colonel John S. Mosby, the confederate leader during the civil war, has been appointed a special agent of the federal land office. He claims his present residence in California. He has been assigned to duty in Nebraska.

There is a deadlock among the ministers of the foreign powers who are trying to settle up the Chinese affair, that promises to be as stubborn as a senatorial deadlock in Delaware. Great Britain is causing the delay by a kick that Russia got the best of the indemnity agreement. The deadlock has continued a month and there is no apparent prospect of a settlement. Li Hung Chang is urging haste.

A farmer in Lane county experimented with lime on his wheat field, using it in place of vitriol at sowing time. He used the lime liberally, knowing that his land needed lime anyway, provided that the effect on the grain was not all that he hoped for. At the same time he used vitriol on an adjoining field and there was a marked difference. Lime is much cheaper than vitriol, and, if it serves the double purpose of insuring grain against smut as well as enriching the soil, this discovery is an important one for the grain grower.

OUR STREET FAIR.

What a splendid opportunity this county will have to exhibit its products at the street fair and carnival this fall. The visitors who may be here from the scorched and famine stricken east will look on with big-eyed wonder.

The committee has named October 3d, 4th and 5th for the dates. This will be the week immediately following the state fair. It was not possible to get away from the Portland exposition, as it covers all of the fair season.

J. C. Cooper has been appointed superintendent and is at work raising the funds necessary, and is meeting with good success. A number of young ladies talk of organizing a "ladies' minstrel" to be given at the opera house every afternoon and evening during the three days of the fair. A prominent poultry man living near Newberg suggests that a poultry show be one of the features of the fair. This is a capital idea, and a committee will see that all necessary arrangements are made. It is the intention to use about twelve hundred yards of canvas to cover booths along both sides of Third street from B to E.

Announce The Coming Carnival.

Editor Reporter—Pledges are now being taken for a fund to carry on another carnival, which makes it an opportune time for a little suggestion. The papers last year pronounced the street event as a great success, and most outsiders agreed with the opinion, but it will be remembered that it was largely fortuitous—it worked itself out to a successful issue, coupled with good weather. There was one thing at the termination that was very unsatisfactory to many people who had contributed, but about which little was openly remarked because it was too late to do any good. I refer to the financial statement published by the executive committee, in which the receipts were properly shown, but when it came to the expenditures, the item showed "Total expenditures, $569.25," an amount just equalling the receipts, and a total failure to show what the items of expense were. It was thought at the time that the committee did not prepare this statement, although their signatures were attached. Contributors to public functions of this character wish to see explicit accounting for all monies raised, and if it isn't forthcoming, there is sure to be suspicion of a "graft."

Your correspondent, with others, desires to throw out this timely suggestion to the present executive committee, that they finance the coming affair according to business principles, that the mistake may not be repeated.

Let The Good Work Proceed.

The Portland Coal Development Co., recently organized by a number of business men of Portland, have secured contracts on several pieces of land near North Yamhill and are now actually engaged with a force of men in development work on the Peter Goerer place about four miles northeast of this town. Their principal object in development appears to be for the discovery and development of coal deposits, although their work will eventually go far enough to determine if there is petroleum or other mineral products in this section. It is now believed. Their work so far has consisted in drilling into the grounds where was believed there were coal deposits, and, although the work is yet in its most preliminary stage, it has developed results which the company regards very encouraging.—North Yamhill Record.

Miss Osa Roberts is assisting in the First National bank.

Geo. Martin and wife will spend August in the vicinity of Mt. Hood, in company with Mr. Martin's brother and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McPhillips drove to Woods on Wednesday for a season of camping.

A. S. Pense, former station agent at this place, is still in Good Samaritan hospital, incapacitated by rheumatism of the leg. He writes that he has quit naming a date for returning to work.

Mr. D. E. Marzoff, late of Michigan, is the new assistant station agent at this place. J. O. Smith, the former assistant, takes the station at Sherwood.

Dr. J. F. Calbreath came over from Salem yesterday to make arrangements for the erection of an additional dryer at the big prune orchard west of town.

You have all heard of the great drought in the middle states. The people take it philosophically. Here are some of the ways in which they keep their courage up: "The trouble about praying for rain is that it is apt to add a loss of faith to loss of crops. Still, it is better than fretting. Corn, hay and provisions will be scarce, but a magnificent wheat crop stands between Kansas and a reinstatement of populist rule. Take a philosophic view. It hasn't been nearly so hot as it would have been if it had been a great deal hotter. Think of that. The present season is severely testing the theory that nothing can be dryer than a populist argument on the financial question. Here is the silver lining. Mosquitoes breed in swamps and damp places. The swamps are all dry as bone dust, hence there will be no mosquitoes. Shake."

A promise of belated relief for the farmer's wife is seen in the proposition of a Wisconsin man to establish a steam laundry at every crossroads in the state, to which the farmers' washing and ironing may be brought every week. As the state is dotted all over with creameries and cheese factories, it would be an easy matter to operate steam laundries in connection with them. There is nothing impossible or visionary about this plan. It embodies the principle of co-operation which has already been successfully applied to nearly every form of agricultural activity from the old grist and saw mills to the modern creamery. Divest the farmer's household of this form of drudgery and then introduce in the kitchen some of the modern labor-saving devices that are used in hotels and the life of the farmer's wife will begin to approach that standard of ease and comfort long since attained by the farmer himself.

Does not depend on the start but on the finish. It's staying power which carries many a runner to victory. It's like that in business. Many a man starts off in the race for business success with a burst of speed which seems to assure victory. Presently he begins to falter and at last he falls and fails. The cause? Generally "stomach trouble." No man is stronger than his stomach. Business haste leads to careless and irregular eating. The stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition become diseased. The body is inadequately nourished and so grows weak.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It strengthens the stomach and so strengthens the whole body which depends on the stomach for the nourishment from which strength is made.

There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

Accept no substitute for the "Discovery." There is no medicine "just as good" for diseases of the stomach and allied organs.

Your "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed a wonderful cure," writes Mr. M. H. House, of Charleston, Franklin Co., Ark. "I had the worst case of dyspepsia the doctors say that they ever saw. After trying seven doctors and everything I could hear of, with no benefit, I tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and now I am cured."

The catalogue of Dallas college, a young and growing institution which arose from the ashes of Lafayette seminary, is received at this office. It contains some very creditable illustrations of the president, members of the faculty, athletes, and buildings. The enrollment shows 110 students, of whom nine are from this county.

The newly-elected principal of the commercial department of McMinnville College is Prof. Frank B. Rutherford, of Atkinson's business college, Sacramento. Mr. Rutherford and family will remove to this city before the fall term opens.

ECZEMA'S ITCH IS TORTURE.

Eczeema is caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing great redness and inflammation; little pustular eruptions form and discharge a thin, sticky fluid, which itches and scales off; sometimes the skin is hard, dry and fissured. Eczeema in any form is a tormenting, stubborn disease, and the itching and burning at times are almost unbearable; the acid burning humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire. Salves, washes nor other external applications do any real good, for as long as the poison remains in the blood it will keep the skin irritated.

BAD FORM OF TETTER.

"For three years I had Tetter on my hands, which caused them to swell to twice their natural size. Part of the time the disease was in the form of running sores, very painful and causing some much discomfort. Some doctors said the Tetter had progressed too far to be cured, and they could do nothing for me. I took only three bottles of S. S. S. and was completely cured. This was fifteen years ago, and I have never since seen any sign of my old trouble."—Mrs. L. B. JACKSON, 1414 Meigs St., Kansas City, Mo.

S. S. S. neutralizes this acid poison, cools the blood and restores it to a healthy, natural state, and the rough, unhealthy skin becomes soft, smooth and clear.
